

[Vision of public sphere model]

- Media as primary information sources and storytellers;
- Media as forums for social dialogue;
- Need open mass media system that is fully accessible;
- Ownership/control should be diverse;
- People citizens first, then consumers.

Public Television For Sale Media The Market And The Public Sphere:

Public Television For Sale William Hoynes, 2019-09-16 Public television is uniquely positioned in our country to contribute to the invigoration of democratic public life because ostensibly it is neither driven by the market nor dominated by the state In this comprehensive analysis of the forces that shape our public television system sociologist William Hoynes finds that public television increasi Public Broadcasting and the Public Interest Michael P. McCauley, B. Lee Artz, DeeDee Halleck, Paul E Peterson, 2016-09-16 As federal funding for public broadcasting wanes and support from corporations and an elite group of viewers and listeners rises public broadcasting s role as vox populi has come under threat With contributions from key scholars from a wide variety of disciplines this volume examines the crisis facing public broadcasting today by analyzing the institution s development its presentday operations and its prospects for the future Covering everything from globalization and the rise of the Internet to key issues such as race and class to specific subjects such as advertising public access and grassroots radio Public Broadcasting and the Public Interest provides a fresh and original look at a vital component of our mass media Public Television B. J. Bullert, 1997 Public television s original mandate required it to address issues of controversy and facilitate the inclusion of voices and perspectives from outside the established consensus Through detailed chronology the author of this text traces how far this obligation has been met Public Television in the Digital Era P. Iosifidis, 2007-07-12 By looking at a range of different European Public Television PTV broadcasters this book investigates the challenges that these broadcasters encounter in a competitive digital broadcasting environment and reveals the different policies and strategies that they are adopting in order to remain accountable competitive and efficient Public Television for Sale William Hoynes, 1994 Environmental Sociology Leslie King, Deborah McCarthy Auriffeille, 2009-03-16 Environmental Sociology intended for use in Environmental Sociology courses uses sociological methods and perspectives to analyze key environmental issues The reader is organized like an introduction to sociology reader and comprised of readings that are accessible to and interesting for undergraduates Routledge Handbook of Media Law Monroe Price, Stefaan Verhulst, Libby Morgan, 2013-01-04 Featuring specially commissioned chapters from experts in the field of media and communications law this book provides an authoritative survey of media law from a comparative perspective The handbook does not simply offer a synopsis of the state of affairs in media law jurisprudence rather it provides a better understanding of the forces that generate media rules norms and standards against the background of major transformations in the way information is mediated as a result of democratization economic development cultural change globalization and technological innovation The book addresses a range of issues including Media Law and Evolving Concepts of Democracy Network neutrality and traffic management Public Service Broadcasting in Europe Interception of Communication and Surveillance in Russia State secrets leaks and the media A variety of rule making institutions are considered including administrative and judicial entities within and outside government but also entities such as associations and corporations that generate binding rules The book assesses the emerging role of supranational economic and political groupings as well as non Western models such as China and India where cultural attitudes toward media freedoms are often very different Monroe E Price is Director of the Center for Global Communication Studies at the Annenberg School for the University of Pennsylvania and Joseph and Sadie Danciger Professor of Law and Director of the Howard M Squadron Program in Law Media and Society at the Cardozo School of Law Stefaan Verhulst is Chief of Research at the Markle Foundation Previously he was the co founder and co director with Professor Monroe Price of the Programme in Comparative Media Law and Policy PCMLP at Oxford University as well as senior research fellow at the Centre for Socio Legal Studies Libby Morgan is the Associate Director of the Center for Global Communication Studies at the Annenberg School for the University of Pennsylvania

Turning the Page David R. Coon, 2018-07-11 First runner up for the 2019 John Leo and Dana Heller Award from the Popular Culture Association Surprisingly Hollywood is still clumsily grappling with its representation of sexual minorities and LGBTQ filmmakers struggle to find a place in the mainstream movie industry However organizations outside the mainstream are making a difference helping to produce and distribute authentic stories that are both by and for LGBTQ people Turning the Page introduces readers to three nonprofit organizations that in very different ways have each positively transformed the queer media landscape David R Coon takes readers inside In the Life Media whose groundbreaking documentaries on the LGBTQ experience aired for over twenty years on public television stations nationwide Coon reveals the successes of POWER UP a nonprofit production company dedicated to mentoring filmmakers who can turn queer stories into fully realized features and short films Finally he turns to Three Dollar Bill Cinema an organization whose film festivals help queer media find an audience and whose filmmaking camps for LGBTQ youth are nurturing the next generation of queer cinema Combining a close analysis of specific films and video programs with extensive interviews of industry professionals Turning the Page demonstrates how queer storytelling in visual media has the potential to empower individuals strengthen communities and motivate social justice activism

The Political Economy of Television Sports Rights T. Evens, P. Iosifidis, P. Smith, 2013-08-27 Sport on television is big business but it is about more than just commerce Using a range of national case studies from Europe and beyond this book analyses the political economic social and regulatory issues raised in relation to the buying and selling of television sports rights

Subject to Change : Guerrilla Television Revisited Deirdre Boyle Professor of History New York University, 1997-02-25 Before the Internet camcorders and hundred channel cable systems predating the Information Superhighway and talk of cyber democracy there was guerilla television Part of the larger alternative media tide which swept the country in the late sixties guerilla television emerged when the arrival of lightweight affordable consumer video equipment made it possible for ordinary people to make their own television Fueled both by outrage at the day s events and by the writings of people like Marshall McLuhan Tom Wolfe and Hunter S Thompson the movement gained a manifesto in 1971 when Michael Shamberg and the raindance Corp published Guerilla Television As framed in this quixotic text the goal of the video guerilla was nothing less than a reshaping of the structure of information in America In Subject to Change Deidre Boyle tells the fascinating story of the first TV generation s dream of remaking television and their frustrated attempts at democratizing the medium Interweaving the narratives of three very different video collectives from the 1970s TVTV Broadside TV and University Community Video Boyle offers a thought provoking account of an earlier electronic utopianism one with significant implications for today s debates over free speech public discourse and the information explosion Switching Channels Richard E CAVES, Richard E Caves, Karen Guo, 2009-06-30 Media critics invariably disparage the quality of programming produced by the U S television industry But why the industry produces what it does is a question largely unasked It is this question at the crux of American popular culture that Switching Channels explores That's the Way It Is Charles L. Ponce de Leon, 2015-05-04 Ever since Newton Minow taught us sophisticates to bemoan the descent of television into a vast wasteland the dyspeptic chorus of jeremiahs who insist that television news in particular has gone from gold to dross gets noisier and noisier Charles Ponce de Leon says here in effect that this is misleading if not simply fatuous He argues in this well paced lively readable book that TV news has changed in response to broader changes in the TV industry and American culture It is pointless to bewail its decline That s the Way It Is gives us the very first history of American television news spanning more than six decades from Camel News Caravan to Countdown with Keith Oberman and The Daily Show Starting in the latter 1940s television news featured a succession of broadcasters who became household names even presences Eric Sevareid Walter Cronkite David Brinkley Peter Jennings Brian Williams Katie Couric and with cable expansion people like Glenn Beck Jon Stewart and Bill O Reilly But behind the scenes the parallel story is just as interesting involving executives producers and journalists who were responsible for the field s most important innovations Included with mainstream network news programs is an engaging treatment of news magazines like 60 Minutes and 20 20 as well as morning news shows like Today and Good Morning America Ponce de Leon gives ample attention to the establishment of cable networks CNN and the later competitors Fox News and MSNBC mixing in colorful anecdotes about the likes of Roger Ailes and Roone Arledge Frothy features and other kinds of entertainment have been part and parcel of TV news from the start viewer preferences have always played a role in the evolution of programming although the disintegration of a national culture since the 1970s means that most of us no longer follow the news as a civic obligation Throughout Ponce de Leon places his history in a broader cultural context emphasizing tensions between the public service mission of TV news and the quest for profitability and broad appeal Countervisions Darrell Y. Hamamoto, Sandra Liu, 2000 Spotlighting Asian Americans on both sides of the motion picture camera Countervisions examines the aesthetics material circumstances and politics of a broad spectrum of films released in the last thirty years This anthology focuses in particular on the growing presence of Asian Americans as makers of independent films and cross over successes Essays of film criticism and interviews with film makers emphasize matters of cultural agency that is the practices through which Asian American actors directors and audience members have shaped their own cinematic images One of the anthology s key contributions is to trace the evolution of Asian American independent film practice over thirty years Essays on the Japanese American internment and historical memory essays on films by women and queer artists and the reflections of individual film makers discuss independent productions as subverting or opposing the conventions of commercial cinema But Countervisions also resists simplistic readings of mainstream film representations of Asian Americans and enumerations of negative images Writing about Hollywood stars Anna May Wong and Nancy Kwan director Wayne Wang and erotic films several contributors probe into the complex and ambivalent responses of Asian American audiences to stereotypical roles and commercial success Taken together the spirited illuminating essays in this collection offer an unprecedented examination of a flourishing cultural production

Author note Darrell Y Hamamoto is Associate Professor in the Asian American Studies Program at the University of California Davis He is the author of Nervous Laughter Television Situation Comedy and Liberal Democratic Ideology Monitored Peril Asian Americans and the Politics of Television Representation and New American Destinies a Reader in Contemporary Asian and Latino Immigration Sandra Liu is a Ph D candidate in the Department of Ethnic Studies University of California Berkeley

Subject to Change Deirdre Boyle,1997 This is a history of guerilla television a form of TV which was part of an alternative media tide sweeping the United States in the 1960s Inspired by the fracturing issues of the decade and the theories and writings of various exponents guerilla television put forth utopian programming

The Internet in China Zixue Tai,2007-05-07 The Internet in China examines the cultural and political ramifications of the Internet for Chinese society The rapid growth of the Internet has been enthusiastically embraced by the Chinese government but the government has also rushed to seize control of the virtual environment Individuals have responded with impassioned campaigns against official control of information The emergence of a civil society via cyberspace has had profound effects upon China for example in 2003 based on an Internet campaign the Chinese Supreme People s Court overturned the ruling of a local court for the first time since the Communist Party came to power in 1949 The important question this book asks is not whether the Internet will democratize China but rather in what ways the Internet is democratizing communication in China How is the Internet empowering individuals by fostering new types of social spaces and redefining existing social relations

Media/Society

David Croteau, William Hoynes, Stefania Milan, 2011-05-24 In a society saturated by mass media from newspapers and magazines television and radio to digital video projects and the Internet iPods and TiVo most students possess a great deal of media knowledge and experience before they ever enter the classroom What they often lack however is a broader framework for understanding the relationship between media and society Media Society Industries Images and Audiences provides that context and helps students develop skills for critically evaluating both conventional wisdom and one's own assumptions about the social role of the media Previous editions of Media Society introduced thousands of students to a sociologically informed analysis of the media process The Fourth Edition builds on this success with new material on students as producers e.g. YouTube revised Internet resources the latest data on the media industry new examples from the independent media sector and updated discussions of media policy online media and independent media Media Society is unique among media texts in that it offers e A sociological approach that examines overarching relationships between the various components of the media process the industry its products audiences technology and the broader social world e An integrated study of mass media that looks at media technologies collective influences and connections between mass media issues that are often treated as separate e An examination of how economic and political constraints affect the media and how audiences actively construct their own interpretations of media messages
