Reasonable Death:

Death and Immortality R.W. Perrett, 2013-11-11 The research for this work was undertaken during my tenure of a Senior Tutor ship in the Faculty of Arts and Music at the University of Otago 1983-85 Versions of some of the chapters herein have already been accepted for publication in the form of journal articles in Philosophy East and West Sophia and Religious Studies My thanks to the editors and publishers concerned for permission to reuse this material A number of people have assisted me in various ways My greatest debt is to Graham Oddie who supervised my doctoral research in this area and with whom I have had the benefit of innumerable discussions on these and other philosophical matters I am very grateful for all I have learned from him I would also like to thank Bob Durrant for commenting helpfully on Chapter 2 the late Jim Harvie both for his valuable suggestions particularly regarding the material of Chapter 4 and for his encouraging enthusiasm for the whole project George Hughes for his extensive comments on the whole work and for various points of detail Alan Musgrave Charles Pigden and Bryan Wilson Despite much good advice however I have some times preferred to go my own way recalling Blake's proverb If the fool would persist in his folly he would become wise With regard to the typing of the manuscript I am indebted to the word processor wizardry of Jane Tannahill and Christine Colbert Human, All Too Human Friedrich Nietzsche, 2013-08-01 German scholar and thinker Friedrich Nietzsche began his career as a linguist and philologist but over time his work became increasingly philosophical in its scope He came to embrace a radical point of view that prized personal freedom and choice over virtually everything else In Human All Too Human Nietzsche explores the triumphs and tragic shortfalls of human nature in an eminently readable series of aphorisms and short vignettes Annual report of the State Department of Health of New York. 1908 pt.2, 1908 What World Is This? Judith Butler, 2022-11-08 The pandemic compels us to ask fundamental questions about our place in the world the many ways humans rely on one another how we vitally and sometimes fatally breathe the same air share the surfaces of the earth and exist in proximity to other porous creatures in order to live in a social world What we require to live can also imperil our lives How do we think from and about this common bind Judith Butler shows how COVID 19 and all its consequences political social ecological economic have challenged us to reconsider the sense of the world that such disasters bring about Drawing on the work of Max Scheler Maurice Merleau Ponty and critical feminist phenomenology Butler illuminates the conditions in which we seek to make sense of our disorientation precarity and social bonds What World Is This offers a new account of interdependency in which touching and breathing capacities that amid a viral outbreak can threaten life itself challenge the boundaries of the body and selfhood Criticizing notions of unlimited personal liberty and the killing forces of racism sexism and classism this book suggests that the pandemic illuminates the potential of shared vulnerabilities as well as the injustice of pervasive inequalities Exposing and opposing forms of injustice that deny the essential interrelationship of living creatures Butler argues for a radical social equality and advocates modes of resistance that seek to establish new conditions of livability and a new sense

Goodson,2018-09-19 Higher education in the twenty first century should bring together freedom and knowledge with courage and hope Why these four concepts As Goodson argues in Strength of Mind higher education in the twenty first century offers preparation for ordinary life Freedom and knowledge serve as the conditions for cultivating courage and hope within one s ordinary life More specifically courage and hope ought to be understood as the virtues required for enjoying ordinary life If college educated citizens wish to hold onto the concepts of courage and hope however then both courage and hope need to be understood as intellectual virtues As a moral virtue courage has become outdated As a theological virtue hope violates the logic of the golden mean Focusing on intellectual virtues also requires shifting from moral perfectionism to rational perfectionism Rational perfectionism involves keeping impossible demands in view for oneself while constantly and continually striving for one s unattained but attainable self Goodson defends these arguments by learning from the bits of wisdom found within American Transcendentalism Emerson Cavell German Idealism Kant Hegel Jewish philosophy Maimonides Spinoza Putnam neo pragmatism Putnam Rorty West post modern theories about pedagogy Nietzsche Foucault Rorty and secular accounts of perfectionism Murdoch Cavell Optimal Parenting Ba Luvmor,2006-05-04 This book instructs parents in how to create well being in all stages of their children s lives Combining compelling insights with practical applications based on 25 years of experience Natural Learning Rhythms is poised to be the parenting style for cultural creatives Bulletin of the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics ,1923 Reading the Gravestones of Old New England John G.S. Hanson,2021-11-15 The graveyards of old New England hold an incredible range of poetic messages in the epitaphs etched into the gravestones each a profound expression of emotion culture religion and literature These epitaphs are old but their themes are timeless mourning and faith grief and hope loss and memory This book tells the story of a years long walk among gravestones and shares insights gained along the way It identifies the source texts and authors chosen for these stones interprets something of the tastes and beliefs of the people who did the choosing offers some hypotheses on the various ways these texts were accessible to readers in remote towns and villages gives a brief summary of the religious context of the times and reflects on how the language and literature chosen for these epitaphs express these peoples conflicted and evolving attitudes towards life death and eternity The Human Predicament David Benatar,2017 Are our lives meaningless Is death bad Would immortality be better Alternatively should we hasten our deaths by acts of suicide Many people are tempted to offer comforting optimistic answers to these big questions The Human Predicament offers a less sanguine assessment and defends a substantial but not unmitigated pessimism Hub: Tales Robert L. Collins,2020-09-01 The races and domains have created the town of Hub as a place for them to negotiate with each other Hub sits on the border of the Elven Holding and the human Kingdom of Flint Plains Duncan a scribe from the human Kingdom of Salt Bay comes to

Hub to get permission to visit the Holding His purpose is to learn more about the lands across the sea west of Salt Bay This simple mission will have consequences for the wider world It marks the dawn of efforts by most domains to help each other But building peace is not on everyone s mind The Goblin Empire seeks to use the calm to undermine the other domains Yet connections are being made and found between humans elves and dwarves History is still being written Who knows where the tale will go Responding to Grief Caroline Curren,2017-03-14 This book argues that dying and bereavement are issues for all social care practitioners illustrating the wide variety of ways in which they are involved Examples are taken from mainstream as well as specialist settings Early chapters focus upon the relevance of theoretical understandings and the perspectives of dying and bereaved people themselves There is detailed consideration of practitioners accounts of their responses to people who are grieving Conclusions relate to issues of training and support and implications for practice
