Painting The American Landscape:

Nature and Culture Barbara Novak, 2007-02-12 In this richly illustrated volume featuring more than fifty black and white illustrations and a beautiful eight page color insert Barbara Novak describes how for fifty extraordinary years American society drew from the idea of Nature its most cherished ideals Between 1825 and 1875 all kinds of Americans artists writers scientists as well as everyday citizens believed that God in Nature could resolve human contradictions and that nature itself confirmed the American destiny Using diaries and letters of the artists as well as quotes from literary texts journals and periodicals Novak illuminates the range of ideas projected onto the American landscape by painters such as Thomas Cole Albert Bierstadt Frederic Edwin Church Asher B Durand Fitz H Lane and Martin J Heade and writers such as Ralph Waldo Emerson Henry David Thoreau and Frederich Wilhelm von Schelling Now with a new preface this spectacular volume captures a vast cultural panorama It beautifully demonstrates how the idea of nature served not only as a vehicle for artistic creation but as its ideal form An impressive achievement Barbara Rose The New York Times Book Review An admirable blend of ambition elan and hard research Not just an art book it bears on some of the deepest fantasies of American culture as a whole Robert Hughes Time Magazine American Landscape Painting Wolfgang 1893-1949 Born, 2021-09-09 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public To ensure a quality reading experience this work has been proofread and republished using a format that seamlessly blends the original graphical elements with text in an easy to read typeface We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant Painting the American Landscape Carl Stricker, 19?? American Landscape Painting , 1970 American Landscape Painting Wolfgang Born, 2011-12 Nature and Culture Barbara Novak, 2007-01 In this illustrated volume including a number of stunning color prints the author explains that for fifty extraordinary years American society bestowed in the idea of Nature its most cherished ideals Between 1825 and 1875 all kinds of Americans artists writers scientists as well as everyday citizens believed that God in Nature could resolve human contradictions and that nature itself confirmed the American destiny During these years Nature God and Man converged to become a trinity and it was through the landscape painters the leaders of this intellectual movement that the nation was reminded of divine benevolence by keeping before their eyes the mountains trees forests and lakes Using diaries and letters of the artists as well as quotes from literary texts journals and periodicals the author illuminates the range of ideas projected on to the American landscape by painters such as Thomas Cole Albert Bierstadt Frederic Edwin Church Asher B Durand Fitz Hugh Lane and Martin J Heade and writers such as Ralph Waldo

Emerson Henry David Thoreau William Wordsworth Theodore Rousseau and Frederich Wilhelm Schelling Adding a new dimension to the discussion of nature s influence on the American mind she explains how religion philosophy science and literatrue served as the support system for the idea of God in Nature She shows that the idea of nature as a national vested interest was invaluable to a young expanding nation but ultimately this essentially monolithic view collapsed from within undermined by the Civil War Darwinism and a burgeoning technological landscape Taking American landscape painting in its golden era as a product of society she examines the cultural background of paintings as an index to their intrinsic meaning She explains for example how new discoveries in science were made consonant with Deity how religion itself permeated nature with the idea of Creation and how the landscape artists were given the task of providing the images of nature that became the national iconography She goes on to demonstrate how American landscapists handling rocks clouds plants and other natural elements paralleled and diverged from scientific developments and also how the landscapists who accompanied explorers on their westward expeditions related to their scientific colleagues With a new introduction this volume encompasses a vast cultural panorama It demonstrates how the influence of the nature served not only as a vehicle for artistic creation but as its ideal form
