Rebels In Paradise Indonesias Civil War:

The Decline of Constitutional Democracy in Indonesia Herbert Feith, 2007 This is an intensive study of Indonesian politics from the attainment of full independence in December 1949 to the proclamation of martial law in March 1957 and President Soekarno's subsequent establishment of guided democracy It is intended as a contribution to the ongoing discussion of democracy in the new states of Asia and Africa of the ways in which Western political institutions are transformed when employed in non Western social settings and of the obstacles to be overcome if such institutions are to operate in consonance with the authority systems of new nations and with their solution of economic and administrative problems Now brought back into print as a member of Equinox Publishing's Classic Indonesia series The Decline of Constitutional Democracy is considered to be the definitive study of Indonesia in the 1950s and will be of great interest to the growing number of social scientists concerned with the pre industrial nations and in particular with their efforts to use and adapt Western political institutions This is a solid and scholarly account but written on the basis of much personal observation Dr Feith manages to present his material in such a way that readers with no previous background in the subject will be able to follow the book almost as easily as will specialists HERBERT FEITH 1930 2001 became familiar with Indonesia during 1951 53 and 1954 56 when he was an English Language Assistant with the Ministry of Information of the Republic of Indonesia A citizen of Australia he received an M A degree from the University of Melbourne in 1955 and a Ph D from Cornell University in 1961 He was a Research Fellow in the Department of Pacific History Australian National University from 1960 to 1962 and was Chair of Politics at Monash University from 1968 until 1974 Rebels in Paradise James Mossman, 1961

Twentieth-century Indonesia Wilfred T. Neill, 1973 In the 1930s a band of smart and able young men some still in their twenties helped Franklin D Roosevelt transform an American nation in crisis They were the junior officers of the New Deal Thomas G Corcoran Benjamin V Cohen William O Douglas Abe Fortas and James Rowe helped FDR build the modern Democratic Party into a progressive coalition whose command over power and ideas during the next three decades seemed politically invincible This is the first book about this group of Rooseveltians and their linkage to Lyndon Johnson s Great Society and the Vietnam War debacle Michael Janeway grew up inside this world His father Eliot Janeway business editor of Time and a star writer for Fortune and Life magazines was part of this circle strategizing and practicing politics as well as reporting on these men Drawing on his intimate knowledge of events and previously unavailable private letters and other documents Janeway crafts a riveting account of the exercise of power during the New Deal and its aftermath He shows how these men were at the nexus of reform impulses at the electoral level with reform thinking in the social sciences and the law and explains how this potent fusion helped build the contemporary American state Since that time efforts to reinvent government by brains trust have largely failed in the U S In the last quarter of the twentieth century American politics ceased to function as a blend of broad coalition building and reform agenda setting rooted in a consensus of belief in the efficacy of modern government Can a progressive coalition of ideas and power come together again The Fall of the House of Roosevelt makes such a prospect both alluring and daunting Twenty years Indonesian foreign policy 1945-1965 Ide Anak Agung Gde Agung, 2018-12-03 No detailed description available for Twenty years Indonesian foreign policy 1945 1965

Southeast Asia and the Cold War Albert Lau, 2012 The origins and the key defining moments of the Cold War in Southeast Asia have been widely debated This book focuses on an area that has received less attention the impact and legacy of the Cold War on the various countries in the region as well as on the region itself The book contributes to the historiography of the Cold War in Southeast Asia by examining not only how the conflict shaped the milieu in which national and regional change unfolded but also how the context influenced the course and tenor of the Cold War in the region It goes on to look at the usefulness or limitations of using the Cold War as an interpretative framework for understanding change in Southeast Asia Chapters discuss how the Cold War had a varied but notable impact on the countries in Southeast Asia not only on the mainland countries belonging to what the British Foreign Office called the upper arc but also on those situated on its maritime lower arc The book is an important contribution to the fields of Asian Studies and International Relations

Chinese Policy Toward Indonesia, 1949-1967 David Mozingo, 2007 China s alliance with Indonesia in the mid sixties appeared to be a spectacular achievement of diplomatic strategy yet it became a major foreign policy disaster for China To explore this turn about Professor Mozingo offers a persuasive analysis of the competing forces that shaped Beijing s policy towards Jakarta and the factors that ultimately led to its downfall He explains how and why Chinese policy in Indonesia shifted dramatically from hostility to peaceful coexistence and back again to hostility Although considerations of global strategy predominantly influenced the design and execution of that policy he writes the decisive factor affecting the outcome of the Sino Indonesian relationship consistently proved to be the domestic political processes in Indonesia over which Beijing had little or no control In the end China was unable to resolve the contradiction between considerations of realpolitik and of its own revolutionary ethos He argues that this same contradiction is responsible for the highly ambivalent attitude that Beijing has displayed in its relations with other non communist Arfo Asian countries since 1949 Through this informed analysis of the Sino Indonesian relationship now brought back to life as a member of Equinox Publishing s Classic Indonesia series Professor Mozingo has clarified the larger pattern of China s evolving diplomatic strategy in the Third World before the Cultural Revolution DAVID MOZINGO is Professor of Government and Director International Relations of East Asia Project at Cornell University A graduate of the University of California Loa Angeles he received his MA and PhD degrees there He was formerly a staff member of the Rand Corporation and Director China Japan Program at Cornell University

The Struggle of Islam in Modern Indonesia B.J. Bolland,2014-10-22 Regional and national history Rebellion under the Banner of Islam C. (Kees) van Dijk,2014-10-22 The Darul Islam rebellion striving for the establishment of an Islamic State of Indonesia broke out in several areas since 1949 The author describes each of these Darul Islam rebellions and identifies some of the factors which may help to explain their outbreak and persistence Ch 1 sketches life and background of the most important Darul Islam leader S M Kartosuwirjo In the next five chapters the political history of the relevant regions West Java Central Java South Sulawesi South Kalimantan and Aceh and their respective Darul Islam risings are outlined Ch 7 discusses the question of why people joined the Darul Islam Indonesia United States. Department of State,1979 The Indonesian Town Revisited P. Nas,2002 The Indonesian Town Revisited reflects the growing interest in new towns and the urban sprawl around Jakarta the economic crisis and its effects on the construction sector Furthermore a new direction in research is related to the growing interest in middle range cities Some well established topics are also covered such as kampung improvement urban conservation and migration Encountering Islam Hui Yew-Foong,2003-08-01 This volume seeks to introduce and deepen the understanding of Islam and its role in politics as encountered in different national and transnational contexts in Southeast Asia eschewing the neo orientalist approach that has informed public discourse in recent years In Encountering Islam the book lingers beyond the summary moment and reflects on the multiple impressions suppressions and repressions whether coherent or incoherent associated with Islam as a socio political force in public life To this end it is not adequate simply to represent the divergent identities associated with Islam in Southeast Asia whether embedded in state endorsed orthodoxy or Islamic movements that contest such orthodoxy It is also important to examine religious minorities in political contexts where Islam is dominant and Muslim communities in national contexts where they are minorities By situating these religious identities within their larger socio political contexts this volume seeks to provide a more holistic understanding of what is encountered as Islam in Southeast Asia Laskar Jihad Noorhaidi Hasan,2018-05-31

An in depth study of the militant Islamic Laskar Jihad movement and its links to international Muslim networks and ideological debates This analysis is grounded in extensive research and interviews with Salafi leaders and activists who supported jihad throughout the Moluccas

The Politics of Indonesia-Malaysia Relations Joseph Chinyong Liow, 2005 This book provides a comprehensive overview of the relationship between Indonesia and Malaysia focusing especially on how the relationship has developed in the last fifty years It argues that the political relationship between the two countries has been largely defined by rivalry despite the fact that the processes of national self determination began by emphasising Indo Malay fraternity It shows how the two countries have different contested interpretations of Indo Malay history and how the continuing suspicion of Javanese hegemony which defined much of the history of the Indo Malay world is also a key factor in the relationship

The Transition to Guided Democracy Daniel S. Lev, 2009 Periods of major political transition are generally so complex as to present the political analyst with one of his most difficult challenges Indonesia between 1957 and 1959 was no exception During these years a previously wide diffusion of political power was superseded by its increasing concentration in three major bases President Soekarno the Army and the Communist Party This was also a period of crisis in the relationships of Djakarta and Java with the other major islands of the archipelago and it was marked by ideological ferment and change largely dominated by the views of President Soekarno It was during these years that Guided Democracy was given its initial shape with the stage being set for a power struggle which was to become increasingly intense So dramatic were the political experiences of this period and so deeply etched in the minds of many Indonesians that their effect is still strongly felt and can be expected to influence the character of Indonesia s political development for many years to come Dr Daniel S Lev is particularly well qualified to examine the course of Indonesian political developments between 1957 and 1959 Arriving in Indonesia towards the end of this period he remained there for three years engaged in an intensive study of its political life His monograph constitutes by far the most searching analysis yet to appear of this critically important period As well as providing a guide to these earlier formative years in the nation s political development it will I am sure long remain relevant for all those seriously interested in understanding contemporary Indonesian political life George McT Kahin August 10 1966

The Social Evolution of Indonesia F. Tichelman, 2012-12-06 At a fairly early stage of socialism s penetration into the Afro Asian world a handful of European social democrats established an Indian Social Democratic Association ISDV They did so in a country Indonesia that was economically little developed and far away from any of the centres of European socialism and Asiatic radical nationalism The ISDV was soon able to bring its influence to bear on sections of the urban proletariat and to build up an Indonesian revolutionary movement This occurred in sharp competition with a nascent nationalist leadership and then without the usual intermediary role played by radicalizing groups of native intelligentsia In this way Dutch social democrats laid the foundations for one of the first communist parties in Asia and Africa a party which was destined to become one of the few communist mass parties of the Third World However in contrast to the major communist movements of China Vietnam this Indonesian party was to demonstrate a basic weakness successive and catastrophic defeats If we leave out Japan the only non Western country where a capitalist industrial revolution occurred we see that foreign and particularly Western minorities frequently did play a dominant role in the initial and formative phases of the socialist and workers movements of the Afro Asiatic world

Islam in South-East Asia M.B. Hooker, 2023-11-27 This volume contains essays written in 1978-79 which arose from courses and seminars given in the University of Kent at Canterbury within which Islam was a focal theme This volume wants to describe the structure of the accommodation between the Middle East derived form of Islam and the cultures of South East Asia

The Man on Horseback Samuel E. Finer, 2017-09-04 The role of the military in a society raises a number of issues How much separation should there be between a civil government and its army Should the military be totally subordinate to the polity Or should the armed forces be allowed autonomy in order to provide national security Recently the dangers of military dictatorships as have existed in countries like Panama Chile and Argentina have become evident However developing countries often lack the administrative ability and societal unity to keep the state functioning in an orderly and economically feasible manner without military intervention Societies of course have dealt with the realities of these problems throughout their histories and the action they have taken at any particular point in time has depended on numerous factors In the first world of democratic countries the civil military relationship has been thoroughly integrated and indeed by most modern standards this is seen as essential However several influential Western thinkers have developed theories arguing for the separation of the military from any political or social role Samuel Huntington emphasized that professionalism would presuppose that the military should intervene as little as possible in the political sphere Samuel E. Finer in contrast emphasizes that a government can be efficient enough way to keep the civil military relationship in check ensuring that the need for intervention by the armed forces in society would be minimal At the time of the book's original publication perhaps as a consequence of a post World War II Cold War atmosphere this was by no means a universally accepted position Some considered the military to be a legitimate threat to a free society Today's post Cold War environment is an appropriate time to reconsider Finer's classic argument The Man on Horseback continues to be an important contribution to the study of the military's role in the realm of politics and will be of interest to students
