Revitalizing History Paul E. Bolin,Ami Kantawa,2021-03-09 Historical inquiry forms the foundation for much research undertaken in art education While traversing paths of historical investigation in this field we may discover undocumented moments and overlooked or hidden individuals as well as encounter challenging ideas in need of exploration and critique In doing so history is approached from multiple and at times vitally diverse perspectives Our hope is that the conversations generated through this text will continue to strengthen and encourage more interest in histories of art education but also more sophisticated and innovative approaches to historical research in this field The overarching objective of the text is to recognize the historical role that many overlooked individuals particularly African Americans and women have played in the field of art education and acknowledge the importance of history and historical research in this digital age This text opens up possibilities of faculty collaborations across programs interested in history and historical research on a local national and international level By assembling the work of various scholars from across the United States this text is intended to elicit rich conversations about history that would be otherwise beyond what is provided in general art education textbooks

Keepers of Life Michael J. Caduto, Joseph Bruchac, 1998 This interdisciplinary curriculum in botany and plant ecology focuses on environmental and stewardship issues using the framework of Native American stories as an introduction to the topics
