Modernism, Inc Jani Scandura, Michael Thurston, 2001 Drawing on a variety of interdisciplinary debates in cultural studies and contemporary theory Modernism Inc provides a new look at the relationship between modernism and postmodernism within the critical frame of twentieth century American culture Organized around the idea of incorporation embodiment repressed memory and advanced capitalism Modernism Inc covers a wide range of topics Josephine Baker's hot house style the president's penis in American political life myth making and the Hoover Dam trauma poetics and the Armenian genocide feminist kitsch and the recuperation of North America's Great Lady painters Gertrude Stein and Jewish Social Science the Reno Divorce Factory and the production of gender Andy Razaf and Black Bolshevism Collectively the essays suggest that the relationship between the modern and the postmodern is not one of rupture belatedness dilution or extremity but of haunting Modernism Inc looks at our ghosts and at the unspeakable secrets of modernity from which they re derived Contributors Maria Damon Walter Kalidjian Walter Lew Janet Lyon William J Maxwell Cary Nelson John Timberman Newcombe David G Nicholls Thomas Pepper Paula Rabinowitz Daniel Rosenberg Marlon Ross Jani Scandura Kathleen Stewart Julia Walker

Extravagances Cristina Giorcelli, Paula Rabinowitz, 2015-12-01 This final volume in the four volume series Habits of Being shows how the dialectic between everyday appearance and outrageous acts is mediated through clothing and accessories. It considers how clothing and accessories can move quickly from the ordinary to the extravagant. Employing many different approaches, these essays explore how wearing an object—a crown, a flower, an earring, a corsage, a veil—even a length of material can stray beyond the bounds of the body on which it is placed into the discrepant territory of flagrantly excessive public signs of love, status, honor, prestige, power, desire, and display. The varied contributions of scholars, historians, ethnographers, literary and film critics, and artists, photographers, sculptors, writers, weavers, and embroiderers take up the threads of these forays into history, psyche, and aesthetics in surprising and useful ways. With examples from around the world, contributors address how the simple action of ornamenting the body, even with something as common as a button, is open to elaborate interpretations which themselves offer new understandings of human behavior and artistic endeavor. When our habits of being receive close scrutiny, they seem anything but habitual.

The Canadian Modernists Meet, Dean Irvine, 2005-07-12. The Canadian Modernists Meet is a collection of new critical essays on major and rediscovered Canadian writers of the early to mid twentieth century. F. R. Scott's well-known poem "The Canadian Authors Meet" sets the theme for the volume: a revisiting of English Canada's formative movements in modernist poetry, fiction, and drama. As did Scott's poem, Dean Irvine's collection raises questions about modernism and antimodernism, nationalism and antinationalism, gender and class, originality and influence that remain central to contemporary research on early to mid twentieth century English Canadian literature. Published in English.

Modernism's Other Work, Lisa Siraganian, 2015. Modernism's Other Work challenges our view of relationships between aesthetic autonomy and the world of daily life, a conjuncture that Lisa Siraganian demonstrates has often been misunderstood in critical studies of modernism. Connecting poetry to the visual arts and politics, the author provides new ways to think about modernist art's relationship.

Dwell, 2003-09. At Dwell, we're staging a minor revolution. We think that it's possible to live in a house or apartment by a bold modern architect, to own furniture and products that are exceptionally well designed and still be a regular human being. We think that good design is an integral part of real life. And that real life has been conspicuous by its absence in most design and architecture magazines.

Making the Modern, Terry Smith, 1993. Smith reveals how this visual revolution played an instrumental role in the complex psychological, social, economic, and technological changes that came to be known as the second industrial revolution. From the role of visualization in the invention of the assembly line to office and building design to the corporate and lifestyle images that filled new magazines such as Life and Fortune, he traces the extent to which the second wave of industrialization engaged the visual arts to project a new iconology.
