

THE POLITICAL SYSTEM OF THE UNITED STATES

The political system of the United States is a complex of many different parts, each of which has its own function to perform.

THE CONSTITUTION

The Constitution is the basic law of the United States. It sets out the principles on which the government is to be based, and it defines the powers of the different parts of the government. It is the foundation on which the whole political system is built.

THE PRESIDENT

- The President is the head of the executive branch of the government. He is elected by the people for a term of four years.
- The President has the power to appoint and dismiss judges, ambassadors, and other high officials.
- The President has the power to declare war and to make treaties with other countries.
- The President has the power to pardon criminals.
- The President is the commander-in-chief of the armed forces.
