Pacific Growth and Financial Interdependence Augustine H. H. Tan, Basant Kapur, 1986-01-01 Pacific Growth and Financial Interdependence , Financial Development and Cooperation in Asia and the Pacific Edward K. Y. Chen, Wendy Dobson, 2014-11-13 The 1997 Asian financial crisis exposed weaknesses in the region's national financial systems but since then East Asia has become the world's most dynamic economic region Domestic financial systems have developed cross border financial flows within the region are growing apace as demand from governments and large firms increases and as the capabilities of financial institutions develop and governments have initiated regional cooperation aimed at preventing future crises and managing them if they occur This book examines the economies of Asia and the Pacific with reference to financial reform and liberalization monetary policy frameworks banking and capital markets regulation and supervision and macroeconomic policies Further it asks what lessons have been learned from both the Asian financial crisis and the recent financial crisis how to engender financial stability in the region and how to ensure that the benefits of economic growth and financial development reach all members of society Across four key sections the chapters examine the future implications of historical studies of the relationships between financial development and growth financial development including banks non bank financial institutions and capital markets how financial stability is being sought in the region and China's plans for capital account opening and renminbi internationalization and subsequent the policy implications for China's neighbours This book draws on papers originally presented to the 36th Pacific Trade and Development Conference held in Hong Kong in 2013 and features contributions from leading academics and economists from around the world As such it will be of great interest to students and scholars of Asian economics Asia Pacific studies international economics and international finance

Asia-Pacific Diplomacy Lawrence T. Woods, 2011-11-01 The emergence of Asia Pacific regionalism as witnessed by the increasing influence of the Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation forum and the annual ASEAN Post Ministerial Conference highlights one of the major trends in late twentieth century geopolitics and international relations Asia Pacific Diplomacy traces the evolution of the Pacific economic cooperation movement by examining the diplomatic contributions of three international nongovernmental organizations INGOs the scholarly Pacific Trade and Development Conference PAFTAD the business oriented Pacific Basin Economic Council PBEC and the multipartite academic business and government Pacific Economic Cooperation Council PECC Lawrence Woods also provides a historical perspective by assessing the work of the Institute of Pacific Relations forerunner of the INGOs This book makes an important contribution to the study of international political and economic institutions It argues that as the regional cooperation movement expands at the governmental level an understanding of the nongovernmental roots of that movement is required if the diplomatic contributions of the INGOs are to be retained The Changing Capital Markets of East Asia Ky Cao, 1995-11-16 The contributors look at the growing sophistication of capital markets in East Asia and discuss the possible economic and political consequences International Strategies of Japanese Banks J. Thorsten Duser, 1990-09-13 Covering the years 1971-89 the book presents the first substantial analysis of the enormous international expansion of Japanese banks. It is therefore an invaluable source of information for academics and businessmen alike. The focus on their presence in Europe and the assessment of implications after 1992 is a perspective never applied before. Two and a half years of research in London, Frankfurt and Tokyo have resulted in the development of a systematic approach to identify the key pressures shaping their strategies.

Liberalization in the Process of Economic Development Lawrence B. Krause, Kihwan Kim, 1991-01-01 Economic growth in all developing countries is guided and often accelerated by generally intrusive policies implemented by governments intent on playing an active role in furthering development. As economies have grown and become more complex, however, even small market distortions are magnified and the tendency is to rely more heavily on the market for continued growth. In this volume, leading experts in economic development examine the variety of issues that arise as governments in some of the newly industrializing countries of Southeast Asia, such as South Korea, Taiwan, and Singapore, grapple with this difficult process of liberalization.

Economic Development in East and Southeast Asia Seiji Naya, Akira Takayama, 1990 This volume reflects the wide range of development issues and problems of the economies of East and Southeast Asia, whose dynamic performances have caught the attention of many around the world. It also serves to honour Professor Shinichi Ichimura for his dedication and many contributions to creating a better understanding of the development issues faced by the countries in the region. Both the editors and all of the contributors in this book have worked with Professor Ichimura at one time or another.

Manufacturing Miracles Gary Gereffi, Donald L. Wyman, 2014-07-14 Few observers of Mexico and Brazil in the 1930s or South Korea and Taiwan in the mid 1950s would have predicted that these nations would become economic miracles several decades later. These newly industrializing countries (NICs) challenge much of our conventional wisdom about economic development and raise important questions about international competitiveness and export success in manufacturing industries. In this volume, economists, sociologists, and political scientists seek to explain the growth of the NICs in Latin America and East Asia and to reformulate contemporary development theory through an in-depth analysis of these two dynamic regions. Gary Gereffi and Colin I. Bradford Jr. provide an overview of national development trajectories in Latin America and East Asia, while Barbara Stallings, Gereffi, Robert R. Kaufman, Tun-jen Cheng, and Frederic C. Deyo discuss the role of foreign capital, governments, and domestic coalitions in shaping development outcomes. Gustav Ranis, Robert Wade, Chi Schive, and Ren Villarreal look at the impact of economic policies on industrial performance, and Fernando Fajnzylber, Ronald Dore, and Christopher Ellison, with Gereffi, examine new agendas for comparative development research. Originally published in 1990, The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print-on-demand technology to again make available previously out-of-print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press. These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions. The goal of the

Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 ASEAN-China Economic Relations in the Context of Pacific Economic Development and Co-operation Siow Yue Chia, Bifan Cheng, 1992 Volume I of the series on ASEAN China Relations focused on trends and patterns in bilateral economic relations between ASEAN countries on the one hand and China on the other Volume II focused on macroeconomic and institutional developments in China and in selected sectors in ASEAN and China and their implications for bilateral economic relations This third volume focuses on developments in the global arena and in the Pacific and their impact on bilateral economic relations between ASEAN and China The papers cover the following economic developments in the Pacific region the economic role of Japan and the United States industrial restructuring in the Asian Newly Industrializing Economies the special role of Hong Kong prospects for Pacific economic cooperation and China's membership in GATT
