Radical Theology The Death Of God:

Resurrecting the Death of God Daniel J. Peterson, G. Michael Zbarschuk, 2014-04-11 In 1966 an infamous Time magazine cover asked Is God Dead and brought the ideas of theologians William Hamilton and Thomas J J Altizer to the wider public In the years that followed both men suffered professionally and there was no notable increase to the small number of thinkers considered death of God theologians Meanwhile Christian fundamentalism staged a striking comeback in the United States Yet death of God or radical theology has had an ongoing influence on contemporary theology and philosophy Contributors to this book explore the origins influence and legacy of radical theology and go on to take it in new directions In a time when fundamentalism is the greatest religious temptation this volume makes the case for the necessity of resurrecting the death of God

Living the Death of God Thomas J. J. Altizer, 2006-05-25 The eminent death of God theologian traces his lifelong search for a theory that is contemporary yet biblical

An Introduction to Radical Theology Trevor Greenfield, 2006 Romanticism Marxism pre and post war German theology non realism and the nineteen sixties death of God movement and now many contemporary writers around the world they have all reshaped our ideas about God giving it the rich diversity of experience and expression it comprises today Tracing the history of the key idea in Western thought from its origins through to the present day this is the story of the intellectual journey that remade God in the image of man so that he might become one of us

Radical Theology and the Death of God Thomas J. J. Altizer, William Hamilton, 1966 Joint author William Hamilton is an alumnus of Evanston Township High School class of 1940 Death of God and God Language in American Radical Theology (microfilm). Stuart Eldon Murray, 1969 The Call to Radical Theology Thomas J. J. Altizer, 2013-01-02 The major death of God theologian explores the meaning and purpose of radical theology Radical Theology and the Death of God Thomas Jonathan Jackson ALTIZER (and HAMILTON (William Hughes)), 1968 Radical Theology Ingolf U.

Dalferth, 2016-07-01 Ingolf U Dalferth develops a radical theology that unfolds the orienting strength of faith for human life from the event of God's presence to every present In a concise and clear manner Dalferth outlines the theological and philosophical approaches to hermeneutics in the modern era in order to promote a convincing and defensible theology for the twenty first century critically carrying on Martin Heidegger and Rudolf Bultmann without forgetting Karl Barth The result of his reconstruction is a radical theology that neither glorifies premodern theology in an antimodern attitude nor seeks a mystical deepening of the secular but argues for a radical change in theological perspective of the possible In doing so theology unfolds limit concepts that restrict the claims of science and philosophy critically and develops ideas of orientation that illumine the ways in which human life is understood and lived in radically new ways in faith From here Dalferth unfolds the reality of revelation and the Christian sense of an unconditional hope that fundamentally transcends all beliefs based on mundane realities and orients the world on something beyond its own temporal horizon its loving Creator

and the turn to Paul in political philosophy have occasioned a return to radical theology a tradition whose philosophical heritage can be traced to the death of God announced in the work of Nietzsche and Hegel John D Caputo's deconstructive theology and Slavoj Žižek's materialist theology are two radical theologies that explore what it might mean to pass through the death of God and to abandon this experience as specifically Christian Radical Theology and Emerging Christianity demonstrates how these theologies are transforming everyday religious practices through an examination of the work of Peter Rollins and Kester Brewin two figures at the radical margins of a contemporary expression of Western religiosity called emerging Christianity The author uses her analysis of all four figures to argue that deconstructive practices can enable religious communities to become part of a wider materialist collective in which the death of God continues to resonate Pushing the methodological boundaries of philosophy of religion by examining religious practices as the site of philosophical signification the book challenges scholars and practitioners alike to a new and more demanding dialogue between theory and practice

Toward a New Christianity Thomas J. J. Altizer, 1967      New & Enlarged Handbook of Christian Theology Donald W. Musser, Joseph Price, 2011-09-01 This handbook provides thorough introductory articles on important themes in Christian theology Along with cross references and select bibliographies it is an indispensable reference source The Handbook consists of 148 topical entries arranged alphabetically Instead of a Table of Contents a Routes For Reading page suggests related entries and cross referencing makes surfing this volume easier than ever      The Palgrave Handbook of Radical Theology Christopher D. Rodkey, Jordan E. Miller, 2018-10-10 The Palgrave Handbook of Radical Theology is the definitive guide to radical theology and the commencement for new directions in that field For the first time radical theology is addressed and assessed in a single comprehensive volume including introductory and historical essays for the beginner essays on major figures and their thought and shorter articles on various themes concepts and related topics This book is a seminal work for the radical theology movement It clarifies origins and demonstrates the exigency and utility of current figures and issues A useful and essential guide for newcomers and veterans in the field this volume serves as both a reference work and an introduction to omitted or forgotten topics within contemporary discussions      The Death of God Movement and the Holocaust Stephen R. Haynes, John K. Roth, 1999-06-30 The Death of God theologians represented one of the most influential religious movements that emerged of the 1960s a decade in which the discipline of theology underwent revolutionary change Although they were from different traditions utilized varied methods of analysis and focused on culture in distinctive ways the four religious thinkers who sparked radical theology Thomas Altizer William Hamilton Richard Rubenstein and Paul Van Buren all considered the Holocaust as one of the main challenges to the Christian faith Thirty years later a symposium organized by the American Academy of Religion revisited the Death of God movement by asking these four radical theologians to reflect on how awareness of the Holocaust affected their thinking not only in the 1960s but also in the 1990s This edited volume brings together their essays along with responses by other noted scholars who offer critical commentary on the movement's impact, legacy and relationship to the Holocaust      Thinking Jewish Culture in America Ken Koltun-Fromm, 2013-12-11 Thinking Jewish Culture in America argues that Jewish thought extends our awareness and deepens the complexity of American Jewish culture. This volume stretches the disciplinary boundaries of Jewish thought so that it can productively engage expanding arenas of culture by drawing Jewish thought into the orbit of cultural studies. The eleven contributors to Thinking Jewish Cultures together with Chancellor Arnold Eisen's postscript position Jewish thought within the dynamics and possibilities of contemporary Jewish culture. These diverse essays in Jewish thought re-imagine cultural space as a public and sometimes contested performance of Jewish identity and they each seek to re-enliven that space with reflective accounts of cultural meaning. How do Jews imagine themselves as embodied actors in America? Do cultural obligations limit or expand notions of the self? How should we imagine Jewish thought as a cultural performance? What notions of peoplehood might sustain a vibrant Jewish collectivity in a globalized economy? How do programs in Jewish studies work within the academy? These and other questions engage both Jewish thought and culture, opening space for theoretical works to broaden the range of cultural studies and to deepen our understanding of Jewish cultural dynamics. Thinking Jewish Culture is a work about Jewish cultural identity reflected through literature, visual arts, philosophy and theology. But it is more than a mere reflection of cultural patterns and choices; the argument pursued throughout Thinking Jewish Culture is that reflective sources help produce the very cultural meanings and performances they purport to analyze      The Christian Witness in a Secular Age Donald G. Bloesch, 2002-01-02 This volume presents an evangelical appraisal of modern theological thinking. It examines the views of nine leading theologians on the apologetic task today, from Karl Barth and Reinhold Niebuhr to Harvey Cox and Thomas Altizer. The strengths and weaknesses in the theology of each are set forth. It is the author's contention that modern apologetics is often anchored in the spirit of the age and the values of the culture rather than in biblical revelation. This book calls on Christians to place their trust not in imperfect human reason but in God's self-revelation in Christ, which can be discerned only by faith      Radical Political Theology Clayton Crockett, 2013-10-01 In the 1960s the strict opposition between the religious and the secular began to break down, blurring the distinction between political philosophy and political theology. This collapse contributed to the decline of modern liberalism, which supported a neutral, value-free space for capitalism. It also deeply unsettled political, religious and philosophical realms forced to confront the conceptual stakes of a return to religion. Gamely intervening in a contest that defies simple resolutions, Clayton Crockett conceives of the postmodern convergence of the secular and the religious as a basis for emancipatory political thought. Engaging themes of sovereignty, democracy, potentiality, law and event from a religious and political point of view, Crockett articulates a theological vision that responds to our contemporary world and its theo-political realities. Specifically, he claims we should think about God and the state in terms of potentiality rather than sovereign power. Deploying new concepts such as Slavoj Žižek's idea of parallax and Catherine Malabou's notion of plasticity, his argument engages with debates over the nature and status of religion ideology and messianism Tangling with the work of Derrida Deleuze Spinoza Antonio Negri Giorgio Agamben Alain Badiou John D Caputo and Catherine Keller Crockett concludes with a reconsideration of democracy as a form of political thought and religious practice underscoring its ties to modern liberal capitalism while also envisioning a more authentic democracy unconstrained by those ties

Decentering Discussions on Religion and State Sargon George Donabed, Autumn Quezada-Grant, 2015-04-09 This volume explores dynamic conversations through history between individuals and communities over questions about religion and state Divided into two sections our authors begin with considerations on the separation of religion and state as well as Roger Williams concept of religious freedom Authors in the first half consider nuanced debates centered on emerging narratives with particular emphasis on Native America Early Americans and experiences in American immigration after Independence The first half of the volume examines voices in American History as they publicly engage with notions of secular ideology Discussions then shift as the volume broadens to world perspectives on religion state relations Authors consider critical questions of nation religious identity and transnational narratives The intent of this volume is to privilege new narratives about religion state relations Decentering discussions away from national narratives allows for emerging voices at the individual and community levels This volume offers readers new openings through which to understand critical but overlooked interactions between individuals and groups of people with the state over questions about religion

Radical Theology and Emerging Christianity Dr Katharine Sarah Moody, 2015-09-28 John D Caputo's deconstructive theology and Slavoj Žižek's materialist theology are two radical theologies that explore what it might mean to pass through the death of God and to abandon this experience as specifically Christian Moody demonstrates how these theologies are transforming everyday religious practices through an examination of the work of Peter Rollins and Kester Brewin two figures at the radical margins of a contemporary expression of Western religiosity called emerging Christianity The author uses her analysis of all four figures to argue that deconstructive practices can enable religious communities to become part of a wider materialist collective in which the death of God continues to resonate

Philosophy of Religion Norman L. Geisler, Winfried Corduan, 2003-01-15 Is there any basis in reality for a religious experience Is there any basis in reason for belief in God Is it even possible to speak meaningfully of a transcendent being And how does one account for evil The authors answer these questions representing the four most important issues in the philosophy of religion in a comprehensive way and from the perspective of classical theism They support this position with in depth argumentation taking into account both classical and contemporary writers With its well outlined text Philosophy of Religion is user friendly An introduction chapter summaries a glossary indexes and bibliography contribute to this end In this second edition the authors have not only updated the text and bibliography but also refined some of the arguments scaled down and evened out the vocabulary and added several pedagogical aids The first edition written by Norman L Geisler alone appeared in 1974
