Doug Davis, Michael Slobodchikoff, 2024-06-11 In American Global Leadership Ailing US Diplomacy and Solutions for the Twenty First Century G Doug Davis and Michael O Slobodchikoff present a selection of fifteen essays that trace the history of American diplomacy from Eisenhower to Trump Penned by American statesmen among them James A Baker III General Wesley Clark Thomas Pickering and Michael McFaul these essays illuminate US foreign policy through the Cold War the Iraq and Afghan wars the economic crisis of 2008 and the instability that arose during Trump's presidency. Each chapter reflects the wisdom and experiences of its author to illustrate the realities of diplomacy in the United States and the difficulties diplomats, military leaders and foreign policymakers encounter today. Among other themes, the discussions in this volume explore the relevance of diplomacy in resolving global crises, the use of military policy and force as diplomatic tools, skills diplomats should possess and current obstacles facing US foreign policy. Through the lens of their professional service as US diplomats, the authors examine American mistakes and successes of the past seventy years to assess how the role of diplomacy within US foreign policy has changed over time and how it must continue to evolve to meet future challenges. One conclusion proves recurrent: the US can no longer afford to rely only on might and force but must rededicate itself to diplomatic strategies to achieve its long-term goals. American Global Leadership is not just a valuable resource for scholars of diplomatic history and political science; it is also an important work for current diplomats and those aspiring to careers in the US Foreign Service. American Sea Power in the Old World William N. Still, 2018-02-15. This classic study examines the deployment of US naval vessels in European and Near Eastern waters from the end of the Civil War until the United States declared war in April 1917. Initially, these ships were employed to visit various ports from the Baltic Sea to the eastern Mediterranean and Constantinople (today Istanbul) for the primary purpose of showing the flag. From the 1890s on, most of the need for the presence of the American warships occurred in the eastern Mediterranean and the Black Sea. Unrest in the Ottoman Empire and particularly the Muslim hostility and threats to Armenians led to calls for protection. This would continue into the years of World War I. In 1905, the Navy Department ended the permanent stationing of a squadron in European waters. From then until the US declaration of war in 1917, individual ships, detached units and special squadrons were at times deployed in European waters. In 1908, the converted yacht Scorpion was sent as station ship (stationnaire) to Constantinople where she would remain operating in the eastern Mediterranean and Black Sea until 1928. Upon the outbreak of World War I, President Woodrow Wilson ordered cruisers to northern European waters and the Mediterranean to protect American interests. These warships however did more than protect American interests They would evacuate thousands of refugees American tourists Armenians Jews and Italians after Italy entered the conflict on the side of the Allies Century Monthly Magazine ,1914
