Preparing a Nation? Brad Underhill,2024-08-22 Preparing a Nation based on extensive archival research addresses perennial questions of Australian colonialism in Papua New Guinea To what extent did Australia prepare Papua New Guinea for independence And what were the policies and the ideologies behind colonial development implemented after World War II

A key innovation of this book is to take these questions from policy desks in Canberra and Port Moresby to the villages of four administrative areas Chimbu Milne Bay Sepik and New Hanover How successful were Australian colonial planners in designing and implementing programs that could ameliorate the potential harm of market capitalism and develop new socioeconomic structures that would combine a disparate people into an imagined community capable of becoming an independent nation state in the far distant future Colonial intention is contrasted with Indigenous experience Bradley Underhill explores an Australian governmental tendency to prioritise colonial control over Indigenous autonomy in circumstances where subjugated people do not necessarily fit within an expected narrative of compliant or westernised native I expect it will become the standard reference for its subject which covers a pivotal aspect of Australia's colonial administration Bill Gammage APAIS 1992: Australian public affairs information service, Ministers, Mandarins And Diplomats Joan Beaumont, Christopher Waters, David Lowe, 2013-06-14 In the three decades from the beginning of World War II Australia emerged on the world stage as an independent actor in foreign affairs The key institution overseeing the development of Australia's international status and foreign policy during that period was the Department of External Affairs This stimulating collection of essays explores the history of this government department as it grew from being a small amateur bureaucratic player to become a professional global network This book sheds new light on the major figures in Australian international history H V Doc Evatt Percy Spender Richard Casey Garfield Barwick and Paul Hasluck and their relationships with their senior bureaucratic advisers The experiences of Australian diplomats as they joined the Department of External Affairs as junior recruits and worked overseas are also examined Ministers Mandarins and Diplomats tells the story of the people the events and the ideas that shaped Australian foreign policy and gave Australia its identity in the eyes of the rest of the world Australian Political Lives John Nethercote, Tracey Arklay, John Wanna, 2006-10-01 This monograph brings together some of the best practitioners of the art and craft of political biography in Australia They are simultaneously some of our best scholars who at least in part have turned their attention to writing Australian political lives They are not merely chroniclers of our times but multidisciplinary analysts constructing layers of explanation and theoretical insight They include academic professional and amateur biographers scholars from a range of disciplines politics history sociology public administration gender studies and politicians who for a time strutted the political stage The assembled papers explore the strengths and weaknesses of the biographical approach the enjoyment it can deliver the problems and frustrations of writing biographies and the various ways the project can be approached by those constructing these lives They probe the art and craft of the political biographer Australia in the Age of International Development, 1945-1975 Nicholas Ferns, 2020-07-18 This book examines Australian colonial and foreign aid policy towards Papua New Guinea and Southeast Asia in the age of international development 1945-1975 During this period the academic and political understandings of development consolidated and informed Australian attempts to provide economic assistance to the poorer regions to its north Development was central to the Australian colonial administration of PNG as well as its Colombo Plan aid in Asia. In addition to examining Australia's perception of international development, this book also demonstrates how these debates and policies informed Australia's understanding of its own development. This manifested itself most clearly in Australia's behavior at the 1964 United Nations Conference on Trade and Development (UNCTAD). The book concludes with a discussion of development and Australian foreign aid in the decade leading up to Papua New Guinea's independence achieved in 1975.

Australian Dictionary of Biography, Volume 19 Melanie Nolan, 2021-03-09. Volume 19 of the Australian Dictionary of Biography (ADB) contains concise biographies of individuals who died between 1991 and 1995. The first of two volumes for the 1990s, it presents a colourful montage of late twentieth century Australian life containing the biographies of significant and representative Australians. The volume is still in the shadow of World War II with servicemen and women who enlisted young appearing, but these influences are dimming and there are now increasing numbers of non-white, non-male, non-privileged and non-straight subjects. The 680 individuals recorded in volume 19 of the ADB include Wiradjuri midwife and Ngannawal Elder Violet Bulger, Aboriginal rights activist, poet, playwright and artist Kevin Gilbert, and Torres Strait Islander community leader and land rights campaigner Eddie Mabo. HIV/AIDS child activists Tony Lovegrove and Eve Van Grafhorst have entries, as does conductor Stuart Challender, the first Australian celebrity to go public about his HIV/AIDS condition in 1991. The arts are as always well represented, including writers Frank Hardy, Mary Durack and Nene Gare, actors Frank Thring and Leonard Teale, and arts patron Ian Potter. We are beginning to see the effects of the steep rise in postwar immigration, flow through to the ADB. Artist Joseph Stanislaw Ostoja, Kotkowski, was born in Poland. Pilar Moreno de Otaegui co-founded the Spanish Club of Sydney. Chinese restaurateur and community leader Ming Poon Dick Low migrated to Victoria in 1953. Often we have a dearth of information about the domestic lives of our subjects. Politician Olive Zakharov, however, bravely disclosed at the Victorian launch of the federal government's campaign to Stop Violence Against Women in 1993 that she was a survivor of domestic violence in her second marriage. Take a dip into the many fascinating lives of the Australian Dictionary of Biography.

International Law in Public Debate Madelaine Chiam, 2021-12-09. Public debates in the language of international law have occurred across the 20th and 21st centuries and have produced a popular form of international law that matters for international practice. This book analyses the people who used international law and how they used it in debates over Australia's participation in the 2003 Iraq War, the Vietnam War and the First World War. It examines texts such as newspapers, parliamentary debates, public protests and other expressions of public opinion. It argues that these interventions produced a form of international law that shares a vocabulary and grammar with the expert forms of that language and distinct competences in order to be persuasive This longer history also illustrates a move from the use of international legal language as part of collective justifications to the use of international law as an autonomous justification for state action

The Devil and James McAuley Cassandra Pybus, 1999 Follows McAuley's life from his student days at Sydney Uni through the war years his conversion to Catholicism his anticommunist activities during the Cold War period and his editorship of Quadrant with revelations about CIA funding and involvement with ASIO A controversial new political biography

A Legal History for Australia Sarah McKibbin, Libby Connors, Marcus Harmes, 2021-07-29 This is a contemporary legal history book for Australian law students written in an engaging style and rich with learning features and illustrations The writers are a unique combination of talents bringing together their fields of research and teaching in Australian history British constitutional history and modern Australian law The first part provides the social and political contexts for legal history in medieval and early modern England and America explaining the English law which came to Australia in 1788 This includes The origins of the common law The growth of the legal profession The making of the Magna Carta The English Civil Wars The Bill of Rights The American War of Independence The second part examines the development of the law in Australia to the present day including The English criminal justice system and convict transportation The role of the Privy Council in 19th century Indigenous Australia in the colonial period The federation movement Constitutional Independence The 1967 Australian referendum and the land rights movement The comprehensive coverage of several centuries is balanced by a dynamic writing style and tools to guide the student through each chapter including learning outcomes chapter outlines and discussion points The historical analysis is brought to life by the use of primary documentary evidence such as charters statutes medieval source books and Coke's reports and a series of historical cameos focused studies of notable people and issues from King Edward I and Edward Coke to Henry Parkes and Eddie Mabo and constitutional detours addressing topics such as the separation of powers judicial review and federalism A Legal History for Australia is an engaging textbook cogently written and imaginatively resourced and is supported by a companion website <https://www.bloomsburyonlineresources.com>

Handbook of Autobiography / Autofiction Martina Wagner-Egelhaaf, 2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time General questions of the literary as e.g. the relation between literature and reality truth and fiction the dependency of author narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc. can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs diaries self portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre this three volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition special emphasis is placed on the modes of self representation in non Western cultures and on inter and transcultural perspectives of the genre The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross references The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies students as well as non academic readers Teacher Preparation in Papua New Guinea John Mortimer,2024-03-20 The authors present a comprehensive examination of the historical origins and development of schooling and teacher preparation in Papua New Guinea from indigenous education in villages the influence of European colonization and the role of missionaries in providing education and the implications for education policies and practices Evatt John Murphy,2016-09-01 John Murphy s Evatt A life is a biography of Australian parliamentarian and jurist HV Evatt Remembered as the first foreign minister to argue for an independent Australian policy in the 1940s and for his central role in the formation of the UN Evatt went on to be the leader of the Labor party in the 1950s the time of the split that resulted in the party being out of power for a generation Evatt traces the course of Evatt s life and places him in the context of a long period of conservatism in Australia It treats Evatt s inner personal life as being just as important as his spectacular controversial and eventual tragic public career Murphy looks closely at Evatt s previously unexamined private life and unravels some of the puzzles that have lead Evatt to be considered erratic even mad Bert Evatt remains a polarising figure still considered by many in Labor as the man who split the party and by many conservatives as unreliable and dangerous Aborigines & Activism Jennifer Clark,2008 In a provocative reappraisal of the 1960s Aborigines Activism recontextualises the history of Aboriginal activism within wider international movements Concurrent to anti war protests women s movements burgeoning civil rights activism in the United States and the struggles of South Africa s anti apartheid freedom righters dramatic political changes took place in assimilated Australia that challenged its status quo From the early days of grassroots resistance through to Charles Perkins 1965 Freedom Ride the 1967 Referendum Canberra s Tent Embassy and beyond this is the story of the Great Southern Land s racial awakening a time when Aborigines and their white supporters achieved paradigmatic shifts in the search for equality justice and human dignity that still has powerful implications for 21st century Australia This is an engaging study of the stories of racial awakening in Australia that marked the coming of the wind of change Through rigorous research the author shows how supporters of Indigenous Australians and their struggles for equality pushed Australia into the 60s literally and figuratively The book also puts the Australian experience of the 60s into an international perspective portrayed as unique but not in isolation Australian Aboriginal Studies ,2001 Political Lives Judith Brett,1997-08-01 Politicians lives are public lives The decisions they make and do not make and the way they behave affect us all and shape our lives To what extent do the inner lives of our leaders influence their performance Should we know about the inner person Indeed how can we know The eight essays in this collection explore these questions and present some disturbing answers by scrutinising the character of leaders as varied as Keating

Menzies Hawke Whitlam Hasluck Fraser Calwell and Soeharto Political Lives is an intriguing venture into the shadowy world of motives and values and the inner past that shaped these leaders The Queen's Other Realms Peter John Boyce, 2008

Canada Australia and New Zealand inherited and adapted a monarchical framework of government even in the absence of a resident monarch Although steady transfer of the royal prerogative to a popularly elected executive has enabled these three former dominions to be sometimes described as crowned republics or disguised republics there was no popular drive to abandon monarchy until the 1990s and even then the republican cause was based largely on issues of symbolism and national identity than on perceived core weaknesses in the political system This book traces the long and sometimes subtle process of localising monarchy in the vice regal office from the mid twentieth century onwards and compares the powers and functions of the Queen s surrogates with each other and with those of the monarch herself including their recourse to the so called reserve powers Among the key questions posed in this comparative study are Can the current monarchical system be refined to the point of countering republican sentiment Why has the republican argument gained more momentum in Australia than in Canada or New Zealand Can a republican model retain residual monarchic elements What is likely to be the lasting legacy of the Crown in these three strikingly similar political cultures The author s underlying loyalties are neither firmly monarchist nor firmly republican He is convinced however that the combined effects of a strong sense of national identity and an increasingly presidential style of political leadership within these three Westminster derived systems make it difficult for contemporary governors general or their state and provincial colleagues to fulfil two of their key roles to unite and inspire the people on the one hand and to be a credible constitutional watchdog on the other
