Pageants Of The African World:

Pageants of the African World Nigeria Magazine, 1980 The Pan-African Nation Andrew Apter, 2008-10-01 When Nigeria hosted the Second World Black and African Festival of Arts and Culture FESTAC in 1977 it celebrated a global vision of black nationhood and citizenship animated by the exuberance of its recent oil boom Andrew Apter's The Pan African Nation tells the full story of this cultural extravaganza from Nigeria's spectacular rebirth as a rapidly developing petro state to its dramatic demise when the boom went bust According to Apter FESTAC expanded the horizons of blackness in Nigeria to mirror the global circuits of its economy By showcasing masks dances images and souvenirs from its many diverse ethnic groups Nigeria forged a new national culture In the grandeur of this oil fed confidence the nation subsumed all black and African cultures within its empire of cultural signs and erased its colonial legacies from collective memory As the oil economy collapsed however cultural signs became unstable contributing to rampant violence and dissimulation The Pan African Nation unpacks FESTAC as a historically situated mirror of production in Nigeria More broadly it points towards a critique of the political economy of the sign in postcolonial Africa Black Theatre Paul Carter Harrison, Victor Leo Walker (II.), Gus Edwards, 2002-11-08 Generating a new understanding of the past as well as a vision for the future this path breaking volume contains essays written by playwrights scholars and critics that analyze African American theatre as it is practiced today Even as they acknowledge that Black experience is not monolithic these contributors argue provocatively and persuasively for a Black consciousness that creates a culturally specific theatre This theatre rooted in an African mythos offers ritual rather than realism it transcends the specifics of social relations reaching toward revelation The ritual performance that is intrinsic to Black theatre renews the community in Paul Carter Harrison's words it reveals the Form of Things Unknown in a way that binds cleanses and heals A Beautiful Pageant D. Krasner, 2016-09-27 The Harlem Renaissance was an unprecedented period of vitality in the American Arts Defined as the years between 1910 and 1927 it was the time when Harlem came alive with theater drama sports dance and politics Looking at events as diverse as the prizefight between Jack Johnson and Jim White Hope Jeffries the choreography of Aida Walker and Ethel Waters the writing of Zora Neale Hurston and the musicals of the period Krasner paints a vibrant portrait of those years This was the time when the residents of northern Manhattan were leading their downtown counterparts at the vanguard of artistic ferment while at the same time playing a pivotal role in the evolution of Black nationalism This is a thrilling piece of work by an author who has been working towards this major opus for years now It will become a classic that will stay on the American history and theater shelves for years to come Native American Princess Pageants Sebahattin Ziyana, Steven Aicinena, 2024-10-15 This book delivers a systematic investigation of Native American princess pageants exploring when and why they started how they spread across and within Native American communities the ways in which these pageants differ from other contests such as Miss USA the workings of the pageants themselves and their socio cultural costs and benefits Beauty around the

In 2000 the United States census allowed respondents for the first time to tick a box marked African American in the race category The new option marked official recognition of a term that had been gaining currency for some decades Africa has always played a role in black identity but it was in the tumultuous period between the two world wars that black Americans first began to embrace a modern African American identity Following the great migration of black southerners to northern cities after World War I the search for roots and for meaningful affiliations became subjects of debate and display in a growing black public sphere Throwing off the legacy of slavery and segregation black intellectuals activists and organizations sought a prouder past in ancient Egypt and forged links to contemporary Africa In plays pageants dance music film literature and the visual arts they aimed to give stature and solidity to the American black community through a new awareness of the African past and the international black world Their consciousness of a dual identity anticipated the hyphenated identities of new immigrants in the years after World War II and an emerging sense of what it means to be a modern American
