Fox, 2024-11-26 This is a study of a collection of oral compositions of the Rotenese of eastern Indonesia Recited in semantic parallelism these compositions require a strict pairing of all words to produce correspondingly ordered verses These narrative verses create an elevated discourse a scriptural voice intended to reveal the origins of Rotenese cultural life The translations and exegeses of these origin narratives offer a work of world class poetic imagination that recounts a dynastic contest between the Sun and

Moon and Lords of the Ocean Sea and its epic consequences As background to the presentation of these narratives this study provides a description of Rotenese life expressed in the complementary pairs that the Rotenese themselves use to categorise their world A concluding chapter examines the Rotenese acquisition of Christianity and the subsequent retelling of the Biblical Genesis in Rotenese parallel verse thus continuing the general examination of the use of parallelism as elevated ritual discourse Gathered from poets from two domains on the island most of these compositions date from fieldwork in 1965 66 and in 1973 The publication of these materials represents the summation of more than fifty years of research

Translating and Interpreting in Australia and New Zealand Judy Wakabayashi,Minako O'Hagan,2021-11-29 This volume explores Australian and New Zealand experiences of translation and interpreting T I with a special focus on the formative impact of geocultural contexts Through the critical lenses of practitioners scholars and related professionals working in and on these two countries the contributors seek a better understanding of T I practices and discourses in this richly multilingual and multicultural region Building on recent work in translation and interpreting studies that extends attention to sites outside of Europe and the Americas this volume considers the geocultural and geopolitical factors that have helped shape T I in these Pacific neighbours especially how the practices and conceptualization of T I have been closely tied with immigration Contributors examine the significant role T I plays in everyday communication across varied sectors including education health business and legal contexts as well as in crisis situations cultural and creative settings and initiatives to revitalize Indigenous languages The book also looks to the broader implications beyond the Australian and New Zealand translationscape making it of relevance to T I scholars elsewhere as well as those with an interest in Indigenous studies and minority languages Patient voices in Britain, 1840-1948 Anne Hanley, Jessica Meyer, 2021-09-07

Historians have long engaged with Roy Porter's call for histories that incorporate patients' voices and experiences But despite concerted methodological efforts there has simply not been the degree and breadth of innovation that Porter envisaged Patients' voices still often remain obscured This has resulted in part from assumptions about the limitations of archives many of which are formed of institutional records written from the perspective of health professionals Patient voices in Britain repositions patient experiences at the centre of healthcare history using new types of sources and reading familiar sources in new ways Focusing on military medicine Poor Law medicine disability psychiatry and sexual health this collection encourages historians to tackle the ethical challenges of using archival material and to think more carefully about how their work might speak to persistent health inequalities and challenges in health service delivery Unnatural Voices Brian

Richardson, 2006 The SAGE Handbook of Intellectual Property Matthew David, Debora Halbert, 2014-11-18 This Handbook brings together scholars from around the world in addressing the global significance of controversies over and alternatives to intellectual property IP today It brings together over fifty of the leading authors in this field across the spectrum of academic disciplines from law economics geography sociology politics and anthropology This volume addresses the full spectrum of IP issues including copyright patent trademarks and trade secrets as well as parallel rights and novel applications In addition to addressing the role of IP in an increasingly information based and globalized economy and culture it also challenges the utility and viability of IP today and addresses a range of alternative futures Mission Matters Gail Anderson, 2019-06-12

Mission Matters sheds a fresh light on how to envision relevant and impactful museums Anderson takes the understanding of mission relevance to a new level The premise of the book reflects external contemporary realities and the need for museums to better position themselves as leaders and change agents in the greater landscape and diversity of people Anderson illustrates her points with numerous examples from the US and around the world Features include essays by David Fleming from the UK who tackles the importance of mission and social issues and Charmaine Jefferson who frames the complexities of cultural competence in the 21st century Twenty museum leaders each share their institution's story of transformative change informed by reframing their mission Anderson's methodology for the book the Mission Alignment Framework helps reference the thinking about missions and the subsequent changes within museums as they redirect their work Eighty US and international mission statements reveal the range of museums disciplines and demographics from urban and rural and styles of mission all illustrating relevance to their unique settings institutional capacity resources and purpose Complementing these examples are guidelines about how to rethink mission a questioning strategy based on the Mission Alignment Framework and a range of useful tools from museums and leading thinkers in the field Mission Matters is useful to a wide range of readers and users from trustees to directors to staff from a wide range of museums regardless of size and stage of development and maturity The book is an easily accessible reference for strategic planning conversations about relevance and missions and museums considering the reinvention of their museum for greater impact
