Unique in its focus and disciplinary diversity, this edited collection develops an expanded discourse on the role and contribution of design to our broader social, cultural, and material challenges. Based around a unifying critique of the proposition of care as a theoretical framework for undertaking design research in real-world contexts, each chapter presents a case study of design research in action. This book aims to provide readers, both academics and practitioners, with insights into the possibilities and challenges of designing cultures of care. The disciplines represented in this collection include architecture, visual communication, participatory and social design, service design, critical and speculative design, interventions, and design ethnography. These case studies will provide real-world insights that have relevance and value to design students at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels and to researchers at all levels within and outside of the academy. My Road to Radio and The Vocal Scene George Jellinek, 2015-01-09 Born in Ujpest, Hungary, in 1919, George Jellinek began his musical career playing violin with gypsies in the family's garden restaurant. He spent his adolescence doing much the same, honing his talent and enriching his own musical education with frequent trips to the Hungarian Royal Opera House. But when Hitler and Chamberlain signed the Munich Pact in 1938, Jellinek's quiet life was shattered. How the exiled teenager survived World War II, worked his way up from a poor Hungarian immigrant in Cuba and became one of the most important and influential musical administrators in New York is an unconventional but truly American success story. This memoir documents the inspiring life of George Jellinek, beginning with his childhood in his beloved Hungary. The crisis of World War II soon invaded his life, and leaving behind his family and homeland, he fled west. Having been finally allowed to enter the United States, he was drafted into the U.S. Army in 1942, obligated to bear arms against the country of his birth. This ironic turn of events culminated in his firsthand role in the capture of Ferenc Szalasi, the leader of Hungary's Hitlerite faction. The latter half of the book reveals how music helped Jellinek piece back together his broken life in America. After rising to the post of musical director for radio station WQXR, he went on to become the producer and host of The Vocal Scene. His 36 years with that program established it as a revered fixture of New York's opera life. The epilogue documents the day on which Hungary's president bestowed upon Jellinek the Knight's Cross of the Order of Merit of the Republic of Hungary. The Art of the Song Recital Shirlee Emmons, Stanley Sonntag, 2001-11-15 Since its original publication the Emmons Sonntag text has continually stood out as the definitive work on the song recital. The book presents imaginative advice and practical techniques for producing successful recitals and kindling audience excitement. Every aspect of the recital is covered from building programs and the use of acting skills to the relationship between the singer and the accompanist. Singers of all levels and backgrounds will benefit from the authors vast experience in the performance of song recitals as a singer accompanist team. The comprehensive repertoire lists now organized by voice and instrumentation as well as by composer appeal to both students and professional musicians. Readers will agree that the authors have met their goal of providing extensive throughgoing and definitive insights into the attributes that can render the song recital at once a great art and a magnificent entertainment.

Marc Blitzstein Leonard Lehrman, 2005-09-30 Marc Blitzstein was one of the 20th century's most important American composers lyricists and critics often credited with having virtually invented opera in the American vernacular. Called the father of American opera in the vernacular by luminaries Aaron Copland and Leonard Bernstein Blitzstein was a masterful pianist coach and accompanist though ironically he made more money on the lyrics to one song Mack the Knife than on everything else he ever did. Blitzstein's brilliant career was cut short in 1964 when he died at the age of 58. This book catalogs Blitzstein's own writings and writings about him followed by detailed listings chronological alphabetical and genre analysis a comprehensive performance history and summaries of all known critiques of his 128 original musical works and 18 texts set to the music of others. Shown in detail are the ways in which Blitzstein took music from his earlier works and developed it in later works a process that Lehrman utilized in completing with Bernstein's and the Estate's approval 20 Blitzstein works for performance including The Cradle Will Rock I've Got the Tune No for an Answer Idiot's First and Sacco and Vanzetti which Blitzstein believed would be his magnum opus. The book provides a unique and full perspective on the works of one of America's greatest composers one who deserves to be better known.
