The Eagle and the Phoenix - Coventry Stories for Young People Sheila Woolf, 2020-10-19 Coventry's coat of arms shows an eagle and a phoenix on either side of the famous elephant and castle why The eagle was the emblem of Lady Godiva's husband Leofric Earl of Mercia The earl and his countess are forever remembered in Coventry's distant past The phoenix a mythical bird which is born again from fire has become the symbol of the new Coventry rising from the ashes after so much of the city was destroyed by war In The Eagle and the Phoenix you can witness some of the dramatic moments in the history of Coventry through nine stories told by children who saw them Marcus the young Roman training horses at the Lunt Fort Thomas and Anne plotting with the imprisoned Mary Queen of Scots Daniel and William viewing a terrible hanging at Gibbet Hill Tilly the weaver and Amit the Sky Blues fan Take a journey into Coventry's past and imagine yourself there A History of the Church through its Buildings Allan Doig, 2020-12-10 The History of the Church through its Buildings takes the reader to meet people who lived through momentous religious changes in the very spaces where the story of the Church took shape Buildings are about people the people who conceived designed financed and used them Their stories become embedded in the very fabric itself and as the fabric is changed through time in response to changing use relationships and beliefs the architecture becomes the standing history of passing waves of humanity This process takes on special significance in churches where the arrangement of the space places members of the community in relationship with one another for the performance of the church's rites and ceremonies Moreover architectural forms and building materials can be used to establish relationships with other buildings in other places and other times Coordinated systems of signs symbols and images proclaim beliefs and doctrine and in a wider sense carry extended narratives of the people and their faith Looking at the history of the church through its buildings allows us to establish a tangible connection to the lives of the people involved in some of the key moments and movements that shaped that history and perhaps even a degree of intimacy with them Standing in the same place where the worshippers of the past preached and taught or in a space they built as a memorial touching the stone they placed or marking their final resting place holding a keepsake they treasured or seeing a relic they venerated probably comes as close to a shared experience with these people as it is possible to come Perhaps for a fleeting moment at such times their faces may come more clearly into focus Our Distance from God James D.

Herbert,2008-03-18 In this encounter between reflections on Christian theology and the history of art and music James D Herbert considers how specific works of art establish a relation between the divine and the earthbound audiences for whom the art was created He looks at five case studies over four centuries the architecture and artworks that glorified Louis XIV at Versailles the interaction of libretto and music in Richard Wagner s Ring of the Nibelung Claude Monet s enormous paintings of water lilies mounted at the Orangerie of Paris in 1927 the inaugural performance in 1962 of Benjamin Britten s War Requiem at the new Anglican cathedral in Coventry and Robert Wilson s recent installation based on the Passion 14 Stations
