Dynamics of Teaching and Learning Modern Hebrew as an Additional Language Yona Gilead, 2017-10-02

In Dynamics of Teaching and Learning Modern Hebrew as an Additional Language Yona Gilead presents original research into classroom interactional practices by offering a thick description of a successful beginner level Modern Hebrew program at an Australian university The book charts and theorizes the cohort s teacher and students trajectory of using Hebrew as the main means of instructing and acquiring the language and highlights seven key features which contribute to students learning The book s research based findings and analysis of classroom dynamics contribute to theorizing the currently largely praxis based discipline of L2 Modern Hebrew instruction hence providing a stronger theoretical understanding of how and why students can be assisted in their language learning This original research provides a template for renewed L2 Hebrew research

Conrad, 2019-07-16 Recent pressures on undergraduate education have led to major but often untutored attempts to revitalize curricula This comprehensive handbook is designed to aid faculty administrators and students engaged in curriculum reform at the undergraduate level. The emphasis throughout is on planning. Professor Conrad proposes a systems model for curriculum planning and examines four major areas: general and liberal education, area concentration, experiential learning, and calendar and degree programs. In each of these areas, he identifies key issues, discusses the strengths and weaknesses of different approaches, provides a historical context, outlines major trends, and describes a variety of innovations that institutions might adopt. The result is a practical, usable book.
