Contemporary Art from Nigeria in the Global Markets Jonathan Adeyemi, 2022-12-07 This book brings together from four years of study on Nigerian contemporary art s internationalization The monograph integrates voices of African Nigerian artists and art market players into the growing discourse on the emerging art markets in the global South It explores the logic of competition and dynamics of power relations in the global markets focusing on the internationalization of contemporary art forms from peripheral regions The book confirms that the internationalization of contemporary art form from Nigeria is limited due to systematic marginalization in the artistic field which in this case based on postcolonialism and debilitating socio economic factors such as outmoded art education unstructured support system and weak mechanism for local validation and an inefficient political framework for art governance It will therefore be useful to students and researchers in the sociology of art art market studies art history and culture polity How Do We Look? Fatimah Tobing Rony, 2021-10-18 In How Do We Look Fatimah Tobing Rony draws on transnational images of Indonesian women as a way to theorize what she calls visual biopolitics the ways visual representation determines which lives are made to matter more than others Rony outlines the mechanisms of visual biopolitics by examining Paul Gauguin s 1893 portrait of Annah la Javanaise a trafficked thirteen year old girl found wandering the streets of Paris as well as US ethnographic and documentary films In each instance the figure of the Indonesian woman is inextricably tied to discourses of primitivism savagery colonialism exoticism and genocide Rony also focuses on acts of resistance to visual biopolitics in film writing and photography These works such as Rachmi Diah Larasati s The Dance that Makes You Vanish Vincent Monnikendam s Mother Dao 1995 and the collaborative films of Nia Dinata challenge the naturalized methods of seeing that justify exploitation dehumanization and early death of people of color By theorizing the mechanisms of visual biopolitics Rony elucidates both its violence and its vulnerability The Contemporary Museum Simon Knell, 2018-10-11 The Contemporary Museum issues a challenge to those who view the museum as an artefact of history constrained in its outlook as much by professional institutional and disciplinary creed as by the collections it accumulated in the distant past Denying that the museum can locate its purpose in the pursuit of tradition or in idealistic speculation about the future the book asserts that this can only be found through an ongoing and proactive negotiation with the present the contemporary This volume is not concerned with any present but with the peculiar circumstances of what it refers to as the global contemporary the sense of living in a globally connected world that is preoccupied with the contemporary To situate the museum in this world of real and immediate need and action beyond the reach of history the book argues is to empower it to challenge existing dogmas and inequalities and sweep aside old hierarchies As a result fundamental questions need to be asked about such things as the museum's relationship to global time and space to systems and technologies of knowing to the life well lived to the movement and rights of people and to the psychology permanence and organisation of culture Incorporating diverse viewpoints from around the world The Contemporary Museum is a follow up volume to Museum Revolutions and as such should be essential reading for students in the fields of museum and heritage studies cultural studies communication and media studies art history and social policy Academics and museum professionals will also find this book a source of inspiration Impressionism John House, 2004-01-01 A new perspective on Impressionist art that offers revealing fresh interpretations of familiar paintings In this handsome book a leading authority on Impressionist painting offers a new view of this admired and immensely popular art form John House examines the style and technique subject matter and imagery exhibiting and marketing strategies and social political and ideological contexts of Impressionism in light of the perspectives that have been brought to it in the last twenty years When all of these diverse approaches are taken into account he argues Impressionism can be seen as a movement that challenged both artistic and political authority with its uncompromisingly modern subject matter and its determinedly secular worldview Moving from the late 1860s to the early 1880s House analyzes the paintings and career strategies of the leading Impressionist artists pointing out the ways in which they countered the dominant conventions of the contemporary art world and evolved their distinctive and immediately recognizable manner of painting Focusing closely on the technique composition and imagery of the paintings themselves and combining this fresh appraisal with recent historical studies of Impressionism House explores how pictorial style could generate social and political meanings and opens new ways of looking at this luminous art Architecture in the United States Dell Upton, 1998 From Native American sites in New Mexico and Arizona to the ancient earthworks of the Mississippi Valley to the most fashionable contemporary buildings of Chicago and New York American architecture is incredibly varied In this revolutionary interpretation Upton examines American architecture in relation to five themes community nature technology money and art 109 illustrations 40 linecuts
