Public Papers of the Secretaries General of the United Nations Andrew Cordier, Wilder Foote, 2010-06-01 Public Papers of the Secretaries General of the United Nations Canada, the Congo Crisis, and UN Peacekeeping, 1960-64 Kevin A.

Spooner, 2010-01-01 In 1960 the Republic of Congo teetered near collapse as its first government struggled to cope with civil unrest and mutinous armed forces When the UN established what would become the largest peacekeeping operation of the Cold War the Canadian government faced a difficult decision Should it support the intervention As Kevin Spooner demonstrates Canada's involvement in the mission was not preordained The Diefenbaker government became enmeshed in a complex web of foreign and defence policy determinants that caused it to have immediate and ongoing reservations reservations that challenge cherished notions of Canada's commitment to the UN and its status as a peacekeeper This book offers one of the first detailed accounts of Canada's involvement in UN peacekeeping It will appeal to those interested in Canadian foreign policy and relations with Africa in particular and the Congo crisis and United Nations peacekeeping more generally General Catalogue of Printed Books British Museum. Theory as Ideology in International Relations Benjamin Martill, Sebastian Schindler, 2020-03-13 Are theoretical tools nothing but political weapons How can the two be distinguished from each other What is the ideological role of theories like liberalism neoliberalism or democratic theory And how can we study the theories of actors from outside the academic world This book examines these and related questions at the nexus of theory and ideology in International Relations The current crisis of politics made it abundantly clear that theory is not merely an impartial and neutral academic tool but instead is implicated in political struggles However it is also clear that it is insufficient to view theory merely as a political weapon This book brings together contributions from a number of different scholarly perspectives to engage with these problems The contributors drawn from various fields of International Relations and Political Science cast new light on the ever problematic relationship between theory and ideology They analyse the ideological underpinnings of existing academic theories and examine the theories of non academic actors such as staff members of international organisations Ecovillagers and liberal politicians This edited volume is a must read for all those interested in the contemporary political crisis and its relation to theories of International Relations Public Papers of the Secretaries-General of the United Nations United Nations.
