Market Out Of Place Remaking Economic Social And Symbolic Boundaries In Post Communist Lithuania:

A Market Out of Place? Pernille Hohnen, 2003 A Market Out of Place? Pernille Hohnen, 2003 Pernille Hohnen has written a detailed ethnography of a Lithuanian market place in the mid 1990s and as such contributes significantly to the understanding of a phenomenon largely unaccounted for by anthropologists namely shuttle trading and a new form of transnationalism connected to the numerous outdoor markets that were established all over Eastern and Central Europe during the 1990s most of which still flourish Traders go as far as China India Turkey and Poland and bring back items for local consumption as well as for retail not only within the country but throughout the region The global extension of the local market is astonishing not least on account of the personal ingenuity invested in an uncertain business where one can only learn the hard way Furthermore by combining a synchronic analysis of the market with an analysis of changing trading practices during the crucial 10 year period of the 1990s the book sheds important light on processes of creativity and venture as well as on the more gradual institutionalization of trading practices such as trade routes trading routines technology and forms of political control Both traders and their environment tend to evaluate the market place as somehow outside civilized society The disorderly nature of the market epitomizes contested social hierarchies and cultural categories as well as privatized power relations in the form of racketeers which slowly gain legitimacy The analysis of the market place sheds light on changing discourses of ethnicity gender and work in Lithuanian society as well as contributing to a more thorough theoretical understanding of transition New Lithuania in Old Hands Ida Harboe Knudsen, 2012-05-01 Based on detailed ethnographic material New Lithuania in Old Hands analyzes the impact that European Union accession has had upon the country's aging smallscale farmers and describes how the reality of Lithuania's EU membership has been a far cry from the scenarios of wealth and overabundance once promised The text reveals that in many instances membership has resulted in a return to subsistence production increased insecurity and a reinforcement of kinship obligations Thus instead of treating the European Union as an elite project and voicing the support of various other segments of the population this volume shows how broad parts of the rural population have been affected by and engaged in processes of change following Lithuania's accession changes that threaten to have a large impact upon the future of the country's family structures and its farming demographic

Informal Trade, Gender and the Border Experience Olga Sasunkevich, 2016-05-23 Detailing the history of a well known phenomenon of post socialism cross border petty trade and smuggling as the history of a practice in daily life from a gendered perspective this book considers how changes in these practices in a particular border region between Belarus and Lithuania have been accompanied and to some extent provoked by changes in the border regime It looks at how the selective openness of the Belarus Lithuania border worked during different periods over the last twenty years and how it influenced the involvement of different social groups in shuttle trade practices Foremost this book considers how political borders implement and or intensify social boundaries and suggests that the selective openness of political borders a prerequisite for the existence of female shuttle trade activities is primarily built upon people's social characteristics. However, it claims that what can be seen as the grounds for growing inequality at a global level at a local one may have an important resourceful meaning for various social groups including those usually perceived as disadvantaged such as widowed female retirees or unemployed single women with children. A Handbook of Economic Anthropology Carrier, James G., 2022-05-13

This timely Research Agenda examines the ways in which public private partnerships PPPs in infrastructure continue to excite policy makers governments research scholars and critics around the world. It analyzes the PPP research journey to date and articulates the lessons learned as a result of the increasing interest in improving infrastructure governance. Expert international contributors explore how PPP ideas have spread transferred and transformed and propose a range of future research directions. The Journal of Legal Pluralism and Unofficial Law 62/2010 Melanie Wiber, 2011-08-18

Brauchler examines the Indonesian decentralisation process and the revival of tradition and cultural self determination in the Moluccas. Tuori studies restatements and codifications of customary laws in Africa. Harboe Knudsen considers European Union regulation of the marketing of dairy products in Lithuania. Douglas and Hersi examine the attitudes of Muslims to the smoking of khat. Simarmata studies the contrast between Indonesian state law and local officials practice regarding natural resources use in East Kalimantan. Mobilities, Boundaries, and Travelling Ideas Manja Stephan-Emmrich, Philipp Schröder, 2018-04-17

This collection brings together a variety of anthropological historical and sociological case studies from Central Asia and the Caucasus to examine the concept of translocality. The chapters scrutinize the capacity of translocality to describe in new ways the multiple mobilities exchange practices and globalizing processes that link places people and institutions in Central Asia and the Caucasus with others in Russia China and the United Arab Emirates. Illuminating translocality as a productive concept for studying cross regional connectivities and networks this volume is an important contribution to a lively field of academic discourse. Following new directions in Area Studies the chapters aim to overcome territorial containers such as the nation state or local community and instead emphasize the significance of processes of translation and negotiation for understanding how meaningful localities emerge beyond conventional boundaries. Structured by the four themes crossing boundaries travelling ideas social and economic movements and pious endeavours this volume proposes three conceptual approaches to translocality firstly to trace how it is embodied narrated virtualized or institutionalized within or in reference to physical or imagined localities secondly to understand locality as a relational concept rather than a geographically bounded unit and thirdly to consider cross border traders travelling students business people and refugees as examples of non elite mobilities that provide alternative ways to think about what global means today. Mobilities Boundaries and Travelling Ideas will be of interest to students and scholars of the anthropology history and sociology of Central Asia and the Caucasus as well as for those interested in new approaches to Area Studies. Border Encounters Jutta Lauth Bacas, William Kavanagh, 2013-10-01

Among the tremendous changes affecting Europe in recent

decades those concerning political frontiers have been some of the most significant International borders are being opened in some regions while being redefined or reinforced in others The social relationships of those living in these borderland regions are also changing fundamentally This volume investigates from a local ground up perspective what is happening at some of these border encounters face to face interactions and relations of compliance and confrontation where people are bargaining exchanging goods and information and maneuvering beyond state boundaries Anthropological case studies from a number of European borderlands shed light on the questions of how and to what extent the border context influences the changing interactions and social relationships between people at a political frontier Cross-Border Entrepreneurship and Economic Development in Europe's Border Regions David Smallbone, Friederike Welter, Mirela Xheneti, 2012-01-01 This volume is concerned with entrepreneurship and economic development in Europe's border regions focusing on the effects of EU enlargement on these regions both within the EU and in neighbouring countries Particular attention is paid to cross border entrepreneurial activity Cross border cooperation involving entrepreneurs is attracting increasing attention in Europe as EU enlargement has increased the length of its borders with the former Soviet republics The expert contributors highlight that border regions tend to be economically disadvantaged as a result of their peripherality which means that cross border cooperation for business purposes represents a potential development tool This groundbreaking book contains an empirical evidence base drawn from regions in EU member states and the Newly Independent States as well as providing a conceptual base for informed policy development This insightful book will prove invaluable for academics and students of entrepreneurship economics development and European studies Everyday Culture in Europe Máiréad Nic Craith, 2016-04-15 This book discusses the history and contemporary practice of studying cultures at home by examining Europe's regional or small ethnologies of the past present and future With the rise of nationalism and independence in Europe ethnologies have often played a major role in the nation building process The contributors to this book offer case studies of ethnologies as methodologies showing how they can address key questions concerning everyday life in Europe They also explore issues of European integration and the transnational dimension of culture in Europe today and examine how regional ethnologies can play a crucial part in forming a wider European ethnology as local participants have experience of combining identities within larger regions or nations Translocality, Entrepreneurship and Middle Class Across Eurasia Philipp Schröder, 2024-04-24 Translocality Entrepreneurship and Middle Class Across Eurasia is a comprehensive multi sited ethnography about the unfolding of capitalism across Eurasia and the advent of a new middle class since the late Soviet era Based on extensive fieldwork the book follows three generations of ethnic Kyrgyz in three distinct eras and sites The early bazaar traders of Novosibirsk Russia the post 2000 middlemen operating in Guangzhou China and the new entrepreneurs who have emerged at home in Kyrgyzstan around 2015 The book advocates translocality as an innovative concept to better understand the dialectic of mobility and emplacement in contemporary livelihoods and value chains that transgress not only political borders but also less tangible socio cultural boundaries Through this lens the chapters forcefully demonstrate how ways of business making align or conflict with notions of ethnic belonging diaspora sociability or gender in and in between various locations Proposing the imaginary of commercial journeys the book documents the aspirations adjustments and struggles of an emergent middle class whose neoliberal subjectivity is inspired by a flexible entrepreneurial spirit of Kyrgyzzness and who navigate in a market environment that recently has been shifting towards more actor diversification service orientation and rule based formalization This book will be of interest particularly to scholars in the fields of economic anthropology post socialist studies migration mobility and area studies with a focus on Central Asia and Eurasia

Food Culture and Politics in the Baltic States Diana Mincyte,Ulrike Plath,2018-11-09 This book focuses on food culture and politics in three Baltic States Estonia Latvia and Lithuania In popular and scholarly writings the Baltic states are often seen as a meat and potatoes kind of place inferior to sophisticated cuisines of the West and exotic diets in the East Such views stem from the long intellectual tradition that focuses on political and cultural centers as sources of progress But as a new generation of writers has argued in order to fully grasp the ongoing cultural and political changes we need to shift the focus from capital cities such as Paris Berlin Rome or Moscow to everyday life in borderland regions that are primary arenas where such transformations unfold Building on this perspective chapters featured in this book examine how identities were negotiated through the implementation of new food laws how tastes were reinvented during imperial encounters and how ethnic and class boundaries were both maintained and transgressed in Baltic kitchens over the course of the twentieth and early twenty first centuries In so doing the book not only explores culinary practices across the region but also offers a new vantage point for understanding everyday life and the entanglement between nature and culture in modern Europe This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Baltic Studies

Buchowski,Zden?k Uherek,2015-09-09 In eleven ethnographic chapters of Rethinking Ethnography in Central Europe examines how issues of global economic and cultural dependencies mobilities citizens activism social movements and socio political aspects of post socialist modernities articulate on the level of everyday discourse and practices

Gender Segregation Lena Gonäs,Jan Ch Karlsson,2016-12-05 This insightful volume asks if and to what extent gender divisions in working life are changing The contributors discuss the implications from a labour market perspective and a family work level perspective which are combined to examine if and where patterns of gender integration can be found Research from several European countries is presented as well as from the US to provide comparative and international perspectives A wide range of related issues are tackled including questions of methodology and measurement as well as segregation patterns welfare state provisions and the use of parental leave The volume provides suggestions for integration at different levels of society and by applying a multidisciplinary approach and illustrating developments on different analytical levels the authors further the discussion on how integration can be pursued The Routledge Companion to Gender and Borderlands Zalfa Feghali,Deborah Toner,2024-10-23 The Routledge Companion to Gender and Borderlands maps the relationship between gender and borderlands at a global scale and sets the agenda for developing a global composite field of gender and borderlands studies This interdisciplinary collection seeks to understand the complex nexus at which gender and the borderlands intersect modelling radical relationality at epistemological ontological and activist levels Going beyond border studies frequent site at the U S Mexico Border this book examines the power relations of borderlands as they play out in influence and reflect gender dynamics Contributors draw on case studies from around the world and their chapters span diverse fields from anthropology literature and history to political science religious studies sociology and the arts The Routledge Companion to Gender and Borderlands is an indispensable resource for scholars and students engaged in border studies gender studies and the wide range of interlocking disciplines that inform and enrich these fields Chapters 1 15 and 20 of this book are freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY 4 0 license Sex, Love, and Migration Alexia Bloch,2017-12-15 Sex Love and Migration goes beyond a common narrative of women s exploitation as a feature of migration in the early twenty first century a story that features young women from poor countries who cross borders to work in low paid and often intimate labor Alexia Bloch argues that the mobility of women is marked not only by risks but also by personal and social transformation as migration fundamentally reshapes women's emotional worlds and aspirations Bloch documents how as women have crossed borders between the former Soviet Union and Turkey since the early 1990s they have forged new forms of intimacy in their households in Moldova Ukraine Belarus and Russia but also in Istanbul where they often work for years on end Sex Love and Migration takes as its subject the lives of post Soviet migrant women employed in three distinct spheres sex work the garment trade and domestic work Bloch challenges us to decouple images of women on the move from simple assumptions about danger victimization and trafficking She redirects our attention to the aspirations and lives of women who despite myriad impediments move between global capitalist centers and their home communities

Material Culture and Authenticity Magdalena Craciun, 2020-05-26 The study of material culture demonstrates that objects make people just as much as people make exchange and consume objects But what if these objects are in the eyes of others only fakes What kind of material mirror are people looking into Are their real selves really reflected in this mirror This book provides an original and revealing study into engagements with objects that are not what they are claimed and presumed to be and subsequently are believed to betray their makers as well as users Drawing upon an ethnography of fake branded garments in Turkey and Romania Material Culture and Authenticity shows how people can make authentic positions for themselves in and through fake objects The book will be of interest to students and scholars working in the fields of anthropology material culture and cultural studies as well as to general readers interested in ethnographic alternatives to biographies of famous fakers and fakes

The Land of Weddings and Rain Gediminas Lankauskas, 2015-01-15 In The Land of Weddings and Rain Gediminas Lankauskas examines the components of the contemporary urban wedding religious and civil ceremonies traditional imagery and practices and the conspicuous consumption of domestic and imported goods in the context of the Western style modernization of post socialist Lithuania Studying the tensions between tradition and modernity that surround this important ritual event Lankauskas highlights the ways in which nationalism serves to negotiate the impact of modernity in the aftermath of state socialism's collapse His analysis also shows the importance of consumption and commodification to Lithuania's ongoing Westernization Based on more than a decade of ethnographic research The Land of Weddings and Rain is a fascinating account of the tensions between national and transnational East and West and old and new that shape life in post socialist Eastern Europe
