Cosmologies of Pure Realms and the Rhetoric of Pollution Yohan Yoo, James W. Watts, 2021-05-30 This collaboration between two scholars from different fields of religious studies draws on three comparative data sets to develop a new theory of purity and pollution in religion arguing that a culture's beliefs about cosmological realms shapes its pollution ideas and its purification practices The authors of this study refine Mary Douglas foundational theory of pollution as matter out of place using a comparative approach to make the case that a culture's cosmology designates which materials in which places constitute pollution By bringing together a historical comparison of Ancient Near Eastern and Mediterranean religions an ethnographic study of indigenous shamanism on Jeju Island Korea and the reception history of biblical rhetoric about pollution in Jewish and Christian cultures the authors show that a cosmological account of purity works effectively across multiple disparate religious and cultural contexts They conclude that cosmologies reinforce fears of pollution and also that embodied experiences of purification help generate cosmological ideas Providing an innovative insight into a key topic of ritual studies this book will be of vital interest to scholars and graduate students in religion biblical studies and anthropology

Mind, Text, and Reality in Buddhist Studies Paul Fuller, Indaka Weerasekera, 2025-08-07 Bringing together contributions from North America UK Europe and

Asia into a single volume this book advances scholarship in Buddhist studies and celebrates Rupert Gethin's immense contribution to the field. Essays include explorations of Buddhist teachings, scriptural studies and cover the fields of research that engage Rupert Gethin's scholarship: Buddhist cosmology, textual translations, Abhidharma and the interface between Buddhism and modern science. Scholars address themes associated with Buddhist thought and practice including philosophy of mind and the relationship between artificial intelligence and Buddhist ethics. Translations and analyses of a variety of written materials span several genres and ages: Gandhari manuscripts, Vinaya commentaries, Buddhist Sanskrit imagery and Tibetan translations of late Indian texts. To acknowledge Rupert Gethin's important and expansive contribution to the field of Abhidharma, the book offers explorations into Abhidharma terminology, its commentaries and texts associated with early Buddhist schools. The volume also highlights the intricacies of Abhidharma, the interplay of Buddhism and modern technology and how language shared between Pali and Sanskrit illuminates Buddhist doctrines.

Fourteen years later, he would regain his Martial Veins and obtain the Heavenly Treasures, the Heavenly Jade Pendant. From then on, he would rise to greatness. For the sake of his parents, for the sake of the truth, for the sake of his beauties, he had ignited his will to climb to the peak. He had engaged in a fierce struggle with the Heaven's Pride of the Seven Realms, leaving behind one legend after another.
