Military Power Of The President:

The Military Power of the President Michael Kronenwetter, 1988-01-01 Examines the extent of military power held by America's commander in chief a subject of much debate since the founding of the nation The Ordinance Making Powers of the President of the United States James Hart, 1925 Military Strategy of Great Powers Håkan Edström, Jacob Westberg, 2021-09-20 This book explores the military strategies of the five system determining great powers during the twenty first century The book's point of departure is that analyses of countries defence strategies should acknowledge that states come in various shapes and sizes and that their strategic choices are affected by their perceptions of their position in the international system and by power asymmetries between more and less resourceful states This creates a diversity in strategies that is often overlooked in theoretically oriented analyses The book examines how five major powers the United States China the United Kingdom France and Russia have adjusted their strategies to improve or maintain their relative position and to manage power asymmetries during the twenty first century It also develops and applies an analytical framework for exploring and categorising the strategies pursued by the five major powers which combines elements of structural realism with research on power transition theory and status competition The concluding chapter addresses questions related to stability and change in the present international system This book will be of interest to students of strategic studies foreign policy and International Relations Die Federal-Konvention vom Jahre 1787. Zwei Beiträge zur Verfassungsgeschichte der Vereinigten Staaten Charles Henry Meyerholz, 1908 Reports of Cases Determined in the Supreme Court of the Philippine Islands from ... Philippines. Supreme Court, 1910 Handbook of American Constitutional Law Henry Campbell Black, 1927 The Bookman, 1906 The American Government, Organization and Officials Henry Colford Gauss, 1908 War Powers of the Executive in the United States Clarence Arthur Berdahl, Franklin Charles Palm, Frederick Charles Dietz, 1920 The Military's Business Mikkel Vedby Rasmussen, 2015-03-05 Over recent years Western armed forces have been costing more yet achieving less Mikkel Vedby Rasmussen draws on the ideas of business strategy to argue that Western militaries need to reform in order to become viable businesses which address relevant security issues within a realistic budget Political Science and Comparative Constitutional Law John William Burgess, 1890 Mr Homer has always wanted to be a horse and persuades his good friend Mr Henry to help him become one The Philippines to the End of the Military Régime Charles Burke Elliott, 1916 US Power and the Internet in International Relations M. Carr, 2016-04-08 Despite the pervasiveness of the Internet and its importance to a wide range of state functions we still have little understanding of its implications in the context of International Relations Combining the Philosophy of Technology with IR theories of power this study explores state power in the information age Syllabus of a Course of Lectures on American Government Stephen Duggan, 1907 Integrating China Peter Nolan, 2008-10-01 In this highly relevant collection Peter Nolan argues that every effort of policy has to be directed towards avoiding this potentially catastrophic outcome In their search for a way forward China s leaders are looking to the lessons from the country s own past as well as to those from other countries in order to find a way to build a stable cohesive and prosperous society This effort is of vital importance not only for China but also for the whole world

Military Persuasion in War and Policy Stephen J. Cimbala,2002-10-30 Cimbala analyzes military persuasion the art of using armed force to support diplomacy deterrence crisis management unconventional conflicts peace operations and other military activities short of major conventional war As he shows military persuasion requires that policy makers and diplomats understand the subtle interaction between force and diplomacy each supports or destroys the other depending upon the situation Even conventional wars have aspects of armed persuasion The Powell doctrine that calls for overwhelming force in case of any U S military intervention was not even employed by then Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Colin Powell in the Gulf War of 1991 despite the popular impression to the contrary Since U S policy is not based on imperial policing but on constructive engagement with the object of supporting democratic regimes and market economies the use of deterrence and limited military commitments of highly trained specialized warrior diplomats will be typical of 21st century conflicts As Cimbala shows in his various case studies armed forces are used most of the time for coercion not for mass destruction Yet much professional military thinking expert lay opinion and U S government analysis presupposes that there is a clear dividing line between all out peace and all out war In addition U S political culture is insensitive to the requirement for matching the political objective to the military means available as opposed to clamoring for a psychologically satisfying form of victory Despite these apparent obstacles Cimbala maintains that the United States must master military persuasion because its resources for defense are limited and its commitments are ubiquitous This book will be of particular interest to scholars students and professionals involved with defense security and foreign policy studies The American Law Register ,1903 HEARINGS BEFORE THE SUBCOMMITTEE OF THE COMMITTEE ON MILITARY AFFAIRS UNITED STATE CONGRESS SENATE ,1919
