Paul Cézanne, 1839-1906 Ulrike Becks-Malorny,2001 From banker to painter Cézanne and the Impressionists Harmony in parallel with nature Still lifes Mont Saint Victoire Latter years Journey to Joy Mouton, Sibis,2014-12-01 From learning how to jump obstacles on horseback in the Modern Pentathlon to competing in triathlons in France this is an action packed autobiography of a young South African athlete sharing her dream of becoming a world champion A dream which seemed impossible during the sports boycott against apartheid Dr Sibis Mouton speaks to us from the heart as she ranges from her childhood her family to her travels around the world and her internal journeys heart aches and victories Life experiences like swimming with the dolphins in the Miami Keys or photographing the famous Masai Mara migration in Kenya are given deeper spiritual significance and take us on a mystical journey to discover the meaning and purpose of life This is an uplifting and inspiring story that should convince the reader that life is indeed a miracle to be enjoyed and treasured Painting

Culture, Painting Nature Gunlög Fur, 2019-05-23 In the late 1920s a group of young Kiowa artists pursuing their education at the University of Oklahoma encountered Swedish born art professor Oscar Brousse Jacobson 1882-1966. With Jacobson's instruction and friendship the Kiowa Six as they are now known ignited a spectacular movement in American Indian art. Jacobson who was himself an accomplished painter shared a lifelong bond with group member Stephen Mopope 1898-1974 a prolific Kiowa painter, dancer and musician. Painting Culture Painting Nature explores the joint creativity of these two visionary figures and reveals how indigenous and immigrant communities of the early twentieth century traversed cultural, social and racial divides. Painting Culture Painting Nature is a story of concurrences. For a specific period immigrants such as Jacobson and disenfranchised indigenous people such as Mopope transformed Oklahoma into the center of exciting new developments in Indian art which quickly spread to other parts of the United States and to Europe. Jacobson and Mopope came from radically different worlds and were on unequal footing in terms of power and equality but they both experienced, according to author Gunlög Fur, forms of diaspora or displacement. Seeking to root themselves anew in Oklahoma the dispossessed artists fashioned new mediums of compelling and original art. Although their goals were compatible Jacobson's and Mopope's subjects and styles diverged. Jacobson painted landscapes of the West following a tradition of painting nature uninfluenced by human activity. Mopope in contrast strove to capture the cultural traditions of his people. The two artists shared a common nostalgia however for a past life that they could only re-create through their art. Whereas other books have emphasized the promotion of Indian art by Euro-Americans this book is the first to focus on the agency of the Kiowa artists within the context of their collaboration with Jacobson. The volume is further enhanced by full color reproductions of the artists' works and rare historical photographs.

Painting and Sculpture in Europe 1780-1880 Fritz Novotny, 1995-01-01 From the Classicism of Jacques Louis David to the Realism of Courbet and the Early Impressionism of Renoir this book outlines the course taken by painting and sculpture in Europe during the 19th century. Faced with the untidy sprawl of individualism which followed the French Revolution and threw up isolated geniuses like Goya the author nevertheless charts the currents in what was predominantly a century of Naturalism and also whilst artists were increasingly preoccupied with the inner man of great landscape painting when Friedrich Corot and the Impressionists proper added light and atmosphere to the former achievements of the great Dutch masters.

Painting Still Life in Oils Adele Wagstaff, 2015-05-31 Still life painting is an exciting genre which allows the artist to explore colour, shape and form using as many or as few objects as they like. A still life can be quiet, tranquil and contemplative in mood or be a celebration of pure colour and expression. This book introduces the genre using the medium of oil paint as a step by step process from painting simple compositions of one object to complex arrangements of more unusual subject matter. Each chapter focuses on a different aspect of preparing for a painting from studying a still life using a variety of drawing techniques to basic colour theory from painting with a limited tonal range to using the full impressionist palette. The compositions studied include traditional still life subjects and more unusual objects and advice is given on materials including how to stretch your own canvas The work of notable still life painters is used as inspiration for your work and the book introduces painting still life within the genre of portraiture Aimed at beginners and the more experienced untutored groups and individual artists and beautifully illustrated with 190 colour illustrations
