Public Theology And Political Economy Christian Stewardship In Modern Society:

Public Theology and Political Economy Max L. Stackhouse, 1987 This well known Christian ethicist ably bridges the gap between theology and political economy proposing a theologically informed view of modern economic life He traces the emergence of modern Protestant and Catholic views of the economic order from anti slavery movements to contemporary Ecumenical themes He delineates the failures of socialist liberationist and laissez faire systems and retrieves the neglected contributions of such figures as Shailer Mathews and Walter Rauschenbusch while showing the continued relevance of Max Weber s view of economy and society for Christian ethics He concludes that Christian stewardship must cultivate and articulate a new public theology that will shape the structures and policies of public life Originally published in 1987 by Wm B Eerdmans Publishing Co

A Jewish Public Theology Abraham Unger,2018-10-15 A Jewish Public Theology draws from Halakhah Jewish law to address some of the most searing current policy issues Abraham Unger examines how Jewish tradition speaks to globalization and its attendant political and economic cleavages Classical Jewish thought sits on a perch outside of the defining parameters of the global political conversation and as such cannot be pigeon holed as populist leftist or rightist Judaism was born in antiquity and therefore predates by millennia these current ideological biases That intellectual distance both due to the long arc of Jewish history and outsider minority status as a tradition allows for a critical distance Unger explores how the Jewish tradition compels the living out of a public policy framework through the forging of equitable communities using arguments that go beyond political orthodoxies In this socially fragile era the possibility of that message offers a hopeful discourse of significant possibility for all humankind Moral Triumph Zhibin Xie,2023-01-17 This book addresses the issue of Christianity in public life in China through methodological and constructive approaches It aims to answer the following questions How does Christianity with its moral and spiritual resources engage in and contribute to public life in China How does Christianity operate amidst a background of religious diversity cultural and social dynamics and political realities in China The distinctive contribution of this book is that it moves beyond simple description and evaluation of what is happening in Chinese Christianity toward a constructive theology for the distinctive realities of Chinese culture society and politics This book proposes Christian public responsibility in order to identify the moral problems in Chinese public life It attempts to enhance a public face of Christianity in China theologically and ethically by activating Christian resources in response to public life and highlighting Christianity's moral impact on the state and civil society without the imposition of confessional bonds or the exercise of authoritarian control quoted from Abraham Kuyper This book relies on both methodological and constructive approaches to define the meaning of public theology while making theological efforts to engage in public issues constructively in the Chinese context Besides the Western Christian public theologians such as Kuyper Reinhold Niebuhr and Nicholas Wolterstorff this book extensively refers to Chinese resources such as Christian thinkers philosophers and social scientists etc to perceive public theology in China This new formulation of Christian public theology in China desires to engage with Chinese experiences struggles traditions and ideology such as Confucianism and communism when investigating moral responses to public issues such as social justice human rights and religious freedom A Christian co construction with philosophical and social scientific perspectives on public life will lead to the modification of moral vocabulary in Chinese public life The Cambridge Companion to Christian Political Theology Craig Hovey,Elizabeth Phillips,2015-11-20 This volume explores contemporary Christian political theology discussing its traditional sources its emergence as a discipline and its key issues A New Protestant Labor Ethic at Work Ken Estey,2011-01-01 Estey proposes a labor ethic that emphasizes the protest in Protestantism The purpose of this ethic is to interrupt the drudgery of the Protestant work ethic which Estey asserts is the dominant cultural ideal in the U S Protestantism must not be about capitulation to capitalism and a Protestant ethic that works must be one that questions and confronts authority in order to undo the newest and oldest forms of dehumanization as they pertain to workers labor issues and conditions in the workplace Christian Ethics at the Boundary Karen V. has been underexplored If the Holy Spirit is the agent of transformation in creation why have so many theologians neglected the Spirit's activity in the context of public theology One of the causes of such neglect derives from a long held belief in dualism or its assumption As a result generally speaking theologians have neglected the eschatological aspect of the Spirit's work over creation and instead have devoted much of their attention to the immanent spiritual aspect of the Spirit's work Hence a theology is needed that recaptures the eschatological aspect of the Spirit's work over creation and Colin E Gunton's pneumatology that is trinitarianly formulated and eschatologically conceived brings a fresh approach to public theology and moves us toward a full bodied holistic and trinitarian public theology that takes into account the triune God This study attempts to draw upon the resources uncovered in Gunton's pneumatology to outline applications for Christian engagement of the public square for the twenty first century The book concludes with criteria for discerning the Spirit's work in the public square to give us practical ways to see how the Spirit may be working in the public square for transformation
