Punishment Selected Readings Selected Readings:

Selected Readings in American Military History Infantry School (U.S.),1953 Selected Readings on Adolescent Maltreatment ,1981 Punishment A. John Simmons,Marshall Cohen,Joshua Cohen,Charles R. Beitz,2022-02-08 The problem of justifying legal punishment has been at the heart of legal and social philosophy from the very earliest recorded philosophical texts However despite several hundred years of debate philosophers have not reached agreement about how legal punishment can be morally justified That is the central issue addressed by the contributors to this volume All of the essays collected here have been published in the highly respected journal Philosophy Public Affairs Taken together they offer not only significant proposals for improving established theories of punishment and compelling arguments against long held positions but also original and important answers to the question How is punishment to be justified Part I of this collection Justifications of Punishment examines how any practice of punishment can be morally justified Contributors include Jeffrie G Murphy Alan H Goldman Warren Quinn C S Nino and Jean Hampton The papers in Part II Problems of Punishment address more specific issues arising in established theories The authors are Martha C Nussbaum Michael Davis and A John Simmons In the final section Capital Punishment contributors discuss the justifiability of capital punishment one of the most debated philosophical topics of this century Essayists include David A Conway Jeffrey H Reiman Stephen Nathanson and Ernest van den Haag The Communion service, from the Book of Common Prayer, with select readings from the writings of ... F.D. Maurice ... John William Colenso,1855 The Juvenile Mentor, Or Select Readings Albert Pickett,1820 Selected Readings in Nuclear, Biological and Chemical Operations ,1983 Selected Readings in American History Theodore Calvin Pease,Ashbel Selw Roberts,1928 The literary class-book, or fourth series of select reading lessons Brothers of the Christian schools of Ireland,1840 Document Retrieval Index ,1972 Selected Readings in Anthropology University of California, Berkeley. Anthropology Department,1919 Crime and Punishment in Twentieth Century Ireland Seamus Breathnach,2005 This book was written as part of a much wider criminological enterprise designed at creating a real and critical basis for criminological enquiry in Ireland Properly understood the Criminal Justice System CJS is every bit as important to society as the circular flow of money No government would dream of conducting its business without the advice of an economist or indeed providing an econometric model of the economy Yet when it comes to the CJS governments take the opposite view and legislate in the dark hardly reconnoitering for a moment to see what effect proposed legislation will have on the several institutions it invariably affects Maybe this was okay when those effects could not be calculated But such is no longer the case In 1967 a President s Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice featured a model of criminal justice entitled The Challenge of Crime in a Free Society Incredibly misunderstood and widely neglected this model marked a breakthrough the first step as it were in coming to terms with the multiple agencies that go to make up what has come to be called the Criminal Justice System CJS In Volumes 2 and 3 of the present series Seamus Breathnach traces the initial steps necessary to complete the revolution begun by the President's Commission. In doing this he reveals the systematized neglect of the CJS in the Republic of Ireland for years 1950-80. In eight lectures he delineates the Republic's inability to get its act together or to engage the terms or significance of the 67 landmark an inability that is anchored both in a deep religious resistance to the secular social sciences as well as an exaggerated estimation of the criminal lawyer as social commentator. From this study it appears that the first step for criminologists is to see the CJS as a totality to see it as a social process clamoring to be rescued from the spokesmen of the discrete agencies that comprise it.

Toward Justice Kristi Holsinger, Lori Sexton, 2017-03-16 Designed as a text for Criminal Justice and Criminology capstone courses Toward Justice encourages students to engage critically with conceptions of justice that go beyond the criminal justice system in order to cultivate a more thorough understanding of the system as it operates on the ground in an imperfect world where people aren't always rational actors where individual cases are linked to larger social problems and where justice can sometimes slip through the cracks. Through a combined focus on content and professional development Toward Justice helps students translate what they have learned in the classroom into active strategies for justice in their professional lives preparing them for careers that will not simply maintain the status quo and stability that exists within our justice system but rather challenge the system to achieve justice.

Understanding Jurisprudence Raymond Wacks, 2015 Perfect for the student new to jurisprudence this book provides an illuminating introduction to the central questions of legal theory. An experienced teacher of jurisprudence Professor Wacks' approach is both accessible and entertaining providing the ideal base for further study.

Crimes and Punishments Jules L. Coleman, 1994

Colonial Mentality in Africa Nkuzi Michael Nnam, 2007-03-27 Intended for a broad audience Colonial Mentality in Africa explores the lingering effects of colonization in present day Africa. Despite the independence of all African nations from their former colonizers mental slavery still persists. This new work explores the social climate of Africa and the thriving colonial mentality. The book explores issues such as patriarchy, religion, tradition and values, law, the influence of Islam and government.

Criminal Punishment and Restorative Justice David J. Cornwell, 2006-02-01 In Criminal Punishment and Restorative Justice author David J. Cornwell draws on bedrock issues in contemporary criminology and penology in order to contrast punitive and restorative responses to crime. He then looks at the forces that serve to constrain more emphatic adoption of restorative methods and against a backdrop of increasing worldwide reliance on custody, tough solutions and punitive thinking examines the claims of restorative justice to mainstream adoption by governments. The book also provides an international perspective on the needs of victims and offenders alike and assesses how the worldwide trend towards punitive methods can be reversed by challenging offenders to take responsibility for their offences and to make practical reparation for the harm that they have caused. Such developments the author argues would serve to make corrections more effective, civilised, humane, pragmatic, non-fanciful and less driven by the often ill-considered politics of the moment Equal Justice and the Death Penalty David C. Baldus, George Woodworth, Charles A. Pulaski, 1990 University
