Medieval Syria Abd al-Razzaq Moaz, , , , , , , Yasser Tabbaa,Zina Takieddine,Verena Daiber,Dina Bakkour,Wa'al Hafian,Haytham Hasan,Balázs Mayor,Benjamin Michaudel,2015 This new MWNF Travel Book was conceived not long before the war started All texts refer to the pre war situation and are our expression of hope that Syria a land that witnessed the evolution of civilisation since the beginnings of human history may soon become a place of peace and the driving force behind a new and peaceful beginning for the entire region Bilad al Sham testifies to a thorough and strategic programme of urban reconstruction and reunification during the 12th and 13th centuries Amidst a period of fragmentation visionary leadership came with the Atabeg Nur al Din Zangi He revived Syria s cities as safe havens to restore order His most agile Kurdish general Salah al Din Saladin assumed power after he died and unified Egypt and Sham into one force capable of re conquering Jerusalem from the Crusaders The Ayyubid Empire flourished and continued the policy of patronage Though short lived this era held long lasting resonance for the region Its recognisable architectural aesthetic austere yet robust and perfectly survived until modern times The Ayyubid Era Art and Architecture in Medieval Syria describes eight thematic Itineraries including among others the cities of Damascus Bosra Homs Hama Aleppo and Raqqa Damascus Ross Burns,2007-06-11 This is the first book in English to relate the history of Damascus bringing out the crucial role the city has played at many points in the region's past Damascus traces the history of this colourful significant and complex city through its physical development from the city's emergence in around 7000 BC through the changing cavalcade of Aramaean Persian Greek Roman Byzantine Arab Mongol and French rulers right up to the end of Turkish control in 1918 In Damascus every layer of the history has built precisely on top of its predecessors for at least three millennia leaving a detailed archaeological record of one of the oldest continuously inhabited cities in the world The book looks particularly at the interplay between the western and eastern influences that have provided Damascus with such a rich past and how this perfectly encapsulates the forces that have played over the Middle East as a whole from the earliest recorded times to the present Lavishly illustrated Damascus A History is a compelling and unique exploration of a fascinating city The Culture of Building Howard Davis,2006-05-12 The Culture of Building describes how the built world including the vast number of buildings that are the settings for people's everyday lives is the product of building cultures complex systems of people relationships building types techniques and habits in which design and building are anchored These cultures include builders bankers architects developers clients contractors craftspeople building inspectors planners and many others The product of these cultures which operate building after building is the built world of cities and settlements In this book Howard Davis uses historical contemporary and cross cultural examples to describe the nature and influence of these cultures He shows how building cultures reflect the general cultures in which they exist how they have changed over history how they affect the form of buildings and cities and how present building cultures which are responsible for the contemporary everyday environments may be improved Following the development of the idea of building cultures using several historical examples the book lays out a framework that puts such topics as craft and professionalism the vernacular and nonvernacular and design and construction in common frameworks Although the book ranges widely over different cultures and historical periods it emphasizes the transformations that took place in architecture and building practice from the late eighteenth century to the present Finally the book uses a series of contemporary examples that demonstrate the building culture as a living concept These examples which include built work as well as innovative processes that go beyond the work of architects alone are described as the seeds that can help the emergence of a better built world This beautiful book features over 260 color and black and white illustrations most from the author's extensive collection of slides and includes photographs prints and drawings from historical archives and contemporary architectural offices Artisans, Sufis, Shrines Hussain Ahmad Khan,2014-12-19 In nineteenth century Punjab a cultural tug of war ensued as both Sufi mystics and British officials aimed to engage the local artisans as a means of realizing their ideological ambitions When it came to influence and impact the Sufi shrines had a huge advantage over the colonial art institutions such as the Mayo School of Arts in Lahore. The mystically inspired shrines built as a statement of Muslim ruling ambitions were better suited to the task of appealing to local art traditions. By contrast, the colonial institutions rooted in the Positivist Romanticism of the Victorian West found assimilation to be more of a challenge. In questioning their relative success and failures at influencing local culture, the book explores the extent to which political control translates into cultural influence. Folktales, Sufi shrines, colonial architecture, institutional education methods, and museum exhibitions all provide a wealth of sources for revealing the complex dynamic between the Punjabi artisans, the Sufi community, and the colonial British. In this unique look at a little explored aspect of India's history, Hussain Ahmad Khan explores this evidence in order to illuminate this web of cultural influences. Examining the Sufi artisan relationship within the various contexts of political revolt, the decline of the Mughals, and the struggle of the Sufis to establish an Islamic state, this book argues that Sufi shrines were initially constructed with the aim of affirming a distinct Muslim identity. At the same time, art institutions established by colonial officials attempted to promote eclectic architecture representing the British Indian empire as well as to revive the pre-colonial traditions with which they had previously seemed out of touch. This important book sheds new light on the dynamics of power and culture in the British Empire.

The Emperor's House Michael Featherstone, Jean-Michel Spieser, Gülru Tanman, Ulrike Wulf-Rheidt, 2015-08-31. Evolving from a patrician domus, the emperor's residence on the Palatine became the centre of the state administration. Elaborate ceremonial regulated access to the imperial family, creating a system of privilege which strengthened the centralised power. Constantine followed the same model in his new capital under a Christian veneer. The divine attributes of the imperial office were refashioned with the emperor as God's representative. The palace was an imitation of heaven. Following the loss of the empire in the West and the Near East, the Palace in Constantinople was preserved, subject to the transition from Late Antique to Mediaeval conditions until the Fourth Crusade, attracting the attention of Visigothic, Lombard, Merovingian, Carolingian, Norman, and Muslim rulers. Renaissance princes later drew inspiration for their residences directly from ancient ruins and Roman literature, but there was also contact with the Late Byzantine court. Finally, in the age of Absolutism, the palace became again an instrument of power in vast centralised states with renewed interest in Roman and Byzantine ceremonial. Spanning the broadest chronological and geographical limits of the Roman imperial tradition, from the Principate to the Ottoman empire, the papers in the volume treat various aspects of palace architecture, art, and ceremonial.

The Routledge Companion to Global Renaissance Art Stephen J. Campbell, Stephanie Porras, 2024-01-22. This companion examines the global Renaissance through object-based case studies of artistic production from Africa, Asia, the Americas, and Europe in the early modern period. The international group of contributors take an art historical approach characterized by close analysis of form and meaning as well as function, and a focus on questions of crosscultural dialogue and adaptation. Seeking to de-emphasize the traditional focus on Europe, this book is a critical guide to the literature and the state of the field. Chapters outline new questions and agendas while pushing beyond familiar material Main themes include workshops the migrations of artists objects technologies diplomatic gifts imperial ideologies ethnicity and indigeneity sacred spaces and image cults as well as engaging with the open questions of the Renaissance and the global This will be a useful and important resource for researchers and students alike and will be of interest to scholars working in art history visual culture material culture and Renaissance studies The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license

Court Cultures in the Muslim World Albrecht Fuess, Jan-Peter Hartung, 2014-06-03 Courts and the complex phenomenon of the courtly society have received intensified interest in academic research over recent decades however the field of Islamic court culture has so far been overlooked This book provides a comparative perspective on the history of courtly culture in Muslim societies from the earliest times to the nineteenth century and presents an extensive collection of images of courtly life and architecture within the Muslim realm The thematic methodology employed by the contributors underlines their interdisciplinary and comprehensive approach to issues of politics and patronage from across the Islamic world stretching from Cordoba to India Themes range from the religious legitimacy of Muslim rulers terminologies for court culture in Oriental languages Muslim concepts of space for royal representation accessibility of rulers the role of royal patronage for Muslim scholars and artists to the growing influence of European courts as role models from the eighteenth century onwards Discussing specific terminologies for courts in Oriental languages and explaining them to the non specialist chapters describe the specific features of Muslim courts and point towards future research areas As such it fills this important gap in the existing literature in the areas of Islamic history religion and Islam in particular

Relational Iconography, Representational Culture at the Qaraqyunlu and Aqqyunlu Courts (853 / 1449 CE to 907 / 1501 CE) Georg Leube, 2023-05-08 In Relational Iconography Representational Culture at the Qaraqyunlu and Aqqyunlu Courts 853 1449 CE to 907 1501 CE Georg Leube engages with courtly representation from an iconographical perspective tracing the intersecting agencies of courtly actors negotiating multiple normativities and traditions While the courtly culture of the Qaraqyunlu and Aqqyunlu dynasties 15th century C E is commonly interpreted as an intermezzo in Persianate and Islamicate cultural history it is here framed as an ideal field to explore a relational approach that challenges established dichotomies and ideal types By reading multiple mediums and discourses into each other Georg Leube shows how courtly performance is rooted in iconographical repertoires that resonated with different networks and groups inside the Turkmen realms
