stories Susan Sydney Smith demonstrates how the development of the British television police drama and indeed British television in general was more complex than accepted accounts allow She traces numerous lineages from inter war public service films live studio crime reconstructions and story documentaries such as 1942 s Target for Tonight through to the mix of public service and entertainment values embodied by the BBC Television Light Entertainment s Dixon of Dock Green Showing how the genre mapped new social and regional geographies from Dixon s metropolitan policeman to the gritty northern realism of Jacks and Knaves and Z Cars with its irascible Barlow the author follows the increasing commercialization of television in the sixties investigating how the BBC set about restoring the values of southern England in the 1966 Z Cars spin off Softly Softly with its more palatable protagonist The book also offers insights not only into the relationship between early British television and its cinematic forebears but also early radio On the Bow Bill
