Chimpanzees, War, and History

R. Brian Ferguson, 2023 The question of whether men are predisposed to war runs hot in contemporary scholarship and online discussion Within this debate chimpanzee behavior is often cited to explain humans propensity for violence the claim is that male chimpanzees kill outsiders because they are evolutionarily inclined suggesting to some that people are too The longstanding critique that killing is instead due to human disturbance has been pronounced dead and buried In Chimpanzees War and History R Brian Ferguson challenges this consensus Bringing readers on a journey through theoretical struggle and clashing ideas about chimpanzees bonobos and evolution Ferguson opens new ground on the age old question are men born to kill

Historical and Multidisciplinary Perspectives on Hope Steven C. van den Heuvel, 2020-07-20 This open access volume makes an important contribution to the ongoing research on hope theory by combining insights from both its long history and its increasing multi disciplinaryity In the first part it recognizes the importance of the centuries old reflection on hope by offering historical perspectives and tracing it back to ancient Greek philosophy At the same time it provides novel perspectives on often overlooked historical theories and developments and challenges established views The second part of the volume documents the state of the art of current research in hope across eight disciplines which are philosophy theology psychology economy sociology health studies ecology and development studies Taken together this volume provides an integrated view on hope as a multi faced phenomenon It contributes to the further understanding of hope as an essential human capacity with the possibility of transforming our human societies
