one of the most important and innovative studies of south western Native Americans First class in the best ethnographic tradition It fills a great gap in our anthropological knowledge and deserves to be one of the most used of American tribal records Ruth Benedict author of Patterns of Culture The Painted Lady Lucinda Baker,1998 Hale Lochland owner of one of San Francisco s painted lady mansions hires professional organizer Cassie MacTavish to help him get the house ready to be featured on a popular television show but the two clash about absolutely everything except their growing feelings for one another Welcome Home Jeffrey V Perry,2009-04-29 Welcome Home is a book of poetic works that brings us unto today Although home is a place of no particular time we encounter life experiences in our many roles in life and we must remain grounded in values love and hate the things we disapprove of that can influence how we determine and set our values But we are ultimately responsible each and everyone of us for what we do and together what is done Welcome Home reminds us who we are We can go elsewhere but we still remain who we start out as We must regroup revitalize and be reborn from humble beginnings again Visions of Alterity Elke D'hoker,2004 Visions of Alterity Representation in the Works of John Banville offers detailed and original readings of the work of the Irish author John Banville one of the foremost figures in contemporary European literature It investigates one of the fundamental concerns of Banville s novels mediating the gap between subject and object or self and world in representation By drawing on the rich history of the problem of representation in literature philosophy and literary theory this study provides a thorough insight into the rich philosophical and intertextual dimension of Banville s fiction In close textual analyses of Banville s most important novels it maps out a thematic development that moves from an interest in the epistemological and aesthetic representation of the world in scientific theories over a concern with the ethical dimension of representations to an exploration of self representation and identity What remains constant throughout these different perspectives is the disruption of representations by brief but haunting glimpses of otherness In tracing these different visions of alterity in Banville s solipsistic literary world this study offers a better understanding of his insistent and thought provoking exploration of what it means to be human Religion and Spirituality for Diverse Women Thema Bryant-Davis,Asuncion Miteria Austria,Debra M. Kawahara,Diane J. Willis Ph.D.,2014-09-30 This collection of essays considers the role of spirituality and religion in the lives of American women from various ethnic backgrounds showing how faith empowers those in populations often marginalized in the United States Religion and spirituality are sources of strength and resilience for many women particularly ethnically diverse women This thought provoking text examines this psychological trend exploring the specific ways in which women from diverse backgrounds have benefited from their faith traditions the various spiritual pathways they have chosen and the impact of those choices on their lives Essays in this informative compilation show how women from African American Latina American Indian Asian American and Caucasian backgrounds recover from difficulties and traumas with the help of their faith Contributors consider why women are more likely to endorse religious engagement than men why ethnically marginalized women tap into spirituality for comfort more than any other population and why many believers embrace religion as a coping mechanism throughout their lives from adolescence to older adulthood The work suggests ways for counselors leaders and religious figures to utilize this knowledge to bolster the well being of those they serve The Sacred Selves of Adolescent Girls Evelyn L. Parker,2010-04-01

Adolescent girls between the ages of fifteen and eighteen shared with Parker and her co authors life stories that show how they struggle to make sense of their experiences of racism sexism classism and heterosexism in light of their belief in God or their concept of a higher divine power The groups of adolescent girls interviewed include Korean Americans African Americans Native Americans Latinas working class whites and lesbians The closing chapter revisits the prominent themes from each chapter challenging those concerned about fostering a spirituality that is life giving for girls who struggle with racism classism sexism and heterosexism In addition it explores the concepts of realization resistance resilience and ritual as four essential components for nurturing a wholesome spirituality in adolescent girls Hope in a Jar Kathy

Peiss,2011-11-29 How did powder and paint once scorned as immoral become indispensable to millions of respectable women How did a kitchen physic as homemade cosmetics were once called become a multibillion dollar industry And how did men finally take over that rarest of institutions a woman s business In Hope in a Jar historian Kathy Peiss gives us the first full scale social history of America s beauty culture from the buttermilk and rice powder recommended by Victorian recipe books to the mass produced products of our contemporary consumer age She shows how women far from being pawns and victims used makeup to declare their freedom identity and sexual allure as they flocked to enter public life And she highlights the leading role of white and black women Helena Rubenstein and Annie Turnbo Malone Elizabeth Arden and Madame C J Walker in shaping a unique industry that relied less on advertising than on women s customs of visiting and conversation Replete with the voices and experiences of ordinary women Hope in a Jar is a richly textured account of the ways women created the cosmetics industry and cosmetics created the modern woman
