Cummings, 1911 Moonscape Randall T. Elliott, 2013-12-30 These are the reflections of a patriotic young officer who volunteered to fight in the infantry during America's war in Vietnam Wanting to fight the evil of communism and do right by all he knew this Southern soldier's first thought when jumping from a helicopter into the tall grass of a field in Vietnam on his first air assault operation was Im the ultimate extension of American foreign policy and Im here to execute that policy by God Full of patriotism and the invincibility of youth Elliott wanted to fight He wanted to do America's bidding against our enemies The Russians were the main antagonists the enemy of his generation but the enemy in Vietnam would do Then as the days and weeks went by a voice of doubt began to speak louder and louder as the shadow of disillusionment crept in Later as the months went by he would descend into a nightmare of despair and pain as men died needlessly and in vain and others were shattered in mind and body Squandered valor and wasted sacrifices would eat at his soul right up to the breaking point and beyond Follow me then into Dantes Inferno a special kind of hell where you are alone you are isolated and you do not know why you are there But you are there and death maiming and a panoply of hideous events await your every move your every breath It may not happen today but it probably will tomorrow You have yourself and those few around you You have been forsaken by your country and condemned to the valley of the shadow of death by those politicians who knew not what they were doing There is nothing and no one to light or guide your way You are not on a crusade There are no grand parades and no one can see you No one will buy bonds to win the war no one really cares For some even their families betrayed them You are now as General Sherman said in hell Walk with me then in the footsteps of the infantry The Rotarian, 1959-04 Established in 1911 The Rotarian is the official magazine of Rotary International and is circulated worldwide Each issue contains feature articles columns and departments about or of interest to Rotarians Seventeen Nobel Prize winners and 19

Schaeffer, John Piersol McCaskey, Thomas Edward Finegan, James Herbert Kelley, 1910 23 Myths about the History of American Schools Sherman Dorn, David A. Gamson, 2024 In this fascinating collection some of the foremost historians of education including Barbara Beatty Larry Cuban Linda Eisenmann Yoon K Pak John L Rury and Jonathan Zimmerman debunk commonly held myths about American schooling Each short readable chapter focuses on one myth explaining what the real history is and how it helped shape education today Contributors take on a host of tall tales including the supposed agrarian origins of summer vacation exaggerated stories of declining student behavior and academic performance persistent claims that some people are born to be teachers idealistic notions that the 1954 Brown decision ended segregation in American schools misleading beliefs that classrooms operate in ways designed to fit the industrial era and more 23 Myths About the History of American Schools will awaken the inner history nerd of everyone who ever asked How did we get this irrational school system It will affirm the truth that its readers are as entitled to think critically about schooling as anyone else Book Features Examines how the history of American education has been distorted and misrepresented either intentionally or unintentionally Provides important stories that can help guide discussion about the future of education Anticipates what local and state politicians are likely to say and misstate about schooling Provides engaging chapters that highlight why real history is important and more fascinating than the myths Accessible to a wide range of readers from undergraduates to career educators American Educational History Journal Paul J.
