The Mythic Forest, the Green Man and the Spirit of Nature Gary R. Varner, 2006 Mankind has given a recognizable face to the awesome and impalpable forces of nature in the image of the Green Man and the nature spirits that this book explores The ways in which different societies and different craftsmen have depicted these spirits display the wide creative range of the human imagination but the persistence of the theme suggests that in all their many facets these spirits represent a deep primordial sense that humans have shared since civilization began For the very origin and message of these images have remained the same even if somewhat altered over time Traditional customs from around the world from the rites that celebrate spring and egg on the forces of fertility to folk health remedies and the use of talismans to ward off illness and other evils show some surprising similarities and hint at the shared origins of human culture Even though the original significance of many customs has been lost or diluted they still hold an appeal and many towns even today are re introducing seasonal fairs to recreate the link between man and nature Varner presents examples ancient and new from Europe and Asia East Coast and West and identifies in particular the different guises of the Green Man who has figured in architecture since before the advent of Christianity and still makes his appearance today peering out from behind his leaves on California banks and New York brownstone houses

Nature Timothy Hessel-Robinson,Ray Maria McNamara,2011-08-01 Spirit and Nature is a collection of essays exploring how the resources of Christian spirituality can inform the practice of a more ecologically sustainable faith Our current ecological situation calls for people of religious faith to reexamine the way they envision the practice of spirituality As environmental ethicists have called us to reconsider the human Earth relationship so that the planet is not seen as simply an endless supply of resources to fill human wants and needs so these essays call us to reconsider spiritual practice as it relates to Earth s ecology Rather than viewing spirituality as an escape from the material world the authors describe the embodiment of the God quest within the human nature relationship Drawing on diverse disciplinary perspectives these essays examine a variety of topics including the relationship between Earth and humans in the Bible the role of nature s beauty in Christian spirituality the practice of Christian discernment and contemplation in light of the natural sciences the role of nature in liturgical prayer and others These essays consider how scholarship in Christian spirituality can contribute to re imaging faith in ways that better cherish the Earth s fragile beauty Egeria, or The spirit of nature; and other poems Charles Mackay,1850

Magazine The Spirit of the Brush Sungsook Hong Setton, 2017-06-15 Chinese ink painting is one of the oldest continually practiced art forms in the world. It first appeared in China in the fifth century and soon traveled to Korea and then to Japan. As old and deeply rooted in East Asian aesthetics and meditation as it is, ink painting is credited with influencing the development of Western modern art. Its minimalist approach to painting continues to have enormous appeal. Artist and teacher Sungsook Setton, who learned the techniques with Chinese and Korean masters in her native South Korea, brings new excitement to this age-old art. While teaching the traditional disciplines for holding and using the brush, she shows students how to turn the techniques and inner meditation toward interpreting their own world: city views, music, and the essence of contemporary life.

Transforming Traditions in Modern Chinese Painting Jason C. Kuo, 2004 Modern Chinese painting embodies the constant renewal and reinvigorations of Chinese civilization amidst rebellions, reforms, and revolutions, even if the process may appear confusing and bewildering. It also demonstrates the persistence of tradition and limits of continuities and changes in modern Chinese culture. Most significantly, it compels us to ask several important questions in the study of modern Chinese culture: How extensively can cultural tradition be reinterpreted before it is subverted? At what point is creative reinvention an act of betrayal of tradition? How has selective borrowing from Chinese tradition and foreign culture enabled modern Chinese artists to sustain themselves in the modern world? By focusing on the art of Huang Binhong (1865-1955), particularly his late work, this book attempts to provide some answers to these questions.
