Public Persons And Private Lives Intimate Interviews:

Public Persons and Private Lives Cal Thomas,1979

Public Faces, Private Lives Mattison Mines,1994-12-19

Individuality is often viewed as an exclusively Western value In non Western societies collective identities seem to eclipse those of individuals These generalities however have overlooked the importance of personal uniqueness volition and achievement in these cultures This book weaves together personal life stories historical description and theoretical analysis to define individuality in South Asia and to distinguish it from its Western counterpart

Private Lives, Public History

Anna Clark,2016-02-01 The past is consumed on a grand scale popularised by television programs enjoyed by reading groups walking groups historical societies and heritage tours and supported by unprecedented digital access to archival records Yet our history has also become the subject of heated political contest and debate In Private Lives Public History historian Anna Clark explores how our personal pasts intersect with broader historical questions and debates Drawing on interviews with Australians from five communities around the country she uncovers how we think about the past in the context of our local and intimate stories and the role history plays in our lives

A Murder of Crows Charles E. Crockett,2012-07-18

BACK COVER Detailing the far right s attempts to alter the American political and economic landscape to satisfy its national ambitions A MURDER OF CROWS identifies over 100 people and organizations who would seek to turn back America to a time of little governmental participation lower tax rates for the wealthy and a closely held corporate and personal control of society s functions and finances It exposes the real desires and naked zeal of those who would place property rights over the rights and the needs of the average American citizen The text is well documented and provides a scathing indictment of those on the right who would wish to alter America s future to serve only a very prosperous few

Celebrity Bromances Celia

Lam,Jackie Raphael,2022-03-31 This comprehensive work presents a thorough exploration of celebrity bromances

interrogating how bromances are portrayed in media and consumed by audiences to examine themes of celebrity persona performativity and authenticity The authors examine how the performance of intimate male friendships functions within broadly Western celebrity culture from three primary perspectives construction of persona interactions with audiences and fans and commodification Case studies from film and television are used to illustrate the argument that regardless of their authenticity real or staged bromances are useful for engaging audiences and creating an extension of entertainment beyond the film the actors originally sought to promote The first truly interdisciplinary study of its kind this book will be of great interest to scholars and students of communications advertising marketing Internet studies media journalism cultural studies and film and television

In Plenty and in Time of Need Lia T. Bascomb,2020

In Plenty and in Time of Need uses music and performance as sites of analysis for the competing ideals and realities of Barbadian national culture The book demonstrates complex relations between national gendered and sexual identities in Barbados and how these identities are represented and interpreted on a global stage

Sexting and Young People Thomas Crofts,M. Lee,A. McGovern,S. Milivojevic,2016-04-29

This book explores young people's practices and perceptions of sexting and how sexting has been represented and responded to by the media education campaigns and the law. It analyses the important broader socio-legal issues raised by sexting and the appropriateness of current responses.

Why Borders Matter Frank Furedi, 2020-05-13 Western society has become estranged from the borders and social boundaries that have for centuries given meaning to human experience. This book argues that the controversy surrounding mass migration and physical borders runs in parallel and is closely connected to the debates surrounding the symbolic boundaries people need to guide on the issues of everyday life. Numerous commentators claim that borders have become irrelevant in the age of mass migration and globalisation. Some go so far as to argue for No Borders. And it is not merely the boundaries that divide nations that are under attack. The traditional boundaries that separate adults from children or men from women or humans from animals or citizens and non-citizens or the private from the public sphere are often condemned as arbitrary, unnatural and even unjust. Paradoxically, the attempt to alter or abolish conventional boundaries coexists with the imperative of constructing new ones. No Border campaigners call for safe spaces. Opponents of cultural appropriation demand the policing of language and advocates of identity politics are busy building boundaries to keep out would-be encroachers on their identity. Furedi argues that the key driver of the confusion surrounding borders and boundaries is the difficulty that society has in endowing experience with meaning. The most striking symptom of this trend is the cultural devaluation of the act of judgment which has led to a loss of clarity about the moral boundaries in everyday life. The infantilisation of adults that runs in tandem with the adultification of children offers a striking example of the consequence of non-judgmentalism. Written in a clear and direct style, this book will appeal to students and scholars in cultural sociology, sociology of knowledge, philosophy, political theory and cultural studies.

The Lure of Illustration in the Nineteenth Century L. Brake, M. Demoor, 2009-01-15 This volume tackles the subject of illustration technically, metaphorically and historically in nineteenth-century periodicals, displaying the ubiquity of the visual in the press. The articles cover material illustration, graphics and design and metaphorical use of images in the letterpress, offering specific examples and theoretical approaches.

Pragmatic Inquiry John R. Bowen, Nicolas Dodier, Jan Willem Duyvendak, Anita Hardon, 2020-10-08 This book examines a range of critical concepts that are central to a shift in the social sciences toward pragmatic inquiry, reflecting a twenty-first-century concern with particular problems and themes rather than grand theory. Taking a transnational and transdisciplinary approach, the collection demonstrates a shared commitment to using analytical concepts for empirical exploration and a general orientation to research that favors an attention to objects, techniques and practices. The chapters draw from broad-based and far-reaching social theory in order to analyze new specific challenges from grasping the everyday workings of markets, courtrooms and clinics to inscribing the transformations of practice within research disciplines themselves. Each contributor takes a key concept and then explores its genealogies and its circulations across scholarly communities as well as its proven payoffs for the social sciences and often critical reflections on its present.

and future uses This carefully crafted volume will significantly expand and improve the analytical repertoires or toolkits available to social scientists including scholars in sociology or anthropology and those working in science and technology studies public health and related fields

Publics and Counterpublics Michael Warner, 2021-07-06 Publics and Counterpublics revolves around a central question What is a public The idea of a public is a cultural form a kind of practical fiction present in the modern world in a way that is very different from other or earlier societies Like the idea of rights or nations or markets it can now seem universal But it has not always been so Publics exist only by virtue of their imagining They are a kind of fiction that has taken on life and very potent life at that Publics have some regular properties as a form with powerful implications for the way our social world takes shape but much of modern life involves struggles over the nature of publics and their interrelation There are ambiguities even contradictions in the idea of a public As it is extended to new contexts and media new politics and rhetorics its meaning can be seen to change in ways that we have scarcely begun to appreciate By combining historical analysis theoretical reflection and extended case studies Publics and Counterpublics shows how the idea of a public works as a formal device in modern culture and traces its implications for contemporary life Michael Warner offers a revisionist account at the junction of two intellectual traditions with which he has been associated public sphere theory and queer theory To public sphere theory this book brings a new emphasis on cultural forms and a new focus on the dynamics of counterpublics To queer theory it brings a new way of seeing how queer culture among other examples is shaped by the counterpublic environment

Social Work, White Supremacy, and Racial Justice Laura S. Abrams, Sandra Edmonds Crewe, Alan J. Personal Relationships and Intimacy in the Age of Social Media Cristina Miguel, 2018-11-11 This book examines how intimate relationships are built negotiated and maintained through social media The study takes a cross platform approach analysing three social media platforms of different genres Badoo Couchsurfing and Facebook and exploring two interactive forces that shape the way people communicate through social media the platforms architecture and policies and actual practises of use Combining analysis of the political economy of social media with users perspectives of their own practises as well as exploring the tensions between the two the book provides a detailed picture of intimacy as a complex structure of continuity and change

Photojournalism and the Origins of the French Writer House Museum (1881-1914) Elizabeth Emery, 2017-07-05 Why did writers private homes become so linked to their work that contemporaries began preserving them as museums Photojournalism and the Origins of the French Writer House Museum addresses this and other questions by providing an overview of the social forces that brought writers homes to the forefront of the French imagination at the end of the nineteenth century and the beginning of the twentieth This study analyzes representations of the apartments and houses of Corneille Hugo Balzac Dumas Sand Zola Loti Montesquiou Mallarm and Proust among others arguing that the writer's home became a contested space and an important part of the French patrimony at this time This is the first book to emphasize the house museum as an essentially modern construct and to trace the history of ideas leading to its institutionalization in twentieth century France The interdisciplinary study also brings new attention to the importance of photojournalism for fin de siècle France and brings to light fascinating and forgotten examples of at home photography by Dornac and Henri Mairé Elizabeth Emery provides a fresh and compelling perspective on conjunctions between visual literary and material cultures

The Architecture of Home in Cairo Mohamed Gamal Abdelmonem, 2016-03-03 The hawari of Cairo narrow non straight alleyways are the basic urban units that have formed the medieval city since its foundation back in 969 AD Until early in the C20th they made up the primary urban divisions of the city and were residential in nature Contemporary hawari by contrast are increasingly dominated by commercial and industrial activity This medieval urban maze of extremely short broken zigzag streets and dead ends are defensible territories powerful institutions and important social systems While the hawari have been studied as an exemplar for urban structure of medieval Islamic urbanism and as individual building typologies this book is the first to examine in detail the socio spatial practice of the architecture of home in the city It investigates how people live communicate and relate to each other within their houses or shared spaces of the alleys and in doing so to uncover several new socio spatial dimensions and meanings in this architectural form In an attempt to re establish the link between architecture past and present and to understand the changing social needs of communities this book uncovers the notion of home as central to understand architecture in such a city with long history as Cairo It firstly describes the historical development of the domestic spaces indoor and outdoor and provides an inclusive analysis of spaces of everyday activities in the hawari of old Cairo It then broadens its analysis to other parts of the city highlighting different customs and representations of home in the city at large Cairo in the context of this book is represented as the most sophisticated urban centre in the Middle East with different and sometimes contrasting approaches to the architecture of home as a practice and spatial system In order to analyse the complexity and interconnectedness of the components and elements of the hawari as a collective home it layers its narratives of architectural and social developments as a domestic environment over the past two hundred years and in doing so explores the in depth social meaning and performance of spaces both private and public
