Chromophobia David Batchelor,2000-09-01 The central argument of Chromophobia is that a chromophobic impulse a fear of corruption or contamination through color lurks within much Western cultural and intellectual thought This is apparent in the many and varied attempts to purge color either by making it the property of some foreign body the oriental the feminine the infantile the vulgar or the pathological or by relegating it to the realm of the superficial the supplementary the inessential or the cosmetic Chromophobia has been a cultural phenomenon since ancient Greek times this book is concerned with forms of resistance to it Writers have tended to look no further than the end of the nineteenth century David Batchelor seeks to go beyond the limits of earlier studies analyzing the motivations behind chromophobia and considering the work of writers and artists who have been prepared to look at color as a positive value Exploring a wide range of imagery including Melville s great white whale Huxley s reflections on mescaline and Le Corbusier s journey to the East Batchelor also discusses the use of color in Pop Minimal and more recent art

Eileen Gray and the Design of Sapphic Modernity Jasmine Rault, 2017-07-05

The first book length feminist analysis of Eileen Gray's work Eileen Gray and the Design of Sapphic Modernity Staying In argues that Gray's unusual architecture and design as well as its history of abuse and neglect emerged from her involvement with cultures of sapphic modernism. Bringing together a range of theoretical and historical sources from architecture and design communication and media to gender and sexuality studies, Jasmine Rault shows that Gray shared with many of her female contemporaries a commitment to designing spaces for sexually dissident modernity. This volume examines Gray's early lacquer work and Romaine Brooks' earliest nude paintings, Gray's first built house E 1027 in relation to Radclyffe Hall and her novel The Well of Loneliness and Gray's private house Tempe nbsp Pailla with Djuna Barnes' Nightwood. While both female sexual dissidence and modernist architecture were reduced to rigid identities through mass media, women such as Gray, Brooks, Hall and Barnes resisted the clarity of such identities with opaque non communicative aesthetics. Rault demonstrates that by defying the modern imperative to publicity, clarity and identity, Gray helped design a sapphic modernity that cultivated the dynamism of uncertain bodies and unfixed pleasures which depended on staying in rather than coming out.
