Le Corbusier, History and Tradition Armando Rabaça, 2017-05-01 The view of modernism as representing an epistemological break between technology and history and tradition has long been challenged Le Corbusier's work has proved to be an inexhaustible reference point in this debate This is due on the one hand to the legacy of nineteenth century historicism and on the other to his creative process of creation through destruction which as John Summerson has noted is comparable to the processes of avant garde poets and painters The contributions to this book explore particular episodes which bring to light both the operative role of the past in the creation of a new abstract synthesis and Le Corbusier's modernist historical consciousness They illustrate how the past participated in the modernist creative process of abstract art from the 1920s machine aesthetics to the late infatuation with myth They also shed light on the extent to which the operative quality of the history was framed by a comprehensive historical vision that took the form of metanarrative which neither the analytical studies on his architecture nor the synthetic approaches to his philosophical thinking should dismiss
