The City Beneath Susan A. Phillips, 2019-11-05 A sweeping history of Los Angeles told through the lens of the many marginalized groups from hobos to taggers that have used the city's walls as a channel for communication Graffiti written in storm drain tunnels on neighborhood walls and under bridges tells an underground and until now untold history of Los Angeles Drawing on extensive research within the city's urban landscape Susan A Phillips traces the hidden language of marginalized groups over the past century from the early twentieth century markings of hobos soldiers and Japanese internees to the later inscriptions of surfers cholos and punks Whether describing daredevil kids bored workers or clandestine lovers Phillips profiles the experiences of people who remain underrepresented in conventional histories revealing the powerful role of graffiti as a venue for cultural expression Graffiti aficionados might be surprised to learn that the earliest documented graffiti bubble letters appear not in 1970s New York but in 1920s Los Angeles Or that the negative letterforms first carved at the turn of the century are still spray painted on walls today With discussions of characters like Leon Ray Livingston aka A No 1 credited with consolidating the entire system of hobo communication in the 1910s and Kathy Zuckerman better known as the surf icon Gidget this lavishly illustrated book tells stories of small moments that collectively build into broad statements about power memory landscape and history itself
