Recent Developments In The Archaeology Of The Peak District:

Recent Developments in the Archaeology of the Peak District Richard Hodges, Ken Smith, 1991-01 This collection of essays deals with topics that range from the Neolithic through to the post mediaeval period They discuss the advances in the understanding of the archaeology of the Peak District resulting from the increased fieldwork through the 1980s and set the direction for research in the coming decade The Archaeology of a Great Estate Nicola Bannister, John

Barnatt, 2009-08-25 The Peak District is a historic upland landscape with a rich palimpsest of features which invoke the many generations of people who have inhabited the area The great estate of Chatsworth reflects the Peak in microcosm Its landscapes are diverse and contain many exceptional features including archaeological earthworks of medieval open fields and later enclosures in the park and prehistoric stone circles barrows fields and settlements on the Estate moorlands This book tells the story of the historic landscape and its archaeology it is a companion volume to Chatsworth A Landscape History Barnatt Williamson but in contrast to that book includes the whole of the Estate landscape including the extensive farmland and moorlands beyond the park and concentrates on visible archaeology and what it can tell us about the past The result is a fascinating in depth portrait of one of the major estates in Britain The Derbyshire Archaeological Journal

, 2004 Challenging Preconceptions of the European Iron Age Wendy Morrison, 2022-06-20 This collection of essays by leading researchers in the archaeology of the European Iron Age pays tribute to Professor John Collis who since the 1960s has been involved in investigating and enriching our understanding of Iron Age society and crucially questioning the status quo of our narratives about the past Between Peak and Plain: Excavations on a Multiperiod Site at Mellor, Stockport, 1998-2009 Peter Arrowsmith, 2025-03-20 This book details 12 seasons of excavations at Mellor Stockport papers highlight recent archaeological work in Northern England in the commercial academic and community archaeology sectors which have fundamentally changed our perspective on the Neolithic of the area Much of this was new work and much is still not published has been overlooked in the national discourse The papers cover a wide geographical area from Lancashire north into the Scottish Lowlands recognising the irrelevance of the England Scotland Border They also take abroad chronological sweep from the Mesolithic Neolithic transition to the introduction of Beakers into the area The key themes are the nature of transition the need for a much improved chronological framework regional variation linked to landscape character links within northern England and with distant places the implications of new dating for our understanding the axe trade the changing nature of settlement and agriculture the character early Neolithic enclosures the need to integrate rock art into wider discourse Journal of the Derbyshire Archaeological and Natural History

Society, 2001 Neolithic Houses in Northwest Europe and beyond Timothy Darvill, Julian Thomas, 2002-12-01 A digital reprint which makes available again the first publication of the Neolithic Studies Group containing papers given to a special colloquium on the structures of Neolithic Europe Contributions include Neolithic houses in mainland Britain and Ireland a skeptical view Julian Thomas Houses in context Building as process Alasdair Whittle A Central European Perspective Jonathon Last Neolithic houses in Ireland Eoin Grogan Neolithic buildings in Scotland Gordon Barclay Neolithic buildings in England Wales and the Isle of Man Tim Darvill Mesolithic or later houses at Bowmans Farm Romsey Extra Hampshire Francis Green Ballygalley houses co Antrim Derek Simpson Later Neolithic Structures at Trelystan Powys Alex Gibson Life times and works of House 59 Tell Ovcharovo Bulgaria Douglass Bailey Structure and ritual in Neolithic houses Peter Topping Architecture and Cosmology in the Balinese house life is not that simple Colin Richards Houses in the Neolithic imagination an Amazonian Example Christine Hugh Jones The First Stones William Britnell, Alasdair Whittle, 2022-12-01 The First Stones brings together the results of recent research on the Neolithic long cairns lying in the shadow of the Black Mountains in south east Wales focusing upon Penywyrldod and Gwernvale the two best known tombs within the group previously excavated in the 1970s Important results lie in both new site detail and reassessment of the wider context Small scale excavation geophysical survey and geological assessment at Penywyrldod the largest of the Welsh long cairns gave further information about the distinctive external and internal architecture of the monument In turn this opened the opportunity to reassess the pre monument sequence at Gwernvale with re examination of both Mesolithic and Neolithic occupations including a timber structure and midden lithic and pottery assemblages and cereal remains The frame for wider reassessment is given by fresh chronological modeling both of the monuments themselves suggesting a sequence from Penywyrldod and Pipton to Ty Isaf and Gwernvale probably spanning the 38th to the 36th or 35th centuries cal BC and of early Neolithic activity in south Wales and the Marches probably beginning in the 39th century cal BC A detailed study of the major assemblages of human remains from the Black Mountains tombs includes evidence for diet trauma and lifestyles of the populations represented Recent isotope analysis of human remains from the tombs is also reviewed implying social mobility and migration within local populations during the early Neolithic The First Stones makes a significant contribution to the study of tomb building treatment of the dead place making the relationship of monuments to landscape local and regional identities connections and affiliations across southern Britain and the adjacent continent and Neolithization in western Britain Viewed within the context of tombs within the Cotswold Severn tradition as a whole it leads to an appreciation of the local and regional distinctiveness of architecture and mortuary practice exhibited by the tombs in this area of south east Wales emerging as part of the intake of a significant inland area in the early centuries of the Neolithic
