those budding filmmakers and students who want to produce action movies with visual effects but don't have Hollywood budgets. The Orphanage was created by three twenty-something visual effects veterans who wanted to make their own feature films and discovered they could do this by utilizing home computers, off-the-shelf software, and approaching things artistically. This guide details exactly how to do this from planning and selecting the necessary cameras, software, and equipment to creating specific special effects including gunfire, Kung Fu fighting, car chases, dismemberment, and more, to editing and mixing sound and music. Its mantra is that the best low-budget action moviemakers must visualize the end product first in order to reverse-engineer the least expensive way to get there. Readers will learn how to integrate visual effects into every aspect of filmmaking: before filming, during filming, and with in-camera shots and with computers in postproduction. Throughout the book, the author makes specific references to and uses popular action movies, both low and big budget, as detailed examples, including El Mariachi, La Femme Nikita, Die Hard, and Terminator 2. Note from the Publisher: If you have the 3rd printing of The DV Rebel's Guide, your disc may be missing the data files that accompany the book. If this is the case, please send an email to Peachpit in order to obtain the files at ask.peachpit.com.

Life as Art Zachary Simpson, 2012-09-27 Life as Art brings the resources of contemporary aesthetics, since Nietzsche, to bear on the problems of how one integrates the aesthetic emphases of meaning, liberation, and creativity into one's daily life. By linking together the aesthetic and ethical accounts of critical theorists, phenomenologists, and existentialists into a coherent view on the artful life, Life as Art shows the ways in which much of contemporary Continental theory has been concerned with alternative ways of constructing one's own life. Seen as a unified phenomenon, life as art signifies an active attempt to create a life which bears the resistance, openness, and creativity found in artworks.

The World, The Flesh and the Devil Andrew Sharp, 2016-10-24 New Zealanders know Samuel Marsden as the founder of the CMS missions that brought Christianity and perhaps sheep to New Zealand. Australians know him as the flogging parson who established large landholdings and was dismissed from his position as magistrate for exceeding his jurisdiction. English readers know of Marsden for his key role in the history of missions and empire. In this major biography, spanning research and the subject's life across England, New South Wales, and New Zealand, Andrew Sharp tells the story of Marsden's life from the inside. Sharp focuses on revealing to modern readers the powerful evangelical lens through which Marsden understood the world. By diving deeply into key moments, the voyage out, the disputes with Macquarie, the founding of missions Sharp gets us to reimagine the world as Marsden saw it always under threat from the Prince of Darkness in need of a bold reprover of vice a world written in the words of the King James Bible Andrew Sharp takes us back into the nineteenth century world and an evangelical mind to reveal the past as truly a foreign country

This Is a Picture and Not the World Joseph Natoli, 2012-02-01 In This Is a Picture and Not the World Joseph Natoli employs the lingua franca of film itself screenplay dialogue as well as the more recent form of the political blog to present a hyperreal account of popular film as both a creator and a reflector of our post 9 11 mass psyche Drawing on both classic and contemporary film examples the book also offers a quasihistory of film genres including science fiction the western film noir and screwball comedy emphasizing how these genres have been shaken up recontextualized recombined turned self reflexive and parodied over the past couple of decades Taken together these satirical parodies of screenplays and blogs reveal and perform how our very gaze has shifted from modern to postmodern from a direct view of the world to a filtered one free It all began in a quiet university town in Germany in the 1790s when a group of playwrights poets and writers put the self at center stage in their thinking their writing and their lives This brilliant circle included the famous poets Goethe Schiller and Novalis the visionary philosophers Fichte Schelling and Hegel the contentious Schlegel brothers and in a wonderful cameo Alexander von Humboldt And at the heart of this group was the formidable Caroline Schlegel who sparked their dazzling conversations about the self nature identity and freedom The French revolutionaries may have changed the political landscape of Europe but the young Romantics incited a revolution of the mind that transformed our world forever We are still empowered by their daring leap into the self and by their radical notions of the creative potential of the individual the highest aspirations of art and science the unity of nature and the true meaning of freedom We also still walk the same tightrope between meaningful self fulfillment and destructive narcissism between the rights of the individual and our responsibilities toward our community and future generations At the heart of this inspiring book is the extremely modern tension between the dangers of selfishness and the thrilling possibilities of free will
