Risk and Public Policy in East Asia Mutsuko Takahashi,2016-04-08 Contemporary Asian society is marked by social processes associated with the loss of stable economic growth and high employment family structures capable of caring for family members in need and governmental economic and political competence Post financial crisis job uncertainty and income and labor market polarization have become important issue in Asian societies Family structures are viewed as have been weakened with a corresponding rise in divorce and domestic violence Trust in the government is in decline Against this backdrop it is timely to review three critical issues 1 policies addressing work related risks and socio economic security 2 changes regarding the structure and stability of families and 3 issues concerning governance in times of weakened state capacity declining trust and the emergence of new politics Containing chapters written by international scholars this book introduces the concepts and theoretical approaches of risk and risk and governance and places them within the context of Asian societies Designing and Implementing Public Policy in Contemporary Society Dorota Szaban, Magdalena Zapotoczna, Piotr Pochyły, 2022-12-12 Public policies are an arena of collective actions that respond to the main problems of society They are understood as a cycle of decisions and actions of public administration aimed at achieving the desired benefits in the future They are mostly used when market mechanisms fail and are not able to deal with the problem on their own or when they do not work effectively enough The multiplicity of problems and the inadequacies in their solutions create opportunities for the emergence of new sectoral policies and interventions that address both entirely new and traditional phenomena of social life but require a new approach that recognizes the special importance of political factors The main objective of sectoral policies is to support the development of the identified key areas of development This anthology presents the ways of creating and implementing public policies related to educational demographic and social problems The Handbook of Social Policy James Midgley, Martin B. Tracy, Michelle Livermore, 2000 Comprises 33 papers grouped under five themes The Nature of social policy The History of social policy Social policy and the social services The Political economy of social policy and International and future perspectives on social policy New Directions in Saskatchewan Public Policy David McGrane, 2011 In this new scholarly compilation by David P McGrane established and emerging trends in Saskatchewan public policy are the foundation for setting new directions for the province in the 21st century In what direction should Saskatchewan be headed in the 21st century To answer this question academics from various disciplines at the University of Regina and University of Saskatchewan have come together to produce New Directions in Saskatchewan Public Policy the first edited book exclusively devoted to public policy in the province with chapters discussing taxation immigration agriculture urban affairs poverty reduction the social economy labour aging Aboriginal public administration and climate change The authors provide an analysis and description of the current policies of the Wall government and also look back to explore what the Romanow and Calvert governments did in these areas The overarching theme of the book is that despite the province's robust economic growth significant public policy challenges remain for the Saskatchewan provincial government The lesson is that economic growth does not magically solve entrenched societal problems and that economic prosperity will dissipate if worrisome social trends are left unchecked While many scholarly books shy away from prescription the authors of this book include sections in their chapters that set out new directions for policy development As such the book not only contains solid analysis of the present policy situation but also offers concrete ideas for future policy makers Private Interests, Public Policy, and American Agriculture William Paul Browne,1988 Ageing and Social Policy in Australia Allan Borowski,Sol Encel,Elizabeth Ozanne,1997-11-17 Industrialised countries worldwide have for years been confronting the prospect of a steadily ageing population This book first published in 1997 reflects the breadth of research into gerontology and analyses the major themes and issues in the area of ageing and social policy in both an Australian context and from an international comparative perspective Topics discussed include unemployment education and housing for the aged Added to this is the contemporary influence of multiculturalism and the challenge it poses to policies and programs that must cater for a growing diversity in the ageing population A special focus is given to the situation of women and Aboriginal Australians and the specific structural disadvantages they face This book is essential reading for students and policy makers in sociology social and public policy gerontology and public health Life-Course Implications of US Public Policy Janet Wilmoth,Andrew London,2021-05-24 There is a complex set of public policies and associated programs that constitute the social safety net in the United States In Life Course Implications of U S Public Policies the authors encourage others to systematically consider the influence of policies and programs on lives aging and the life course and how the consequences might vary by gender race ethnicity sexual orientation ability and social class The volume aims to foster an appreciation of how policy influences connect and condition the life course Chapters examine issues relating to health housing food security crime employment and care work amongst other issues and demonstrate how the principles of the life course perspective and cumulative inequality theory can be used to inform contemporary public policy debates Life Course Implications of U S Public Policies will be a great resource for students of gerontology sociology demography social work public health and public policy as well as policy makers researchers in think tanks and advocates who are concerned with age based policy Scoping Report for the Delta Export Water Contracting ,1987
