The Rage to Live - The International D.P. Children's Center Kloster Indersdorf 1945-1948 Anna Andlauer, 2025-03-05 This book documents two historical humanitarian efforts to help the youngest victims of National Socialism in postwar Germany After the liberation of the concentration and labor camps from July 1945 to July 1946 a team of UNRRA pioneers provided 613 Jewish and gentile child survivors in Kloster Indersdorf near Dachau with the initial help they needed to pick up the pieces of their shattered existence and go on with their lives either in their home country or in a completely different environment Taking care of hundreds of young Holocaust survivors and other displaced children posed a challenge hitherto unknown The humanitarian workers focused on the children s individual needs and psychological responses to persecution and displacement They listened attentively when the child survivors talked about their suffering and loss they had to understand that these traumatized young people urgently needed to gain control over their haunting experiences From August 1946 September 1948 in the Jewish Children s Center Kloster Indersdorf the Zionist kibbutz movement Dror along with the UNRRA also had to meet the basic needs of hundreds of young Holocaust survivors from Poland Hungary and Romania The youth leaders offered schooling games sports concerts and cultural activities But as their primary aim was to prepare these child survivors for their future life on a kibbutz in Erez Israel they also engaged them in helping with farm and household tasks they practiced roll calls and self defense and they taught them Zionist and socialist principles Sixty to seventy years later the author interviewed more than a hundred survivors who were either in the International Children s Center or in the Jewish Children s Center Kloster Indersdorf She paints a vivid picture of everyday life in both children s centers and creates portraits of many of these child survivors then and now On the Backs of Others Edward Armston-Sheret,2024-12 In the Victorian and Edwardian eras British explorers sought to become respected geographers and popular public figures downplaying or reframing their reliance on others for survival Far from being solitary heroes these explorers were in reality dependent on the bodies senses curiosity and labor of subaltern people and animals In On the Backs of Others Edward Armston Sheret offers new perspectives on British exploration in this era by focusing on the contributions of the people and animals ordinarily written out of the mainstream histories who made these journeys possible He explores several well known case studies of enduring popular and academic interest such as Richard Francis Burton and John Hanning Speke s Nile expeditions 1856 59 and 1860 63 Isabella Bird s travels in North America Persia and East Asia 1872 c 1900 and Captain Robert Falcon Scott s two Antarctic expeditions 1901 4 and 1911 13 Armston Sheret argues that numerous previously ignored stories show the work and agency of subaltern groups In rethinking the history of exploration On the Backs of Others offers the first book length study of the relationship between exploration and empire and their legacies within academic geography The Genteel John O'Hara Pamela Carol Mac Arthur,2009 The writer John O Hara 1905 1970 came from Pottsville in Pennsylvania He put his home town and the surrounding vicinity under a microscope to produce an account of The Anthracite Region that rivals Edith Wharton s descriptions of New York and Sinclair Lewis s anatomy of Sauk Centre With the discerning eye of a local resident O Hara recreated this coal rich region and its people so well that his novelettes novellas novels plays and short stories give a true record of his Pennsylvania Protectorate in the latter part of the nineteenth century and the first half of the twentieth century In order to reveal the ethnographical geographical and historical authenticity of the O Hara Canon this book examines his writings in the context of Pottsville and the borough of Tamaqua as well as the nearby towns and villages The author also investigates both O Hara s genteel upbringing and his gangster stratum The book explores the many dimensions of O Hara s life from the time of his birth until his escape to New York City in 1928 New sources such as unpublished letters and interviews with O Hara s family friends and enemies provide important insights into O Hara as well as into Pottsville and the surrounding region Richard Burton, T.E. Lawrence and the Culture of Homoerotic Desire Feras Alkabani,2024-09-19 In the 19th and early 20th centuries the Arabic speaking regions of the Ottoman Empire saw a crucial change in attitudes towards sexuality. Notions of respectability, propriety and sexual morality were being transformed in literary and cultural discourses, a shift that was related to the gradual rise in anti Ottoman Arab nationalism. However, contemporary Orientalists such as Sir Richard Burton and T E Lawrence were oblivious to certain aspects of this process of cultural reconfiguration. While accounts of male love poetry, ghazal, al mudhakkar were being gradually expurgated from the Arab literary heritage, elaborate narratives of Oriental homoerotic desire distinctively characterise the encounters of both Burton and Lawrence with the Arab East. By comparing their literary and autobiographical accounts of the Arab Orient with contemporary Arabic literature, Feras Alkabani is able to expose this critical disparity in cross cultural portrayals of sexual morality and homoerotic desire. Alkabani relates the conflicting agendas of contemporary Orientalists and Arab scholars to the shifts in international imperial power relations and the eventual collapse of the Ottoman Empire. His detailed comparative study reveals the significance of homoerotic desire within Orientalist and Arab literary discourses at a time when the meaning and connotations of poetic male love were undergoing a critical change in Arab culture and literature. It will prove invaluable for those researching Orientalism, nationalism, imperialism and manifestations of homoerotic desire in the fin de siècle Middle East.
