Reading the Enemy's Mind Paul H. Smith, 2005-12-27 An up close and personal look behind the scenes of the government's psychic spy program as only an insider can. A must read. Harold E. Puthoff PhD founder and former director of the CIA initiated Remote Viewing Program. From behind the cloak of US military secrecy comes the story of Star Gate the project that for nearly a quarter of a century trained soldiers and civilian spies in extra sensory perception ESP. Their objective To search out the secrets of America's cold war enemies using a skill called remote viewing. Paul H. Smith a US Army Major was one of these viewers. With the Star Gate secrets declassified and the program mothballed by the Central Intelligence Agency the story can now be told of the ordinary soldiers drafted onto the battlefield of human consciousness. Using hundreds of interviews with the key players in the Star Gate program and gathering thousands of pages of documents Smith reveals many secrets about how remote viewing works and how it was used against enemy targets. Among these stories are the search for hostages in Lebanon spying on Soviet directed energy weapons investigating the bombing of Pan Am Flight 103 over Lockerbie Scotland tracking foreign testing of weapons of mass destruction combating narco trafficking off America's coasts aiding in the Iranian hostage situation finding KGB moles in the CIA pursuing Middle East terrorists and more. This is a story for the believer and the skeptic a rare look at the innards of a top secret program and an eye opening treatise on the power of the human mind to transcend the limitations of space and time. *Catalog of Copyright Entries. Models of Man J.J. Dagenais, 2012-12-06 This essay is first a theoretical and historical study of some classical scientific ways of studying human being in the world. The more readily accessible and more commonly discussed models of being human were chosen for review here but structuralism is included because I believe it will have the same impact in America as it has had in France and I hope that American readers might be forewarned about what may be ideologically at stake before the technical and fruitful aspects of the movement become an academic fad in the United States. The subjects included are mainline experimental psychology from Wundt to Skinner with its relatively shortlived functionalist and Watsonian behaviorist formulations holistic psychology from Brentano through Stumpf Husserl and Goldstein to Maslow Rogers and contemporary third force psychology and the psychoanalytic model for which the only paradigm is Freud himself. Preeminence is given to psychological paradigms since their subject matter lies closest to the classical philosophical tradition from which philosophical anthropology emerged.

This book is in the final analysis a prolegomenon to an articulated philosophical anthropology. Sociological models are also considered the classical tradition from Comte to the present and Marxist anthropology from the manuscripts of 1844 to the present. The structuralist model from Durkheim to Chomsky is also considered since it cuts across and gives new dimensions to all the foregoing models. The essay is second a phenomenological critique of these historical theoretical considerations.

Dictionary of Politics Walter John Raymond, 1992      The Analysis of Psychological Theory Henderikus J.

Stam, Timothy B. Rogers, Kenneth J. Gergen, 1987      Determinants of Behavioral Development F. J. Mönks, Willard W.

Hartup, Jan de Wit, 2013-09-24 Determinants of Behavioral Development documents the proceedings of the International Society for the Study of Behavioral Development's first symposium at the University of Nijmegen in The Netherlands 4 July 1971. The symposium was planned under the general theme Genetic and Social Influences on Psychological Development. Perhaps the major contribution of the Nijmegen Symposium and of this volume is the establishment of a new linkage between European and American research in developmental psychology. This volume contains 64 papers organized into eight parts. The papers in Part I deal with issues of research strategy. Part II presents studies on biological determinants of development. Part III examines cultural and societal factors in development while Part IV focuses on the concepts of deprivation and enrichment. Part V presents selected studies on infants. Part VI investigates cognitive process in child development. Part VII contains papers on socialization themes while Part VIII takes up adult development.      Opening and Closing

Klapp, 1978-09-29 In this original application of information theory to social analysis Orrin Klapp examines how and why societies are producing more stress than they ever can handle. He argues that the reduction of social noise the chaos from which we try to construct meaning is a major goal of individuals and groups alike. Individuals, groups, even entire societies normally cycle rhythmically between two basic modes of adaptation to the constant communication flow: opening or scanning for desired information and closing or defending against noise. For example, in a society functioning in the opening mode movements like ecumenicism and expansionism achieve momentum. Extreme reactions in either mode lead to an opposite swing according to Professor Klapp's model. His wide-ranging conceptual scheme incorporates hypotheses about the variety and redundancy of information as well as about human channel capacities and the need for homeostasis. His research reveals intriguing relationships among such phenomena as the concern about industrial population and the search for ethnic roots.
