Governance for a Sustainable Future Yukio Adachi, Makoto Usami, 2023-09-23 Although the expression responsibility to future generations is firmly established in public and political vocabulary its operational meaning and practice are inadequately understood and yet to be systematically evaluated Moreover the term has not been successfully translated into viable ethical and theoretical concepts that can guide public policies and actions How can the modes of governance and established policy priorities become compatible with the well being of future generations The primary objective of this book is to identify the conditions of and obstacles to governance for a sustainable future or future regarding governance Governance concerns steering a society over extended periods of time not responding to particular policy issues The ideas and strategies proposed by contributors in this book to establish future regarding governance are based on the theoretical and empirical analyses of the major long term problems facing advanced democracies in general and Japan in particular Japan is an interesting case indeed Relatively poor climate policy rapidly decreasing birth rate aging population extensive public debt prolonged economic recession healthcare and pension systems that urgently require redesigning hollowing out of industries and subsequent loss of jobs deteriorating infrastructures increasing nuclear waste and intensifying social polarization have caused a decline in people's trust in the government and democratic processes Currently Japanese citizens are widely circulating their doubts about the social system's sustainability This book comprises two parts In Part I authors from various disciplinary backgrounds examine the idea of governance for a sustainable future from theoretical perspectives This part discusses issues associated with future regarding governance that are wicked in nature such as the philosophical ethical foundation on which to base the idea of governance for a sustainable future major impediments to the development of future regarding governance and the modes of thinking and action required by leaders and citizens to realize such governance Chapters in Part II largely focus on the state of long term governance in Japan This part uses empirical and in depth analyses with cross sectoral and cross national policy perspectives to identify the state of future regarding governance in various policy fields and major sectors or organizations mainly in Japan while also examining strategies and measures to improve their performance From this perspective Western democracies and weak democratic regimes elsewhere will be provided with valuable lessons to avoid fatal policy mistakes thereby improving future oriented governance worldwide By combining theoretical discussions on far reaching issues and empirical analyses of Japanese cases the book will shed a new light on governance for a sustainable future

Digitalization and Asia-Pacific Business Models Tachia Chin, Chris Rowley, Shouyang Wang, 2023-02-21. Owing to the convergence of multiple cultures coupled with the unprecedented rapid development in the decades since the late 1990s, the value creation and innovation logic of Asia Pacific business models (BMs) has been constantly altered by cultural heterogeneity. As a result, a more complex and diverse landscape relative to Western developed economy BMs evolved. Moreover, the digitalization has fundamentally changed the way people do business, which has promoted a new wave of BM evolution. Unlike a typical linear mode of innovation driven by market demands in many Western cultures, a large number of entrepreneurial enterprises from the Asia Pacific with eastern religions and philosophies have tended to adopt unconventional, culturally grounded strategies of value creation and innovation in their BMs. However, it is difficult to find a Western equivalent to the value creating route that embodies the humanitarian spirit of Confucianism, accommodating simultaneously social and economic values to accelerate innovation during internationalization. In existing literatures, this book offers a more holistic picture and contemporary interpretation for identifying and characterizing the unorthodox innovation patterns and the perplexing value creating logic of Asia Pacific BMs at the crossroads of diverse cultures. It was originally published as a special issue of the Asia Pacific Business Review. This book is supported by the National Natural Science Foundation of China No. 72272136, 71988101.

Territorial Governance in Southeast Asia Andrew Harding, 2025-01-23. This book assesses territorial governance that is all forms of subnational governance as a constitutional artefact in five Southeast Asian countries: Indonesia, Malaysia, Myanmar, the Philippines and Thailand. Starting with the linked ideas of localism and subsidiarity, the argument is that these states have used various forms of subsidiarity for dealing with ethnic and religious pluralism and the social diversity for which Southeast Asia is especially noted. Territorial governance mechanisms discussed range from decentralisation to special regional autonomy, federalism and local government, including village autonomy. A silent revolution has occurred in which our view of these states as highly centralised developmental states is in need of serious modification. Southeast Asia, the book argues, presents a high degree of originality in the framing of territorial governance.
