Aquileiensis, 2017-08-21 In 2012 Lukas Dorfbauer identified a manuscript in Cologne Cathedral Library as a copy of the Commentary on the Gospels by Fortunatianus bishop of Aquileia in the middle of the fourth century This discovery enabled him to identify further witnesses to the commentary and works dependent on it Dorfbauer's critical edition to be published in the CSEL series in 2017 makes this work available to scholarship for the first time in over a millennium The discovery of a new work from late antiquity is always a landmark in the history of research This extensive commentary shines new light on fourth century biblical interpretation and the exegetical practices and literary work of an African bishop ministering in north Italy in this period What is more it appears to be dependent on works by Origen and Victorinus of Poetovio which are no longer preserved In order to make this important work available to a wider audience Dr Houghton has prepared an English translation and introduction in conjunction with the COMPAUL project on the earliest commentaries on the New Testament as sources for the biblical text The Name Book Dorothy Astoria, 2008-11 A comprehensive book of 12 000 names

Geulen,2006 Since Hegel the idea of an end of art has become a staple of aesthetic theory This book analyzes its role and its rhetoric in Hegel Nietzsche Benjamin Adorno and Heidegger in order to account for the topic s enduring persistence In addition to providing a general overview of the main thinkers of post Idealist German aesthetics the book explores the relationship between tradition and modernity For despite the differences that distinguish one philosopher s end of art from another s all authors treated here turn the end of art into an occasion to thematize and to reflect on the very thing that modernism cannot or should not be tradition As a discourse the end of art is one of our modern traditions Tom Wright
