Punishment And Rehabilitation Wadsworth Series In Mass Communication:

Punishment A. John Simmons, Marshall Cohen, Joshua Cohen, Charles R. Beitz, 2022-02-08 The problem of justifying legal punishment has been at the heart of legal and social philosophy from the very earliest recorded philosophical texts However despite several hundred years of debate philosophers have not reached agreement about how legal punishment can be morally justified That is the central issue addressed by the contributors to this volume All of the essays collected here have been published in the highly respected journal Philosophy Public Affairs Taken together they offer not only significant proposals for improving established theories of punishment and compelling arguments against long held positions but also original and important answers to the question How is punishment to be justified Part I of this collection Justifications of Punishment examines how any practice of punishment can be morally justified Contributors include Jeffrie G Murphy Alan H Goldman Warren Quinn C S Nino and Jean Hampton The papers in Part II Problems of Punishment address more specific issues arising in established theories The authors are Martha C Nussbaum Michael Davis and A John Simmons In the final section Capital Punishment contributors discuss the justifiability of capital punishment one of the most debated philosophical topics of this century Essayists include David A Conway Jeffrey H Reiman Stephen Nathanson and Ernest van den Haag

When Texas Prison Scams Religion Michael G. Maness, 2022-01-28 State ordained child torturer Minister prisoner represents the offices of the Lt Gov Dan Patrick TDCJ Director Bryan Collier TBCJ and wardens throughout the prison but the greatest piece of fantasy is how the Executive Culture of cover ups came to see this Fools Parade as good for Texas even God's will to change the world TDCJ destroys records of violence after 7 years and has hired the lowest qualified of the applicant pool many times in the last 25 years even ordered the cleaning of contraband at the Polunsky Prison and all those responsible for covering up a horde were promoted 25 years of this Who thinks a director that allowed that can competently supervise a naive volunteer in a systemwide program of indenturing prisoners Why is the director sponsoring psychopaths counseling psychopaths Answer MONEY selling the Fools Parade Fantasy that buying faith from prisoners with favor turns them into saints after 4 years of Bible to naive Evangelicals Who thinks it JUSTICE that 400 000 000 hours of officer contact has zero definitive influence on parole when a commissioner spends

Honor and Revenge: A Theory of Punishment Whitley R.P. Kaufman, 2012-08-28 This book addresses the problem of justifying the institution of criminal punishment It examines the paradox of retribution the fact that we cannot seem to reject the intuition that punishment is morally required and yet we cannot even after two thousand years of philosophical debate find a morally legitimate basis for inflicting harm on wrongdoers The book comes at a time when a new abolitionist movement has arisen a movement that argues that we should give up the search for justification and accept that punishment is morally unjustifiable and should be discontinued immediately This book however proposes a new approach to the retributive theory of punishment arguing that it should be understood in its traditional formulation that has been long forgotten or dismissed that punishment is essentially a defense of the honor of the victim Properly understood this can give us the possibility of a legitimate moral justification for the institution of punishment Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office,1975

Correctional Ethics John Kleinig,2017-07-05 Correctional Ethics gathers the most prominent contributions to this burgeoning field ranging from the philosophy of punishment through to ethical appraisals of incarceration the professional responsibilities of prison personnel and formative work in restorative justice In addition it provides an annotated research agenda to help shape the development of a comprehensive correctional ethic For those working in correctional ethics this collection provides an essential resource Punishment Antony Duff,1993 This philosophical work on punishment includes coverage of retributivisms moral education and reform consequentialism and rights sentencing and how to make the punishment fit the crime abolitionism and sociological perspectives Document Retrieval Index ,1974 Punishment & Sentencing Mirko Bagheri,2001-07 Sentencing is the most important area of law yet ironically it is also arguably the least coherent This book suggests a way of introducing principle into sentencing by bridging the gap between the philosophical justification for punishment and sentencing law and practice Mental Illness: Law and Public Policy B.A. Brody,H. Tristram Engelhardt Jr.,2012-12-06 This volume developed from and around a series of six lectures sponsored by Rice University and the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston in the Fall of 1976 Though these lectures on the concepts of mental health mental illness and personal responsibility and the social treatment of the mentally ill were given to general audiences in Houston and Galveston they were revised and expanded to produce six extensive formal essays by Dan Brock Jules Coleman Joseph Margolis Michael Moore Jerome Neu and Rolf Sartorius The five remaining contributions by Daniel Creson Corinna Delkeskamp Edmund Erde James Speer and Stephen Wear were in various ways engendered by the debates occasioned by the original six lectures In fact the majority of the last five contributions emerged from informal discussions occasioned by the original lecture series The result is an interlocking set of essays that address the law and public policy insofar as they bear on the treatment of the mentally ill special attention being given to the definition of mental illness generally and in the law to the issues of the bearing of mental incompetence in cases of criminal and civil liability and to the issue of involuntary commitment for the purpose of treatment or for institutional care There is as well a critical defense of Thomas Szasz's radical proposal that mental illnesses are best understood as problems in living not as diseases

Encyclopedia of Criminal Justice Ethics Bruce A. Arrigo,2014-07-17 Federal state county and municipal police forces all have their own codes of conduct yet the ethics of being a police officer remain perplexing and are often difficult to apply in dynamic situations The police misconduct statistics are staggering and indicate that excessive use of force comprises almost a quarter of misconduct cases with sexual harassment fraud theft and false arrest being the next most prevalent factors The ethical issues and dilemmas in criminal justice also reach deep into the legal professions the structure and administration of justice in society and the personal characteristics of those in the criminal justice professions The Encyclopedia of Criminal Justice Ethics includes A to Z entries by experts in the field that explore the scope of ethical decision making and behaviors within the spheres of criminal justice systems including policing corrections courts forensic science and policy analysis and research This two volume set is available in both print and electronic formats Features Entries are authored and signed by experts in the field and conclude with references and further readings as well as cross references to related entries that guide readers to the next steps in their research journeys A Reader s Guide groups related entries by broad topic areas and themes making it easy for readers to quickly identify related entries A Chronology highlights the development of the field and places material into historical context a Glossary defines key terms from the fields of law and ethics and a Resource Guide provides lists of classic books academic journals websites and associations focused on criminal justice ethics Reports and statistics from such sources as the FBI the United Nations and the International Criminal Court are included in an appendix In the electronic version the Reader s Guide index and cross references combine to provide effective search and browse capabilities The Encyclopedia of Criminal Justice Ethics provides a general non technical yet comprehensive resource for students who wish to understand the complexities of criminal justice ethics

Prisoners of the International Community Denis Abels,2012-09-11 Little has been written about the legal position and conditions of detention of persons detained by international criminal tribunals particularly as regards their internal legal position their rights and duties inside the remand facility The primary purpose of this book is to set out the law governing the detention of persons detained under the tribunals jurisdiction The book provides a detailed account of this area of international criminal law It sets out the applicable law including the law s underlying principles and focuses on a number of specific procedural and substantive legal issues As to procedural issues it examines the available complaints and disciplinary procedures as well as procedures applicable to the designation of States for the enforcement of the tribunals sentences In respect of substantive law it examines the detainees right to contact with the outside world including contact with their relatives with their lawyers and with the media The book will be an extremely useful guidance for practitioners in applying the law and principles of the tribunals detention law particularly because it is the first monograph written on the topic

The Ethics of Legal Coercion J.D. Hodson,2012-12-06 Are all of the commonly accepted aims of the use of law justifiable Which kinds of behavior are justifiably prohibited which kinds justifiably required What uses of law are not defensible How can the legitimacy or the illegitimacy of various uses of law be explained or accounted for These are questions the answering of which involves one in many issues of moral principle for the answers require that one adopt positions even if only implicitly on further questions of what kinds of actions or policies are morally or ethically acceptable The present work aimed at questions of these kinds is thus a study in the ethical evaluation of major uses of legal coercion It is an attempt to provide a framework within which many questions about the proper uses of law may be fruitfully discussed The framework if successful can be used by anyone asking questions about the defensibility of particular or general uses of law whether from the perspective of someone considering whether to bring about some new legal provision from the perspective of someone concerned to evaluate an existing provision or from that of someone concerned more abstractly with questions about the appropriate substance of an ideal legal system In addressing these and associated issues I shall be exploring the extent to which an ethics based on respect for persons and their autonomy can handle satisfactorily the problems arising here
