the arts might actually advance spiritual formation in terms of the cumulative effect of religious experience and intentional practices This book provides a modest step forward in that conversation a conversation between theological aesthetics and practical theology Understanding aesthetics as the realm of sense perception and spiritual formation as growing capacities to participate in God's purposes James McCullough suggests how these dynamics can mutually enhance each other with the arts as an effective catalyst for this relationship McCullough proposes an analysis of artistic communication and explores exciting examples from music poetry and painting which render theoretical proposals in concrete terms This book will engage both those new to the arts and those already deeply familiar with them

Central Europe as a Meeting Point of Visual Cultures Autori Vari, 2021-11-08T17:39:00+01:00 The end of World War I in 1918 meant a radical transformation of Central Europe the multicultural space of former empires became divided into individual nation states This altered all spheres of life deeply impacting the discipline of art history as well The cosmopolitan vision of art history developed by figures from the Vienna School such as Franz Wickhoff and Alois Riegl was gradually replaced by new self-referential narratives This nationalist tendency was reinforced by the division of Europe after World War II In the wake of Ji Kroupa's pioneering studies this volume takes a truly transcultural approach to art produced in the Central European region from the 12th to the 20th century Freed from national prejudices a region shaped by the constant movement of people ideas and objects emerges

Midcentury Modern Art in Texas Katie Robinson Edwards, 2014-07-01 Before Abstract Expressionism of New York City was canonized as American postwar modernism the United States was filled with localized manifestations of modern art One such place where considerable modernist activity occurred was Texas where artists absorbed and interpreted the latest most radical formal lessons from Mexico the East Coast and Europe while still responding to the state's dramatic history and geography This barely known chapter in the story of American art is the focus of Midcentury Modern Art in Texas Presenting new research and artwork that has never before been published Katie Robinson Edwards examines the contributions of many modernist painters and sculptors in Texas with an emphasis on the era's most abstract and compelling artists Edwards looks first at the Dallas Nine and the 1936 Texas Centennial which offered local artists a chance to take stock of who they were and where they stood within the national artistic setting She then traces the modernist impulse through various manifestations including the foundations of early Texas modernism in Houston early practitioners of abstraction and non objectivity the Fort Worth Circle artists at the University of Texas at Austin Houston artists in the 1950s sculpture in and around an influential Fort Worth studio and to see how some Texas artists fared on a national scale the Museum of Modern Art's Americans exhibitions The first full length treatment of abstract art in Texas during this vital and canon defining period Midcentury Modern Art in Texas gives these artists their due place in American art while also valuing the quality of Texan-ness that subtly undergirds much of their production discourse Focusing on the overlap of avant garde and middle of the road production she investigates the import of these issues not only in painting sculpture and architecture concentrating on the work of Leger Picasso Le Corbusier Ozenfant Derain the Surrealists and the so called naifs but also in the decorative arts in the spectacle of world and colonial fairs and in literature Throughout she finds evidence that artists turned from the aesthetics of the machine age toward a more organic naturalistic art This leads her to ask whether the famous and momentous shift of the avant garde from Paris to New York in 1939 did not in fact begin two decades earlier in 1918     Art in France, 1900-1940 Christopher Green,2000-01-01 This study sets developments within the frameworks both of their unstable social political and intellectual world and of the official and independent institutions of art     Art, Women, California 1950-2000 Diana Burgess Fuller,Daniela Salvioni,2002 This is the book on women s art I ve been waiting for smart deeply rooted and up to date with an overdue focus on women of color that fills in the historical cracks Read it and run with it Lucy R Lippard author of The Pink Glass Swan Selected Essays on Feminist Art More than merely beautiful and ground breaking Art Women California 1950 2000 is also about the enriching interventions created by diverse women artists the effect of whose work is not only far reaching but has also opened up the very definition of American art It is about intellectual interdisciplinarity and the dialectical relationship between art and social context It is about the way various California cultures Native Latino Asian feminist immigrant politically active and virtual which are so different from the trope of the Western cowboy have intervened in that entity we imagine as America Elaine Kim editor of Dangerous Women Gender and Korean Nationalism Rich and provocative A pleasure to read and to look at Linda Nochlin author of The Body in Pieces The Fragment as a Metaphor of Modernity This book should greatly help everyone understand the remarkably diversified evolution of art in California which is largely due to the great influx of women and the transformative effect of a new feminist consciousness Arthur C Danto author of Philosophizing Art Selected Essays     Subject Index of Modern Books Acquired British Library,1927
