Brandon John Raphael Brandon, 1848 Collins Guide to English Parish Churches John Betjeman, 1958 St. Bride's Church London Gustav Milne, 2014-06-30 One of the first English attempts to mount the total research excavation of an urban parish church at blitz damaged St Bride s in Fleet Street in the City of London is recorded in this report St Bride s foundation date is earlier than indicated by surviving documentary records and highlights the complexity of its subsequent development Moreover it demonstrates how archaeology can significantly extend the history of such a relatively well documented building Professor Grimes died before completing his definitive report this report is as an attempt to make good that omission It is an assessment of the surviving field records and a re evaluation of 1950s finds together with an account of building recording at St Bride s in 1992 3 conducted by a team from University College London These excavations prove to be of more than local significance to medieval archaeologists It was on the site of St Bride s that the concept of a parish church s research excavation was first evolved after the rubble from dozens of churches bombed during the Second World War were usually carted away with little or no thought for archaeological recording Among many problems faced were the logistics of opening up a large internal area and exposing large groups of burials Evidence was found not only at foundation level in the ground but also in the standing fabric of the medieval building elements of which survive in the present standing building Detailed study of the finds recovered in 1952 4 also proved rewarding and reports on the pottery moulded stones tiles grave covers glass and coins are included Register of Baptisms in the Dutch Church at Colchester from 1645 to 1728 Colchester (England). Neder duytsche gemeente, 1905 The Herald and Genealogist , 1866 Medieval Church Architecture Jon Cannon, 2014-07-10 Britain is a treasure trove of medieval architecture Almost every village and town in the land has a church that was built during the period whose history is legible to those who know how to look in every arch capital roof vault and detail of window tracery By learning how to identify the stylistic phases that resulted from shifts in architectural fashion it is possible to date each part of a church to within a decade or two this book introduces all the key features of each succeeding style from Anglo Saxon and Norman through to the three great gothic styles Early English Decorated and Perpendicular It will be indispensable to anyone who enjoys exploring medieval churches and who wants to understand and appreciate their beauty more deeply Construction ,1915 Chronicles of a city church, an account of the parish church of St. Dunstan in the East Thomas Boyles Murray,1859

A Noble Way To Go Robert Dunning,2020-05-29 Owners of estates and titles in the peerages of England Scotland and Ireland were more rather than less likely than ordinary people to experience dramatic and gruesome deaths and certainly more likely to have them recorded This study drawing on the pages of The Complete Peerage describes some 7 000 such deaths revealing when where and how they occurred and how they were commemorated In the Middle Ages war execution imprisonment plague poison and sheer misfortune brought an end to many noble lives In the sixteenth century wars executions and murders continued to take their toll alongside affrays or skirmishes so often blamed for deaths in Scotland and Ireland and ill health in amazing variety Wars at home at sea and abroad were fatal for many in the seventeenth century wars overseas in the eighteenth but by then death from too much food or drink was much more common and death in fashionable mansions in London s west end more usual than in ancestral castles In the nineteenth century came deaths in remarkable places sometimes very suspicious The Wiltshire Archaeological and Natural History Magazine ,1869 Includes proceedings of the annual general meetings of the Wiltshire Archaeological and Natural History Society The Wiltshire archeological and natural history magazine ,1869 Construction Ivan S. Macdonald,Robert Craik McLean,Frederick Reed,M. B.
