Professional Burnout in Medicine and the Helping Professions D. T. Wessells Jr., Austin Kutscher, Irene B. Seeland, Florence E. Selder, Daniel J. Cherico, Elizabeth J. Clark, 2013-10-31 Physicians and other helping professionals have created a practical hands on book that will aid in the identification and reduction of job stress. Nurses, physicians, thanatologists, and psychotherapists are among the growing number of health care professionals whose physical and mental health are being severely affected by work stress. This unique volume achieves what no earlier book has attempted for this specialized professional group. It offers a thorough understanding of professional burnout, elaborating how burnout develops and offering a model with which to identify job stressors. Professional Burnout in Medicine and the Helping Professions also offers an in depth exploration of stress and burnout issues from the perspectives of specific medical and helping profession disciplines: physicians, nurses, social workers, psychotherapists, teachers, consultants, agency and hospital workers, funeral directors, and more. Experts in these fields examine the values, ethics, and morality of individuals, health care organizations, and society that may lead to burnout. This in depth and highly practical volume identifies the stages of disillusionment and offers successful intervention strategies for recognizing the signs and reducing or efficiently managing causative factors.

Social Class and the Helping Professions Debbie C. Sturm, 2012 First Published in 2012 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor & Francis, an informa company.

Supervision In The Helping Professions Hawkins, Peter, Shohet, Robin, 2012-07-01 Supervision in the Helping Professions remains a core text in our trainings and we welcome the updates including the increased focus on ethics and diversity, the discussion of e enabled modes of supervision, and the review of research. What is so encouraging to students, trainers, and practitioners is the beginner's mind with which the authors continue to approach the subject, their tireless enthusiasm for enquiry, and their commitment to the learning edge. The launch of this edition coincides with the launch of the first UKCP Professional Register for Supervisors. The authors have done much to promote the development of supervision, and all future professional trainings in supervision will rely on their wisdom and experience. Key words for this edition are sustainability, resourcing, and deeper levels of self reflection, mirroring the movement of our profession which increasingly turns outwards, asking how we can effect societal as well as individual change.

Tree Staunton Director of Studies Bath Centre for Psychotherapy and Counselling and Chair of the Humanistic and Integrative College of UKCP This book remains a seminal text in supervision In the fourth edition the authors bring a contemporary perspective to bear on supervision with an emphasis on the wider contextual and cultural contexts of our work as supervisors I appreciate above all the fearless compassion with which the authors have addressed the challenges that face us as supervisors in a global culture and at the same time their ongoing stress on integrating the emotional and the rational the personal and the organizational in a very accessible model of supervision Professor Maria Gilbert Metanoia Institute West London This bestselling book provides a comprehensive guide to supervision for professionals across the social care and helping professions as well as those working in education coaching and human resources Thoroughly updated the book has a new introduction showing how the world context in which helping professions operate has fundamentally changed in the last 25 years and the implications of this for supervision The seven eyed supervision model at the core of the book has been expanded and developed to reflect its use in many professions and different parts of the world The authors also incorporate viewpoints from other academics and practitioners who have commented on the model New to this edition A new chapter on ethics and handling difficult situations in supervision A new chapter and new models of reflective practice New material on training supervisors including the important area of supervision of supervision Revised chapters on group and team supervision with new material on supervising team development and team coaching More case studies of supervision in a wide range of different professions Further practical advice for supervisees on how to recognize contribute to and ask for good supervision With contributions from Judy Ryde and Joan Wilmot

Interviewing for the Helping Professions Fred McKenzie, Nicole Nicotera, 2018-04-17 A successful professional interview depends on the development of a generally positive human interaction Without a positive base the interview can be fraught with difficulties and roadblocks This is true regardless of the discipline be it social work psychology human services nursing criminal justice medicine psychiatry or any other field Beginning interviewers may have learned solid technique but often are initially focused more on thinking about what they will say next than on understanding or even listening to the client As a result that critical initial interview whose success affects the future of most professional encounters is often disrupted by a failure to truly listen and understand which is the foundation for earning clients trust This second edition goes beyond most other clinical interviewing books in its emphasis on the emotional foundation of interviewing and its focus on the importance of social justice and attention to the problem of microaggressions that can prohibit building and maintaining therapeutic rapport with clients Interviewing for the Helping Professions can help both the beginning professional and the veteran interviewer understand the nature and purpose technique meaning emotions and outcomes of the interviewing process The book also provides a comprehensive overview of the theory and technique so crucial to meaningful interviewing More important it emphasizes the emotional significance of the interaction and grounds the interviewing process in contemporary theories of practice and social justice
