Le iniziative qui raccolte promosse da studiosi afferenti ad università e istituti di ricerca sono rappresentative di vari campi e settori di interesse di diversi approcci sul piano metodologico delle strategie di comunicazione e della strumentazione applicata e consentono di riflettere sulle reali possibilità dei mezzi al servizio della storia dell'arte. Obreros de la Vida Eterna Francisco Cándido Xavier, Soltar para volar Gloria Sierra Uribe, 2010. The Double Strand Frank Dauster, 2021-10-21 Two strands one indigenous the other imposed produce the poetic and cultural tensions that give form to the work of five contemporary Mexican poets. All Chumacero Efraín Huerta Jaime Sabines Rubén Bonifaz Nuno and Rosario Castellanos. Although all five are significant figures only Castellanos has yet been widely studied in the United States primarily for her novels and her relations with the feminist movement. In spite of a number of rather basic differences in their work these poets share and write within a complicated culture rooted in both the pre-Hispanic and the European traditions. Their poetry reflects this in its emphasis on death as a constant presence and in the echoes of both Aztec ritual poetry and European poetry. Although apparently very different formally and thematically the five share a number of concerns. Each of them writes out of a contradictory inner tension each is preoccupied with the effort to shape language as part of a personal voyage of discovery each is haunted by death and seeks realization or plenitude through love of some kind. And each of them ultimately finds there is no escape. As Frank Dauster concludes The poetry of Mexico like its people and its society reflects the fusion of two worlds and these complex poets of the double strand operate freely and imaginatively within it. Although addressed primarily to specialists in Latin American literature The Double Strand also speaks to those interested in the complex interaction between two widely differing cultural heritages and in the rich fusion this blending produces in Mexican letters.

developments in iconography and stylistic expression across a wide range of media Despite the complex political situation in late 10th century Europe a period marked by chaos in some areas and the effective exercise of authority in others the last quarter of the century saw an apparent upsurge in artistic production in the Empire southern Britain Lombardy the Alps and the Mediterranean albeit one whose survival rate is low The decades after the millennium have left a larger residue of work notably in France Catalonia and northern Italy but were the 1020s artistically more dynamic than the 980s How might we describe the cultural climate of the Latin West between c 970 and c 1030 Individual chapters examine the influence of Carolingian art on artistic production around 1000 the emergence of new approaches to architecture in France Germany England and northern Italy and the response of artists to perceived order and disorder at the turn of the millennium There are studies of architectural sculpture in Catalonia and Castile new town foundation in Saxony and monastic architecture in southern Britain together with examinations of Ottonian sarcophagi book covers in gold and ivory the wall paintings at Reichenau the patronage of Willigis at Mainz and Robert the Pious in northern France the early Romanesque of Poland and Hungary and the reflection of a new type of affective piety in the manuscript illumination of late Anglo Saxon England Romanesque and the Year 1000 presents a wealth of new research in artistic production at a critical period and is of interest to art historians archaeologists and historians alike

Transition Cinema Jessica L. Stites Mor, 2012-05-27 In Transition Cinema Jessica Stites Mor documents the critical role filmmakers the film industry and state regulators played in Argentina's volatile and unfinished transition from dictatorship to democracy She shows how during periods of both military repression and civilian rule the state moved to control political film production and its content distribution and exhibition She also reveals the strategies that the industry independent filmmakers and film activists employed to comply with or circumvent these regulations Stites Mor traces three distinct generations of transition cinema each defined by a seminal event that shifted the political economy of national filmmaking The first generation of filmmakers witnessed and participated in civil uprisings such as the Cordobazo in 1969 and faced waves of repression violence and censorship This generation gave rise to vibrant underground exhibitions and film clubs and eventually became symbolically linked to the Peronist Left and radical militancy Following the 1983 return to civilian rule a second generation of political filmmakers emerged at the center of public debates when Buenos Aires became the locus for state level cultural programs to address human rights and collective memory Building on that legacy a third generation of filmmakers explored new modes of activist and political filmmaking aided by digital technology They pioneered new genres such as the street phenomenon of cine piquetero and introduced resistance politics and social movements into highly visible public spaces In this captivating work Stites Mor examines how social movements political actors filmmakers and government and industry institutions all became deeply enmeshed in the project of Argentina's transition cinema She demonstrates how film emerged as the chronicler of political struggles in a dialogue with the past present and future whose message transcended both cultural and national borders
