Pacific Defense Arms Energy And Americas Future In Asia:

Pacific Defense Kent E. Calder, 1996 Calder director of the Program on U S Japan Relations at Princeton shows how the rapidly increasing demands for energy especially nuclear energy in East Asia combines with political instability to produce a dangerous region Energy Security in Asia Michael Wesley, 2007-01-24 This book explores the various dimensions of energy security in Asia which has become an increasingly important geopolitical issue Reputable international contributors look at the roles played by each of the major energy importers the United States China Japan and India as well as the main suppliers the OPEC states Russia the Central Asian states and Australia In each case the domestic politics of energy security are investigated and state interests and perspectives on the issue are considered Analyzing the policy and security aspects of energy security the book includes an examination of the geopolitics of energy competition strategic economic and environmental dimensions the impacts of energy security on human security With energy security being one of the central issues facing the world today this book is a timely and impressive appraisal of the major energy security issues facing Asia

Identities and Security in East Asia Koro Bessho, 2013-09-13 East Asia has been relatively free from large scale conflict in the 1990s but the absence of security organisations or even of a sense of community within the region has raised doubts about its future security China and Japan are likely to bear much of the responsibility for maintaining stability but both countries have been reluctant to adopt a leadership role South east Asian states have been willing to take the initiative outside of their sub region but they possess neither the resources nor the authority to lead the whole of East Asia In the long term the ability to organise the region depends on greater clarity in the identity of leading states in the region and of the region as a whole This paper analyses the way in which issues of identity have affected the actions of the key players and assesses future challenges and possibilities in the search for regional security It concludes that Through the Association of South East Asian Nations ASEAN South east Asian states have developed a sense of confidence and unity However ASEAN s need to safeguard its newly acquired identity means that it has not exported the ASEAN way to the wider region of East Asia or the Asia Pacific The greater diversity that enlargement will bring and the effects of the crisis since 1997 are likely to make the Association s defensive instincts still more resistant to change In the 1990s Japan has sought to redefine its identity both in terms of its past and of its post war values such as pacifism and human rights This process has compelled Japan to face Asia more squarely and has increased the country s self assurance As a result it may become more willing to take the initiative in political and security as well as economic areas For China nationalism has become more important just as communism s position as the country s unifying ideology has eroded Beijing has tried to change the status quo in a forceful way By the close of the 1990s however China has become increasingly willing to act as a responsible world power A key test of this transformation will be Beijing s treatment of the Taiwan question The prospects for regional stability depend on Japan s ability to reform and return to growth The most pressing task is to revitalise East Asia s economies A return to prosperity

would encourage China's reform and opening process lessen Japan's introspection make disagreements between the South East Asian states less acute and allow the Asia Pacific region as a whole to move beyond both the triumphalism of the East Pacific and the resentment of the West Joint Force Quarterly ,1995 Joint Force Quarterly is published for the Chairman Joint Chiefs of Staff by the Institute for National Strategic Studies National Defense University to promote understanding of the integrated employment of land sea air space and special operations forces The journal focuses on joint doctrine coalition warfare contingency planning combat operations conducted by the unified commands and joint force development Pacific Asia? Melvin Gurtov,2002 Emphasizing human and environmental security over traditional power politics Mel Gurtov offers a provocative reinterpretation of security in the Asia Pacific region The author questions a number of prevailing assumptions such as the China threat a U S centered balance of power and the necessity of a greater Japanese security role He argues instead for a cooperative framework for future security that focuses on people's basic needs is sensitive to Asian nationalism and gradually replaces military power with developmental priorities With its concise appraisals of the security policies of the United States China Japan the two Koreas and the ASEAN countries this work will be a valued reference for policymakers scholars and students alike Island Disputes and Maritime Regime Building in East Asia Min Gyo Koo,2010-05-06 islands has emotional content far beyond any material significance because giving way on the island issue to Japan would be considered as once again compromising the sovereignty over the whole Korean peninsula For Japan the Dokdo issue may lack the same degree of strategic and economic values and emotional appeal as the other two territorial disputes that Japan has had with Russia and the two Chinas namely the Northern Territories Southern Kurile Islands and the Senkaku Islands respectively Nevertheless fishing resources and the maritime boundary issues became highly salient with the introduction of UNCLOS Also the legal political and economic issues surrounding Dokdo are all intertwined with Japan's other territorial disputes to the extent that concessions of sovereignty on any of these island disputes could jeopardize claims or negotiations concerning the rest South Korea and Japan have forged a deeper diplomatic and economic partnership over the past decade A new spirit of partnership after the landmark joint declaration of 1998 culminated in the successful co hosting of the World Cup 2002 At the end of 2003 the two neighbors began to negotiate an FTA to further strengthen their already close economic ties South Korea's decades long embargo on Japanese cultural products has now been lifted while a number of South Korean pop stars are currently sweeping across Japan creating the so called Korean Wave fever A pragmatic calculation of national interests would thus suggest cooperative behavior Japanese-Russian Relations, 1907-2007 Joseph Ferguson,2008-04-03 This book presents a comprehensive survey of Japanese Russian relations from the end of the Russo Japanese War until the present Based on extensive original research in Japanese and Russian sources it shows how the hopeful period of the late 1990s when acrimonious relations between the two briefly ceased was not in fact unique China and International Institutions Marc Lanteigne,2005-11-14 China has shifted its foreign policy from one that avoided engagement in international organizations to one that is now embracing them These moves present a new challenge to international relations theory How will the global community be affected by the engagement of this massive global power with international institutions This new study explores why China has chosen to abandon its previous doctrine of institutional isolation and details how it is currently unable to balance American power unilaterally and details an indirect path to greater power In addition it includes the first major analysis of the Shanghai Cooperation Organization comprising China Russia and most of Central Asia In contrast to many works on the rise of China question which place an emphasis on her material goods and powers this book delivers a new approach It shows how the unique barriers Beijing is facing are preventing the country from taking the traditional paths of territorial expansion and political economic domination in order to develop as a great power One of these barriers is the United States and its inherent military and economic strength The other is the existence of nuclear weapons which makes direct great power conflict unacceptably costly China has therefore opted for a new path using institutions as stepping stones to great power status This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of international relations world politics world history and Asia

Japan's Defense Policy and Bureaucratic Politics, 1976-2007 Takao Sebata, 2010-06-05 This book examines Japan's military expansion and the decision making of her defense policy between 1976 and 2007 It explores how the bureaucratic politics model applies to the case of Japan's defense policy and demonstrates some similarities and differences between Japanese

A Century of War and Peace Timothy L.H. McCormack, Michael Tilbury, Gillian D. Triggs, 2021-10-18 This the first volume in the new series Melbourne Studies in Comparative and International Law contains the revised and updated versions of papers presented to the Asia Pacific Regional Conference held at The University of Melbourne to commemorate the centenary of the 1899 Hague Peace Conference and the 50th anniversary of the 1949 Geneva Conventions Within the context of the Asia Pacific region the collection by a wealth of international scholars and expert practitioners explores the major issues addressed at the Conference in 1899 including the peaceful settlement of disputes international humanitarian law and arms control and disarmament
