Paul Et Virginie j. h Bernardin de saint-pierre, Morality and Justice ,2016-09-12 Performing justice for the future of our time Whatever happened to the popular theatre The unfinished history of people's theatre in France Staging the Wende Some 1989 East German Productions and the flux of history The starving body on the Elizabethan and Jacobean stage The supernatural and the representation of justice in Shakespeare's theatre Queer Kinship and Comparative Literature Anchit Sathi,Alice Ferrebe,2024-08-31 This edited collection provides a critical forum for scholars to examine the evolution of queer kinship encompassing the wide range of relationships both biological and nonbiological that queer individuals choose or are compelled to establish through its representation in literature over time and across cultural contexts In particular the ten essays in this collection utilize close readings philosophy and theory to address the following question How can we conceptualize the nature of queer kinship based on its textual representations To this end the essays engage with a diverse array of texts from Buddhist writing to contemporary song lyrics French literature from the 17th and 18th centuries to contemporary drama and novels from Sweden Israel and the Anglosphere This broad temporal and geographic scope yields new critical insights into the varied ontologies of queer kinship and highlights the inherent paradoxes and fundamental messiness in queer kinship formations across different times spaces and contexts In doing so the collection makes a significant and timely contribution to the fields of kinship studies queer studies and comparative literature Journey to Mauritius Bernardin de Saint-Pierre,2002 Structured into a series of letters this book was received with hostility when first published in 1773 An introduction sets this travel account in its historical context discussing Bernadin's life and ideas It also explores his contribution to travel writing and relevance to modern day Mauritius The Unfinished Enlightenment Joanna Stalnaker,2011-05-02 In The Unfinished Enlightenment Joanna Stalnaker offers a fresh look at the French Enlightenment by focusing on the era's vast collective attempt to compile an ongoing and provisional description of the world Through a series of readings of natural histories encyclopedias scientific poetry and urban topographies the book uncovers the deep epistemological and literary tensions that made description a central preoccupation for authors such as Buffon Bernardin de Saint Pierre Diderot Delille and Mercier Stalnaker argues that Enlightenment description was the site of competing truth claims that would eventually resolve themselves in the modern polarity between literature and science By the mid nineteenth century the now habitual association between description and the novel was already firmly anchored in French culture but just a century earlier in the diverse network of articles on description in Diderot and d'Alembert's Encyclopédie and in the works derived from it there was not a single mention of the novel Instead we find articles on description in natural history geometry belles lettres and poetry Stalnaker builds on the premise that the tendency to view description as the inevitable and subservient partner of narration rather than as a universal tool for making sense of knowledge in all fields has obscured the central place of description in Enlightenment discourse As a result we have neglected some of the most original and experimental works of the eighteenth century Vicarious Narratives Jeanne M. Britton, 2019-09-19 Adam Smith's Theory of Moral Sentiments 1759 defines sympathy as a series of shifts in perspective by which one sees from a different point of view British and French novels published over the following century redefine sympathy through narrative form shifting perspectives or stories within stories in which one character adopts the voice and perspective of another Fiction follows Smith's emphasis on sympathy's shifting perspectives but this formal echo coincides with a challenge For Smith and other Enlightenment philosophers the experience of sympathy relies on human resemblance In novels by contrast characters who are separated by nationality race or species experience a version of sympathy that struggles to accommodate such differences Encounters between these characters produce shifts in perspective or framed tales as one character sympathizes with another and begins to tell her story echoing Smith's definition of sympathy in their form while challenging Enlightenment philosophy's insistence on human resemblance Works of sentimental and gothic fiction published between 1750 and 1850 generate a novelistic version of sympathy by manipulating traditional narrative forms epistolary fiction embedded tales and new publication practices the anthology the novelistic extract Second hand stories transform the vocal mobility emotional immediacy and multiple perspectives associated with the declining genre of epistolary fiction into the narrative levels and shifting speakers of nineteenth century frame tales Vicarious Narratives argues that fiction redefines sympathy as the struggle to overcome difference through the active engagement with narrative by listening to re telling and transcribing the stories of others French Global Christie McDonald, Susan Rubin Suleiman, 2010 Recasting French literary history in terms of the cultures and peoples that interacted within and outside of France's national boundaries this volume offers a new way of looking at the history of a national literature along with a truly global and contemporary understanding of language literature and culture The relationship between France's national territory and other regions of the world where French is spoken and written most of them former colonies has long been central to discussions of Francophonie Boldly expanding such discussions to the whole range of French literature the essays in this volume explore spaces mobilities and multiplicities from the Middle Ages to today They rethink literary history not in terms of national boundaries as traditional literary histories have done but in terms of a global paradigm that emphasizes border crossings and encounters with others Contributors offer new ways of reading canonical texts and considering other texts that are not part of the traditional canon By emphasizing diverse conceptions of language text space and nation these essays establish a model approach that remains sensitive to the specificities of time and place and to the theoretical concerns informing the study of national literatures in the twenty first century Baudelaire and Nature F.
