disillusioned with modern society and organised religion and seeking a return to a more natural way of life The risks of exploitation and abuse from unprincipled charlatans are commonplace especially since they are promoted by the media and unregulated by law but genuine religiously legitimate practitioners also exist and their help is sought by millions suggesting a deep seated human need for connection to the supernatural Religious Traditions in Modern South Asia Jacqueline Suthren Hirst, John Zavos, 2013-03 This book offers a fresh approach to the study of religion in modern South Asia It uses a series of case studies to explore the development of religious ideas and practices giving students an understanding of the social political and historical context The Indian Farmers' Protest of 2020-2021 Christine Moliner, David Singh, 2024-08-21 The Kisan Andolan or the Indian farmers protest of 2020 2021 is one of the longest and biggest and victorious social movements in the history of independent India This book adopts a multidisciplinary approach to contextualise the movement in the long run It engages with the historical social and religious roots of the Andolan examining what makes it so unique and transformative for Indian polity It explores the discontinuities with previous resistance and contestation movements in India and globally and debates the role so far of regional religious and class caste gender identities Through interviews the volume also gives a specific voice and platform to grassroots activists and farmers from the movement Part of the Social Movements and Transformative Dissent series the book will appeal to scholars activists and a wider audience interested in social movements and dissent politics in India and the Global South It will also be of interest to students of economics political science anthropology sociology government agrarian studies Sikh and Punjab studies politics international relations and diaspora studies Oxford Textbook of Spirituality in Healthcare Mark Cobb, Christina Puchalski, Bruce Rumbold, 2012-08-09 The relationship between spirituality and healthcare is historical intellectual and practical and it has now emerged as a significant field in health research healthcare policy and clinical practice and training Understanding health and wellbeing requires addressing spiritual and existential issues and healthcare is therefore challenged to respond to the ways spirituality is experienced and expressed in illness suffering healing and loss If healthcare has compassionate regard for the humanity of those it serves it is faced with questions about how it understands and interprets spirituality what resources it should make available and how these are organised and the ways in which spirituality shapes and informs the purpose and practice of healthcare These questions are the basis for this resource which presents a coherent field of enquiry discussion and debate that is interdisciplinary international and vibrant There is a growing corpus of articles in medical and healthcare journals on spirituality in addition to a wide range of literature but there has been no attempt so far to publish a standard text on this subject Spirituality in Healthcare is an authoritative reference on the subject providing unequalled coverage critical depth and an integrated source of key topics Divided into six sections including practice research policy and training the project brings together international contributions from scholars in the field to provide a unique and stimulating resource Sikhs in Europe Kristina Myrvold, 2016-04-01 Sikhs in Europe are neglected a valuable resource for those engaged in religious studies and South Asian studies comprising a rich library of data relevant to current debates in these fields Religion, Language, and Power Nile Green, Mary Searle-Chatterjee, 2008-07-15 Religion Language and Power shows that the language of religion is far from neutral and that the packaging and naming of what English speakers call religious groups or identities is imbued with the play of power Religious Studies has all too often served to amplify voices from other centers of power whether scripturalist or otherwise normative and dominant This book's decentering of English classifications goes beyond the remit of most postcolonial studies in that it explores the classifications used in a range of languages including Arabic Sanskrit Chinese Greek and English to achieve a comparative survey of the roles of language and power in the making of religion In contextualizing these uses of language the ten contributors explore how labels are either imposed or emerge interactively through discursive struggles between dominant and marginal groups In dealing with the interplay of religion language and power there is no other book with the breadth of this volume
