Perfect Parents Are Only In Detergent Ads:

The Financially Intelligent Parent Eileen Gallo, Ph.D., Jon Gallo, J.D., 2005-06-07 The essential guide to raising financially responsible children What parents say and do about money has a profound influence on children Here are the eight behaviors of financially intelligent parents that will help families of all economic backgrounds raise fiscally responsible children The Challenge of Children's Rights for Canada Katherine Covell, R. Brian Howe, 2006-01-01 Canada signed the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child over a decade ago yet there is still a lack of awareness about and provision for children's rights What are Canada's obligations to children How has Canada fallen short Why is it so important to the future of Canadian society that children's rights be met Prompted by the gap between the promise of children's rights and the reality of their continuing denial Katherine Covell and R Brian Howe call for changes to existing laws policies and practices Using the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child as their framework the authors examine the continuing problems of child poverty child care child protection youth justice and the suppression of children's voices They challenge us to move from seeing children as parental property to seeing children as independent bearers of rights In The Challenge of Children's Rights for Canada Canada's obligations and the rights of children are examined from the perspectives of research and development in the fields of developmental psychology developmental neuroscience law and family policy This timely and accessible book will be of interest to academics policy makers and anyone who cares about children and about taking children's rights seriously The Praeger Handbook of Media Literacy Art Silverblatt, 2013-11-26 This groundbreaking two volume set provides readers with the information they need to grasp new developments in the swiftly evolving field of media literacy The United Nations Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization UNESCO proclaimed media literacy a fundamental human right How fitting that there is finally a definitive handbook to help students and the general public alike become better informed more critical consumers of mass media In these A Z volumes readers can learn about methodologies and assessment strategies get information about sectors such as community media and media activism and explore areas of study such as journalism advertising and political communications The rapid evolution of media systems particularly digital media is emphasized and writings by notable media literacy scholars are included In addition to providing a wide range of qualitative approaches to media literacy analysis the handbook also offers a wealth of media literacy resources These include lists of media literacy organizations and national media literacy programs plus relevant books websites videos and articles Washington, Sept.-Oct. 1969 United States. National Commission on Product Safety, 1970 The Best Possible Experience Nishanth Injam, 2024-07-16 A MOST ANTICIPATED BOOK OF THE YEAR An emotionally rich collection of short stories painting a fascinating portrait of contemporary India and its diaspora and a yearning rendering of the people and places we call home from a major new literary talent A full hearted brilliant debut of necessary beauty Nana Kwame Adjei Brenyah author of Chain Gang All Stars and New York Times bestseller Friday Black

Injam's stories made me want to cast all else aside and return home. Megha Majumdar, author of A Burning, vivid, vibrant and unwaveringly affecting. The Best Possible Experience brings us intimate, impeccably realized accounts of individuals living in one of the most populous countries in the world and in its American diaspora, all haunted in every sense of the word by a loss of home. Classically elegant in prose and consistently modern in outlook, Nishanth Injam's stories question what it means to have a home and to return home and show above all that home is not a place so much as it is people who are ready to accept you as you are. We see a young man trapped on a bus on the way to visit his parents as his fellow passengers vanish into the restroom. A family newly in America determined to host a perfect luncheon for their son's white classmate with no idea what to serve him. A woman who returns to a small village in India every summer to visit the grandfather who raised her, a man who lives with the ghosts of his son and his wife. And a man preparing for his green card interview with the American woman he has paid to marry him. A sui generis talent, Injam first started writing after coming to the United States from India in his twenties. The Best Possible Experience, his profoundly personal debut collection, delivers a universal inquiry into the idea of belonging and preserves in writing the home he left behind before it was lost.

Global Marketing and Advertising Marieke de Mooij, 2021-09-22. Packed with cultural company and country examples, this book offers a mix of theory and practical applications covering globalization, global branding strategies, classification models of culture, and the consequences of culture for all aspects of marketing communications. The author helps define cross-cultural segments to better target consumers across cultures and features content on how culture affects strategic issues such as the company's mission statement, brand positioning strategy, and marketing communications strategy. It also demonstrates the centrality of value paradoxes to cross-cultural marketing communications and uses the Hofstede model or other cultural models to help readers see why strategies based on cultural relationships in one country cannot be extended to other countries without adjustments. Updates to the new edition include up-to-date research on new topics including culture and the media, culture and the Internet, and a more profound comparison of the different cultural models. Includes discussion of how Covid-19 has impacted globalization. More examples from major regions and countries from around the world. Broader background theory on how people use social media and extensive coverage of consumer behavior. A range of online instructor resources complement the book, including downloadable advertising images from the book, chapter-specific questions and key points, and video examples of advertising from around the world.

Advertising Strategy Tom Altstiel, Jean Grow, 2006. Advertising Strategy provides students with the experience of an actively teaching professor at one of the top advertising programs in the country and a working creative director/agency principle. Altstiel and Grow get right to the point by stressing key principles, illustrating them, and then providing practical information students and working professionals can use. Unlike many books that focus on only work created for large consumer accounts by mega agencies, this text also covers business-to-business, in-house, and small agency work. Key Features: Up-to-date examples; over half were produced in the last two years; Writing for the Internet.

Interactive Marketing the most comprehensive and up to date general copywriting text that covers the Internet Diversity discussion a whole chapter is devoted to these issues plus examples and case histories related to issues of diversity are woven throughout the text War Stories the authors tracked down some of the hottest professionals in the business and their anecdotes bring real world experience into each chapter They are part case history part lessons to be learned and sometimes very funny Words of Wisdom timely quotes from some of the most influential people in our business past and present These quotes bring key points to life in every chapter Who's Who short biographies of people mentioned in the book Located at the end of each chapter these blurbs sometimes include very personal information provided directly by these people
